At the request of Ms. Landrieu, the names of the Senator from Louisiana (Mr. Vitter) was added as a cosponsor of amendment No. 1004 proposed to S. 1082, a bill to amend the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act to reauthorize and amend the prescription drug user fee provisions, and for other purposes.

By Mr. Enzi (for himself, Mr. Alexander, Mr. Allard, Mr. Burr, Mr. Isakson, Ms. Murkowski, and Mr. Roberts):

S. 1262. A bill to protect students receiving student loans, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions.

Mr. Enzi. Mr. President, I rise to speak about the Student Loan Accountability and Disclosure Reform Act which I, along with Senators Alexander, Burr, Isakson, Allard and Murkowski, are introducing today. In this era of rising college costs, it is more important than ever to make sure that the colleges, lenders and guaranty agencies that provide loans to help students pay for college operate in a fair, accountable and transparent manner.

In fiscal year 2007, the Federal Government, through the Federal Family Education Loan, FFEL, and Direct...
Loan programs is expected to back and provide $65.9 billion in new loans to students and their parents for attendance at over 6,000 schools. The FFEL program accounts for about 79 percent of new student loan volume. There are approximately 3,200 FFEL lenders. Third, the Student Loan Marketing Association (Sallie Mae) and for-profit guaranty agencies back the FFEL loans.

Overall, the programs are expected to provide financing to 14.3 million students and their families this year. These students and their families are depending upon us to protect them from those individuals who are using the financial loan programs to benefit themselves to the detriment of students.

The focus of this bill is to make colleges, lenders and guaranty agencies accountable, by prohibiting lenders and guaranty agencies from offering inducements, and colleges from accepting them, and by requiring disclosures to students, their families and the public.

There are a lot of ethical, hard-working financial aid administrators and lenders who have spent their lives helping students go to college. It is a shame that bad actors have cast a shadow over the whole student loan industry. However, in light of recent revelations about the behavior of a few college officials and a few lenders, it is clear that we need to take steps to protect their families from any actions and arrangements that are not fully disclosed.

A key part of this bill is a Code of Conduct for institutions of higher education. It prohibits colleges and their employees with responsibility for student financial aid from receiving anything of value from any lender in exchange for advantages sought by the lender. The prohibition applies not only to gifts and trips, but to compensation for service on advisory boards and consulting contracts.

Colleges are prohibited from designating “preferred lenders.” However, they may collect information from lenders, at the college’s invitation or upon the request of a lender, including interest rates, payment of origination and other fees, discounts, services and terms and conditions of the loans, and the lender’s contact information, on a standard electronic template. All templates for the bill will be made available to current and prospective students and their families. Colleges will provide students and parents with a guide that enables the students and parents to do their own evaluation of the loan products, benefits, and services offered by the lender. The bill also requires that a Code of Conduct for high level college official with the Code of Conduct is required.

The bill expands prohibitions on guaranty agencies and lenders, including provisions that prohibit the offering of any premiums, payments, prizes, and tuition payments. Guaranty agencies are precluded from performing any services for colleges without compensation. Lenders may not provide information technology equipment at below market value. Both lenders and guaranty agencies are prohibited from sending unsolicited electronic mailings to potential borrowers. Third, the recent revelations of questionable relationships between colleges and lenders have led to new calls to eliminate any areas of potential conflicts of interest. For this reason, it is time to phase out the ability of colleges to pay for college marketing, which is to receive a competitive edge in the global economy. In this global economy, learning is never over and school is never out. If students and families are to make informed decisions about how to pay for higher education, another person to perform any function that the institution of higher education or education competitiveness.

Finally, the recent revelations of questionable relationships between colleges and lenders have led to new calls to school-as-lender. Higher education is crucial to maintaining America’s competitiveness. Education at all levels, including lifelong education opportunities, is vital to ensuring that America retains its competitive edge in the global economy. In this global economy, learning is never over and school is never out. If students and families are to make informed decisions about how to pay for higher education, another person to perform any function that the institution of higher education and their families from any actions and arrangements that are not fully disclosed.

I want to thank Senators ALEXANDER, BURR, ISAKSON, ALLARD, and MURKOWSKI for joining me in this effort.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the text of the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

Any loan for which a lender that qualifies the student for a loan or other financial aid of the institution, and who otherwise has responsibilities with respect to student loans or other financial aid of the institution, shall be prohibited from entering into any type of consulting arrangement or other contract to provide services to a lender.

