NOMINATION OF LINDA SPRINGER

Mr. VOINOVICH. Mr. President, I would like to thank the Senate for its expeditious consideration of Ms. Linda Springer of Pennsylvania to be the Director of the Office of Personnel Management.

On Wednesday, June 15, I chaired a hearing of the Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs to consider the nomination of Ms. Springer. One week later, the committee unanimously approved her nomination. As my colleagues in the Senate know, I am committed to finding solutions to the human capital challenges of the Federal Government. Clearly, there is no more important partner in the executive branch of Government than the Director of the Office of Personnel Management in addressing these issues.

The Federal civil service now is undergoing the most dramatic changes in more than a quarter century. For example, agencies are implementing new performance management and a related pay for performance systems for the senior executive service. The Department of Homeland Security and the Department of Defense are designing new, modern, and flexible personnel systems to meet their national security missions. As these and other reforms continue, leadership from the Office of Personnel Management is imperative to guarantee that the merit principles that are the core of our Federal civil service are upheld and that the new personnel systems are fair and equitable for employees.

During the committee's hearing, I found Ms. Springer to be focused, dedicated, and more than capable of taking on this important job. Prior to the hearing, I met with Ms. Springer in my office and was impressed with her candor and recognition of the challenges confronting the workforce.

Ms. Springer's experience in the private sector and as Controller of the Office of Management and Budget has prepared her to lead this Federal agency. Mr. President, I urge my colleagues to support this nomination. Thank you.
