Clinics will also be offered at the festival to help developing musicians improve their abilities and talents. Jazz students have a unique opportunity to meet with and learn from some of the most talented musicians and educators in the American style.

Jazz has come a long way since I first listened to the music as a boy on the radio in Searchlight. This distinct musical style developed from it humble origins in early 20th century New Orleans to touch music fans of all ages and backgrounds today. The personal- ities of the early days of Jazz continue to influence today’s artists across the musical spectrum. I wish the host and participants of the Reno Jazz Festival continued success in bringing Jazz to all members of the community.

HONORING OUR ARMED FORCES

STAFF SERGEANT KENNETH LOCKER

Mr. HAGEL. Mr. President, I rise to express my sympathy over the loss of U.S. Army SSG Kenneth Locker of Burwell, NE. Sergeant Locker was killed in action in Diyalah province, Iraq. He was 28 years old.

Sergeant Locker graduated from Burwell High School in 1997. He enlisted with the Army while he was still in high school. Bob Lee, his high school math teacher, said that after he enlisted, Sergeant Locker became a much more focused young man whose grades shot up.

After high school, Sergeant Locker spent 3 years in the Army. 2 years with the National Guard, and eventually re-enlisted with the Army. He had been in Iraq since August 2006 with the Army’s historic 82nd Airborne Division.

Sergeant Locker was previously in- jured in Iraq by a land mine. He was awarded a Purple Heart and lived with shrapnel in his neck. Thousands of brave men like Sergeant Locker are serving in Iraq.

In addition to his life as a soldier, Sergeant Locker was father to three young sons and believed he was making a safer world for his children. He is survived by his father Ken, two sisters, and a half sister and half brother. We are proud of his service to our country. I ask my colleagues to join me and all Americans in honoring SSG Kenneth Locker.

HOLD ON INTERIOR DEPARTMENT NOMINATION

Mr. WYDEN. Mr. President, today I have placed a hold on the nomination of R. Lyell Laverty to be Assistant Secretary for Fish, Wildlife and Parks at the U.S. Interior Department. Consistent with my policy of publicly an- nouncing whenever I place a hold on a nomination, I want to notify my colleagues of my objection to allowing Mr. Laverty’s nomination to be consid- ered, and to take a few minutes to explain to my colleagues why I am doing so.

The Interior Department has suffered no shortage of scandals in recent years. To name just two of the most egre- gious: Its former No. 2 official, a Dep- uty Interior Secretary who previously was known for years about flawed drilling leases that allow companies to pay no royalties on valuable oil and gas they take from Federal land in the Gulf of Mexico, but the MMS did nothing until news reports brought the facts to light. Indeed, the MMS has supervised auditors on its staff who tried to blow the whistle on companies not paying their fair share.

“Simply stated, short of a crime, anything goes at the highest levels of the Interior Department,” the Interior Department’s inspector general has warned us.

Last year, when Dirk Kempthorne was nominated to be Secretary of the Interior and he appeared before the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee for confirmation, I secured from him a pledge that he would reform that troubled department and introduce a higher ethical standard. The scandals would stop coming.

However, in late March, the inspector general once again released a scath- ingly critical report warning us about bad things happening at the Interior Department. This time the subject was Julie MacDonald, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Fish, Wildlife and Parks. Mr. Laverty would be the immediate supervisor of the position Ms. Mac- Donald held.

In detail, the inspector general told us two things about Ms. MacDonald. One, she violated Federal rules by leaking internal Fish and Wildlife Service records to business groups ac- tively challenging the Government’s environmental rulemaking process. In the process, she has been undermining her own agency’s cases in court. Two, without any formal education in the natural sciences, she has bullied and threatened FWS scientists and forced changes in their reports to suit her own political and personal agendas. FWS attorneys no longer will sign off on reports if they know the reports passed through her hands because they no longer are certain of the accuracy.

This sort of conduct is simply unac- ceptable. If you agree to work in the Interior Department, your loyalty should be with the Interior Department and protecting this country’s natural treasures. Ms. MacDonald’s loyalty lay elsewhere.

The inspector general sent his report on Ms. MacDonald to the Interior De- partment for administrative action more than a month ago. The Interior Department had no public comment. Only after I announced that I would place a hold on Mr. Laverty’s nomination did Ms. MacDonald resign. That removes her from the equation, but not the atmosphere that allowed her to op- erate as she did for so long.