(IV) ADVISORY BOARD COMPENSATION.—Any lender who is employed in the financial aid office of the institution, or who otherwise has responsibilities with respect to student loans or other financial aid of the institution, and who serves on an advisory board, commission, or group established by a lender or group of lenders shall be prohibited from receiving any value of any compensation from the lender or group of lenders, or any function that the lender to the borrower exceeds the student’s cost of attendance; and

(V) LENDER INFORMATION REQUIREMENTS.—The institution—

(1) will not designate any lender as a preferred lender for loans under this title or private educational loans; (2) may invite a lender of such loans to submit to the institution a standard electronic template that specifies the rates, services, discounts, and terms and conditions of the loans, and the lender’s contact information.

(III) upon request of a lender interested in offering loans under this title or private educational loans to students at the institution, will provide the lender with the ability to submit the standard electronic template described in subclause (II) to the institution; (IV) will make all submitted standard electronic templates available to current and prospective students of the institution, and the parents of such students; (V) if such student, or a parent of such student, requests information from the lenders that have submitted standard electronic templates to the institution, will provide the student or parent with information that—

(aa) enables students and parents to do their own evaluation of the loan products, benefits, and services offered by such lenders; and

(bb) includes the disclosures required under clause (vi).

(VI) DISCLOSURES.—An institution required to make the disclosures under this clause will—

(1) disclose the criteria and process used to develop the guide described in clause (ii) of the institution’s guide under clause (v) or whether the lender submitted a standard electronic template, as described in clause (v)(II); (II) disclose which lenders included in the guide have an agreement in place to sell the loans of the lender to another lender; and (III) provide a notice to the student that the student has the right to select a lender other than the lender submitting the guide, and the student is also informed of any information the student’s choice of lender is subject to the institution’s guide under clause (v) or whether the lender submitted a standard electronic template to the institution.

(VII) LENDER SERVICES TO INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER EDUCATION.—

(1) Any agent, employee, or independent contractor of a lender providing any service for the institution shall disclose the individual’s relationship with the lender to any students and parents for whom the individual provides such service.

“(D) Any agreement for the performance of a service by a lender for the institution shall comply with all applicable State and institutional ethics laws and codes of ethics.

“(viii) INTERACTION WITH BORROWERS.—The institution will not—

“(I) use or allow any time borrower, assign, through award packaging or other methods, the borrower’s loan to a particular lender; and “(II) refuse to certify, or, delay certification of, any loan in accordance with paragraph (6) based on the borrower’s selection of a particular lender.

“(b) The institution will designate an individual who shall be responsible for signing an annual attestation on behalf of the institution that the institution agrees to, and is in compliance with, the requirements of the code of conduct described in this paragraph. Such individual shall be the chief executive officer, chief operating officer, chief financial officer, or comparable official, of the institution, and shall annually submit the signed attestation to the Secretary.

“(C) The institution will make the code of conduct widely available to the institution’s faculty members, students, and parents through a variety of means, including the institution’s website.

“(d) by redesignating subsections (d) and (e) as subsections (e) and (f), respectively; and

“(d) VIOLATION OF CODE OF CONDUCT REGARDING STUDENT LOANS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Upon a finding by the Secretary, after reasonable notice and an opportunity for a hearing, that an institution of higher education that has entered into a program or arrangement with the Secretary under subsection (a) willfully contravened the institution’s attestation of compliance with the provisions of subsection (a)(2), the Secretary may impose a penalty described in paragraph (2).

“(2) PENALTIES.—A violation of paragraph (1) shall result in the limitation, suspension, or termination of the eligibility of the institution for loan programs under this title.

“SEC. 7. TERMINATION OF SCHOOL-AS-LENDER PROGRAM.

Section 455(d) of the Higher Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 1085(d)) (as amended by section 2 of the Federal Work-Study Program Amendments of 1978) (as amended by section 2 of the Student Right to Know and Campus Security Act of 1990) is further amended—

“(A) in paragraph (1)(E), for an institution to serve as an eligible lender, and under paragraph (7) for an eligible lender to serve as a trustee for an institution of higher education, or an organization affiliated with an institution of higher education, shall expire on June 30, 2008.

“(B) APPLICATION TO EXISTING INSTITUTIONAL LENDERS.—A loan institution that was an eligible lender under this subsection, or an eligible lender that served as a trustee for an institution of higher education or an organization affiliated with an institution of higher education under paragraph (7), before June 30, 2008, shall—

“(i) not issue any new loans in such a capacity after June 30, 2008; and

“(ii) shall continue to carry out the institution’s responsibilities for any loans issued by the institution under part B or on or before June 30, 2008 by that, beginning on June 30, 2010, the eligible institution or trustee may, notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, sell or otherwise dispose of such loans if all profits from the divestiture are used for need-based grant programs at the institution.”

