TRIBUTE TO THE FIRST ANNUAL
CESAR CHAVEZ MARCH

HON. DALE E. KILDEE

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 26, 2007

Mr. KILDEE. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the 20th anniversary of the naming of Chavez Drive and the first annual Cesar Chavez March in my hometown of Flint, Michigan. A celebration and fundraiser for the United Farm Workers members will be held on March 31st to coincide with what would have been the late Cesar Chavez's 80th birthday.

Born on a family farm, March 31, 1927, Cesar Chavez witnessed firsthand the suffering of migrant workers. When the family lost the farm during the Great Depression, Cesar toiled in the fields following crops across the Southwest. After serving in the US Navy during World War II he returned to farm work and began his lifelong commitment to justice for migrant workers.

During the 1960s Cesar Chavez, in reaction to the conditions he witnessed in the fields, became a union activist. Adopting the techniques of industrial unions like the UAW, Cesar fought against agribusiness and unfair laws that forbade farm workers from organizing. A nationwide boycott of table grapes and a 25-day hunger strike brought the United Farm Workers international attention. His leadership and personal commitment forced agribusiness to sign the first union contract with the United Farm Workers. He labored to improve the health and safety of the workers. He fought successfully to end the use of harmful chemicals like DDT and benefited not only the worker but the consumer as well.

When Cesar Chavez died in 1993, over 40,000 people attended his funeral. In a show of respect for the man who had changed so many lives, our nation posthumously awarded him the Presidential Medal of Freedom.

Madam Speaker, Flint, Michigan was the first community in our nation to honor this great humanitarian by naming a street after Cesar Chavez. I ask the House of Representatives to join me in honoring the memory of Cesar Chavez and his legacy to the American people.

U.S. TROOP READINESS, VET-ERANS' HEALTH AND IRAQ AC-
COUNTABILITY ACT, 2007

SPEECH OF

HON. SUSAN A. DAVIS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, March 23, 2007

Mrs. DAVIS of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 1591.

On May 1, 2003, on the U.S.S. Abraham Lincoln off the coast of San Diego, President Bush announced to the American public and the world that the mission in Iraq had been accomplished.

Now, nearly 4 years later, our military is still deeply involved in Iraq—with no end in sight.

This spending measure puts pressure on the Iraqi government to follow through on their political and security promises and ensures that our government will take the necessary steps to scale down our military involvement in Iraq.

In fact, it actually gives the Iraqis the leverage they need to push the agenda beyond a military solution.

This legislation may not be the preferred way to end this conflict, but not one good choice remains.

Up until now, Congress has been AWOL in its oversight responsibility. As a result, our military readiness has suffered.

Without this legislation, the readiness and strength of United States military will continue to degrade.

As a member of the House Armed Services Committee, I cannot sit idly by and watch our Army and our National Guard be stretched to the brink.

Nor can we tolerate the strategic risk posed by devoting so much of our military's time, training and equipment to the conflict in Iraq.

Mr. Speaker, without this legislation, the administration will not be held accountable to achieve progress and success.

Now is the time to exert oversight of this conflict and make the difficult, but necessary choice of establishing requirements and expectations.

From the deck of the U.S.S. Lincoln President Bush said, "Other nations in history have fought in foreign lands and remained to occupy and exploit. Americans, following a battle, want nothing more than to return home."

Mr. Speaker, Americans have bravely fought for 4 years to protect the United States and bring hope to the people of Iraq. For the sake of our military readiness, international credibility and safety of Americans in harm's way in Iraq, it is time to make plans to bring them home.

I urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to take a hard look at where we are today in Iraq, and vote for legislation that will provide the funding our troops badly need and accountability for success and results in Iraq.

Joyce is the third eldest of seven children. She was reared in a household where unconditional love was practiced and family values were instilled.

ward, she changed direction. Joyce has survived various forms of mental and physical abuses which include rape, attempted suicide, depression and a 25-year heroin addiction. In 1995, Joyce tested positive for HIV and was later diagnosed with AIDS.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join me in paying tribute to this wonderful person and her creative works.

GULF COAST HURRICANE HOUSING RECOVERY ACT OF 2007

SPEECH OF

HON. BETTY McCOLLUM

OF MINNESOTA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 20, 2007

The House in Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union had under consideration the bill (H.R. 1227) to assist in the provision of affordable housing to low-income families affected by Hurricane Katrina:

Ms. McCOLLUM of Minnesota. Mr. Chairman, I rise to speak on the amendment offered by Mrs. BIGGERT. The region affected by Hurricane Katrina could use additional affordable housing units beyond those occupied at the time of the hurricane. However, this is a problem that exists for many communities across the country and should be addressed in a comprehensive manner by adequately funding the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

In the 4th Congressional District of Minnesota, the average wait time for public housing is over 5 years, and most waiting lists are closed. There is a deficit of 12,635 affordable housing units for very low-income families. It is a serious problem when too many families do not have safe, stable housing.

The Administration's response to this problem was to flat fund the Section 8 program, ensuring that our communities cannot address the waiting lists that currently exist, and to propose significant cuts to Community Development Block Grants.

We need a comprehensive solution to affordable housing needs—both in the Gulf Coast Region and across the country. I strongly support the Gulf Coast Hurricane Recovery Act, and will support efforts to increase access to safe affordable housing for all Americans.
