

reduce errors by leveraging cutting edge technology to make medical records available almost instantaneously to doctors when they are needed so that they can best treat patients. Technology can help reduce paperwork and administrative burdens and thus help doctors provide the best and fastest care possible to their patients.

Finally, as we have heard, by 2010, more than 90 percent of all scientists and engineers could be living in Asia. This is a major challenge to our competitive leadership, but America must keep pace. To address this issue, the Innovation and Competitiveness Act includes provisions that will provide incentives for teachers to specialize in math, science, and other technical fields—and to remain in the classroom to educate our youth in these fields. In addition, this legislation provides incentives for students to receive degrees in technical fields with financial aid and scholarships.

The Innovation and Competitiveness Act will get Congress into the business of protecting America's place as the world leader in innovation and competitiveness, and I urge the Members of the House to support the initiatives in this important legislation.

HON. DEBORAH PRYCE

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, March 2, 2006

Ms. PRYCE of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate the National Coalition for Cancer Survivorship based in Silver Spring, Maryland on its 20th anniversary.

For the past two decades, NCCS has worked tirelessly to advocate for quality cancer care for all Americans and to empower cancer survivors. In addition, NCCS has provided cancer survivors and their loved ones access to credible and accurate information on many important survivorship issues, especially the critical role of advocating for oneself.

I ask that all of my colleagues in the House of Representatives join me in honoring the National Coalition for Cancer Survivorship, whose leadership has provided an invaluable service to this country's more than ten million cancer survivors and the millions more affected by this devastating disease. I wish them all best in the future.

RECOGNIZING ROSS HAYNES JR. FOR HIS ENDLESS COMMUNITY SERVICE

HON. MICHAEL C. BURGESS

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, March 2, 2006

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commend Ross Haynes Jr., from Fort Worth, Texas, in the heart of the 26th Congressional District of Texas, for his dedicated service to the community.

Ross Haynes Jr. makes helping his community a high priority in his life. He has dedicated time to assisting others in the community, specifically, its youth. From sports to education on life, Ross Haynes Jr. has made a difference in our lives.

From his own humble beginnings, Mr. Haynes has amassed great wealth in the form of friendship and encouragement in which he has inspired throughout his community. He has been involved with the lives of a great deal of Fort Worth's underprivileged youths through the Fort Worth Boys & Girls Club. Mr. Haynes effortlessly educates kids about the positive things to aspire for in life.

In addition, he has fulfilled his dream to open his own business along with his wife, Delessa. This alone is a phenomenal achievement for one to accomplish. Mr. Haynes serves as a most honorable role model for many by continuing to strive for one's own personal goal.

I am proud to represent Ross Haynes Jr.—a man who has given so much back to his community. Mr. Haynes's advice, council and support to the community, whether directly or indirectly, over the years, are certainly something for which to be thankful. I am grateful to represent such a wonderful citizen like Mr. Haynes.

HON. MELISSA A. HART

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, March 2, 2006

Ms. HART. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate The Crisis Shelter of Lawrence County on the 25th anniversary of its founding.

In September of 1981 the Lawrence County Crisis Shelter opened its doors to women and children who have suffered domestic abuse. Over the past 25 years the Shelter has grown to provide free services to men, women and children that are victims/survivors of sexual assault and domestic abuse.

This year marks the 25th anniversary of the opening of the Crisis Shelter. To kick off the celebration, the shelter will be holding its annual auction, which is scheduled to be held at the Scottish Rite Cathedral on Saturday, February 25th at 6 p.m. The funds raised at the auction help support many services offered by the shelter, including the 24-hour hotline, prevention education in schools, intervention training, and the emergency shelter.

I ask my colleagues in the United States House of Representatives to join me in honoring the 25th anniversary of The Crisis Shelter of Lawrence County. It is an honor to represent the Fourth Congressional District of Pennsylvania and a pleasure to salute such a principled organization as The Crisis Shelter of Lawrence County.

HONORING THE SANTA BARBARA BOTANIC GARDEN UPON ITS 80TH ANNIVERSARY

HON. LOIS CAPP

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, March 2, 2006

Mrs. CAPPS. Mr. Speaker, today I rise to pay tribute to the Santa Barbara Botanic Garden board of trustees, staff and volunteers as they celebrate the 80th anniversary of the garden. The botanic garden provides many different services to the Santa Barbara community, including conservation, education and research.

As an active member of the Center for Plant Conservation, the Santa Barbara Botanic Garden is the only organization actively developing and maintaining a conservation collection of rare and endangered species in the central coast region. Through cooperation with private and public resource management agencies, seeds and living plants are collected in the wild to represent genetic and geographic variation. These conservation efforts are critical to ensuring that the areas of vast beauty and great significance are preserved so that our future generations may enjoy and learn from them.

The Botanic Garden has a comprehensive education program that includes programs for school groups, various certificate programs and excursions to such regions as Anacapa Island and Lake Cachuma. Their education program aims to increase our understanding of the role of plants in the natural world. Currently, the Botanic Garden co-sponsors programs with the Los Padres National Forest, University of California Cooperative Extension and the Gevirtz Research Center in the Graduate School of Education at the University of California, Santa Barbara. They also have a relationship with our local schools that ensures that our children learn the importance of preserving our natural treasures and allows teachers an opportunity to help students learn in an outdoor classroom environment.

Research at the Botanic Garden began in the late 1920s and has continued to be innovative and to contribute to our understanding of the natural world. Beginning in the 1960s, Dr. Ralph Philbrick (Garden Director from 1974 to 1987) expanded the Garden's floristic research of the Channel Islands. For over 40 years, Garden surveys and inventories have significantly expanded our knowledge of these remarkable offshore terrains. As a result, the Garden's herbarium includes over 30,000 specimens of the Channel Islands' vascular plants and lichens, which are consulted by researchers throughout the world. This research on the Channel Islands is of particular importance because of its status as a National Park which possesses many native plants and animals.

I am so pleased to be able to recognize all of the hard work of the trustees, staff and volunteers as a part of this 80th Anniversary celebration. I am privileged to work and live in a community that is so physically beautiful and blessed with so many dedicated individuals who work tirelessly to maintain the many things that make this area so special. Congratulations and happy anniversary!
