(2) such State or territory requires certification of sanitization that is signed by a veterinarian who is licensed in the State or territory, and approved by the State or territory and in charge of regulating the sale of pet turtles; (3) the certification of sanitization requires each turtle to be sanitized or treated for salmonellosa, and is dependent upon using the Siebeling method, or other such proven method, which uses an antibiotic to make the turtle salmonellosa-free; and (4) the turtle farmer or commercial retail seller includes, with the sale of such a turtle, a disclosure to the buyer that includes—
(A) information regarding—
(i) the possibility that salmonellosa can colonize in turtles;
(ii) the dangers, including possible severe illness or death, especially for at-risk people, who may be susceptible to salmonellosa poisoning, such as children, pregnant women, and others who may have weak immune systems, that could result if the turtle is not properly handled and safely maintained; (iii) the proper handling of the turtle, including an explanation of proper hygiene such as handwashing after handling a turtle; and (iv) the proven methods of treatment that, if properly applied, keep the turtle safe from salmonellosa;
(B) FDA REVIEW OF STATE PROTECTIONS.—The Food and Drug Administration may, after providing an opportunity for the affected State to respond, restrict the sale of a turtle only if the Secretary of Health and Human Services determines that the actual implementation of State health protections described in subsection (a) are insufficient to protect consumers against infectious diseases acquired from such turtles at the time of sale.

SA 1005. Mr. LEVIN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill S. 1082, to amend the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act to reauthorize and amend the prescription drug user fee provisions, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

SEC. 2. SAFETY OF FOOD ADDITIVES. Not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Food and Drug Administration shall issue a report on the question of substances used in meat that are capable of artificially keeping such meat red beyond the point of spoilage of such meat, create a health risk or are misleading to consumers.
