

rebuilding their industrial bases and working with small business owners and minority entrepreneurs to create and expand employment opportunities.

Mr. Speaker, Ronald Brown was an exceptional individual with accomplishments too numerous to list. He left an indelible impression not only in the United States but in many countries abroad. As evidenced by the article that I submit to the RECORD, I join the Constituency for Africa (CFA), a U.S.-based coalition with interest in Africa, in acknowledging the many contributions made in Africa by the late Secretary of Commerce.

THE CONSTITUENCY FOR AFRICA REMEMBERS
RON BROWN

April 3 marks the tenth anniversary of the plane crash in Croatia which ended the life of late Commerce Secretary Ronald H. Brown and 34 others traveling with him on a trade mission to the Balkans. The Constituency for Africa (CFA), a Washington, D.C. based coalition of organizations, groups and individuals with interest in Africa, acknowledges the contributions made by the late Secretary in forging U.S. ties with Africa.

"Ron Brown opened the doors to recognition of the importance of the U.S.-Africa relationship, highlighting the trade and investment opportunities, traveling to Africa and supporting organizations seeking to educate, advocate and build ties with Africa," said Melvin P. Foote, the Chief Executive Officer of the Constituency for Africa. In celebration of Ron Brown's legacy, CFA established a highly regarded Ronald H. Brown African Affairs series during Congressional Black Caucus Week which features speakers and seminars on critical issues confronting Africa, including issues of health, agriculture, energy and trade.

"The term, 'Africa matters' was used by the National Summit on Africa and many other events over recent years, but was first used in a major speech by Ron Brown. He truly put the spotlight on Africa's potential for the Clinton Administration. He got American companies who would never have considered trading and investing, to take a closer look. He also elevated the African diplomatic corps and Africa focused organizations by engaging them in dialogue and showing them the respect he believed they deserved," reflected Leonard Robinson, President of the Africa Society of the National Summit on Africa.

Ron Brown was the first African-American chairman of the Democratic National Committee and the first to travel to sub-Saharan Africa. During that trip in 1990 he talked about political development, but also the importance of trade and investment. Later, when he became Secretary of Commerce, he made good on his belief in the importance of economic development and commercial ties by leading numerous trade missions to Africa including one to South Africa a few days after sanctions were lifted by the U.S.; he opened a U.S. commercial center in South Africa, now named after him; opened and expanded commercial offices in regional hubs throughout Africa; supported passage of the Africa Growth and Opportunity Act; rallied other U.S. Government Agencies around Africa issues and invited senior officials from those agencies to travel with him to Africa and to develop solutions to problems in a cooperative manner. He helped to create the Corporate Council on Africa and remained a loyal supporter during his tenure as Commerce Secretary.

Michael Brown, Board Member of CFA, lobbyist and candidate for Mayor of Washington, DC, reflected on his father's travels to Africa. "My father is still remembered in many places in Africa. Fellows from the Ron Brown Institute based in Pretoria have been interns in companies in southern Africa. Small and medium sized companies go to the Ron Brown Commercial Center in Johannesburg for help with their commercial transactions. He introduced us to the benefits of commercial diplomacy."

The Constituency for Africa is a non-profit and non-governmental organization based in Washington, DC, that focuses on advocacy and educational initiatives directed at U.S. Africa policy. CFA's mission is to advocate, educate, inspire, act upon and inform its constituency about issues, concerns and challenges impacting the quality of life for the nations of Africa.

CELEBRATING THE 100TH BIRTHDAY OF MS. CARRIE COLEMAN ROBINSON

HON. JOE WILSON

Whereas, many of Ms. Robinson's family and friends will be coming from such diverse locations as Minnesota, California, Indiana, Alabama, North Carolina and Illinois, and

Whereas, Carrie Coleman Robinson was born April 21, 1906 to James and Cordelia Coleman in Madison County, Pocahontas, Mississippi, and

Whereas, Carrie was the 5th of 6 siblings, all of whom are now deceased, and

Whereas, Carrie was married to Dr. Thomas L. Robinson of Hilton Head Island for 54 years until his death in 1989, and

Whereas, Ms. Robinson's education is unparalleled as she received an Associate Bachelor's degree from Tougaloo College in 1931, a BLS degree from the Hampton Institute in 1932, and an MLS degree from the University of Illinois in 1949 while she also attended Columbia University from 1940–41 and Advanced Studies from 1953–55,

Now, therefore the Hilton Head Island Town Council hereby proclaims April 21, 2006 as: The Centennial Birthday of Carrie Coleman Robinson on Hilton Head Island.

FLORIDA GATOR MEN'S BASKETBALL REMARKS

HON. MARK FOLEY

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, April 4, 2006

Mr. FOLEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to commend the Florida Gators men's basketball team for winning their first ever national championship title. They handily beat the UCLA Bruins last night in Indianapolis by a score of 73–57. This marks the first NCAA men's title in basketball for any Division I school in Florida.

As you may know, the team lost most of its scoring players from last season and many pundits questioned whether this year's Gators would even make it into the NCAA tournament. First, they started the season by winning their first 17 games. Then they went on to secure the SEC Conference tournament championship. And, just when it was thought they couldn't top that, they ended their historic season winning the national title.

During the past month, these young, energetic Gators won the hearts and minds of fans everywhere. Their success came down to a simple formula: they played as an unselfish, hardworking and passionate team.

Head coach Billy Donovan deserves enormous credit for building such a dominant program. His team held to his often professed mantra of "PHD"—"be poor, be hungry and be driven"—in their pursuit of excellence whether on the court or in the classroom.

I applaud the strong performances by the entire team: Joakim Noah, Al Horford, Corey Brewer, Taurean Green, Lee Humphrey, Chris Richard, Adrian Moss, Walter Hodge, Brett Swanson, Jack Berry, Garrett Tyler and David Huertas.

Again, congratulations to the University of Florida for this impressive and historic win. Today it is truly great to be a Florida Gator.

COMMENDING THE UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA MEN'S BASKETBALL TEAM ON WINNING THE NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP

HON. MICHAEL BILIRAKIS

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, April 4, 2006

Mr. BILIRAKIS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate the University of Florida men's basketball team on winning the 2006 NCAA national championship.

None of college basketball's so-called experts picked the University of Florida to do much, if anything, this season. In fact, they were not even ranked in the preseason polls. This was to be a rebuilding year for the Gators. They lost three prolific scorers to the NBA last season and were considered too young and inexperienced to play with most of the Southeastern Conference, let alone the elite teams in the NCAA tournament.

However, Coach Billy Donovan and his unwavering team knew differently. Through hard work, drive, discipline, and determination, the Gators soon made their presence felt. Led by four sophomores and one junior, they began their historic season with a 17-game winning streak, the longest in Florida basketball history. And they concluded their title run by winning their last 11 games, including an SEC tournament championship, an unbelievable run through the Minneapolis region, and a dominating performance in the Final Four.

In the championship game, the Gators faced a very talented UCLA team, heralded for their defense and rich with basketball tradition. But on this night, Florida wrote the next and best chapter of their basketball tradition. Poised and focused, the Gators took the court where their balanced offensive attack swamped