By Mr. CRAIG:

S. 1265. A bill to amend title 38, United States Code, to expand eligibility for veterans’ mortgage life insurance to include the Armed Forces receiving specially adapted housing assistance from the Department of Veterans Affairs; to the Committee on Veterans’ Affairs.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I have sought recognition to comment on legislation I am introducing that will continue a positive trend in the provision of benefits to severely injured servicemembers and their families by making assistance available when it is needed most. My bill would give active duty servicemembers who utilize VA’s specially adapted housing grant assistance with the ability to also purchase Veterans’ Mortgage Life Insurance, or VMLI, through VA. Under current law, the receipt of specially adapted housing grants is the gateway to VMLI eligibility. And only those separated from service and legally classified as “veterans” are able to purchase coverage through VMLI.

Servicemembers and veterans who are blind, have lost the use of both their legs, and who have other severely disabling conditions are eligible to receive up to $50,000 in grants from VA to adapt their homes or travel adaptations, such as the widening of doorways, the construction of wheelchair ramps, and the installment of handrails. Notwithstanding this grant assistance, servicemembers and veterans must still pay any underlying mortgage that exists on the modified home. To ensure that survivors are not saddled with mortgage debt they cannot afford following the death of a severely disabled veteran. VA’s VMLI program is available, up to $90,000, of coverage, or coverage in the amount of any outstanding mortgage debt, whichever is less, is available. Veterans pay premiums at standard mortality rates and VA contributes subsidy payments so that all program expenses are met.

Until recently, grants under the specially adapted housing program could only be made to individuals who had separated from military service. We recognized the need for more flexible language to allow for active duty servicemembers to move into new homes without risking VMLI eligibility should they be called into active duty, an oversight that my legislation would remedy.

VA estimates that roughly 30 servicemembers per year will receive specially adapted housing grants, thus giving rise to VMLI eligibility should my bill be enacted. Because it is optional, VA expects only 15 servicemembers per year to purchase VMLI policies. Therefore, subsidy costs associated with my legislation are minimal, less than $500,000 over 10 years.

This Congress is increasingly recognizing that the benefits provided to our wounded, ill, and injured servicemembers need to flow immediately, and that outmoded distinctions between “veteran” and “active duty servicemember” mean little when it comes to honoring our commitment to them. My legislation continues what I believe is an encouraging trend that looks at the career of a military man or woman as a continuum. It is a continuum that begins the day they enlist and it ends the day they die. Our Government’s benefits should reflect that reality.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the text of the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. 1265

To amend title 38, United States Code, to include members of the Armed Forces in the expanded VMLI program.

Section 2106 of title 38, United States Code, is amended—

“(1) by striking ‘‘veteran’’ each place it appears and inserting ‘‘veteran or member of the Armed Forces’’;

“(2) in subsection (a), by striking ‘‘veterans’ election’’ and inserting ‘‘election of the veteran or member of the Armed Forces’’;

“(3) in subsection (f), by inserting ‘‘, members of the Armed Forces,’’ after ‘‘veterans’’;

“(4) in subsection (i)—

“(A) in paragraph (1), by striking ‘‘veteran’s indebtedness’’ and inserting ‘‘indebtedness of the veteran or member of the Armed Forces’’;

“(B) in paragraph (2), by striking ‘‘veterans’ ownership’’ and inserting ‘‘ownership of the veteran or member of the Armed Forces’’;

By Mr. CRAIG:

S. 1266. A bill to amend title 38, United States Code, to increase assistance for veterans interred in cemeteries other than national cemeteries, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Veterans’ Affairs.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I have sought recognition to comment on legislation I am introducing that will improve the availability of dignified burial services for those who have served our country. The Veterans’ Dignified Burial Assistance Act of 2007 would make three improvements to programs designed to ensure that veterans are perpetually honored for their service. Let me start by describing the first improvement which had its genesis, I am proud to say, in my home State of Idaho.

We have in Idaho a State veterans’ cemetery located in Boise. The cemetery was established with the help of VA’s State Cemetery Grants Program, a program which pays 100 percent of the costs of establishing, expanding, and improving state cemeteries. Over one thousand veterans have been interred in the Idaho State Cemetery since it opened in 2004. I want to focus on 91 of those veterans who were interred through a program pioneered in Idaho called “Missing in America.”

Through the Missing in America program Idaho cemetery officials, working with veterans’ organizations and others, have actively sought to locate the unclaimed cremated remains of veterans throughout the State. They contacted funeral homes, county coroner offices, and any other place where those remains may have been located. Remarkably, they discovered the remains of 91 veterans. After verifying that they had eligibility, all 91 veterans were given a dignified burial.

I suspect what was found in Idaho would be found in other States. My legislation would incentivize other States to develop Missing in America programs like Idaho’s by allowing revenue from VA’s plot allowance benefit to go to states which seek out and inter unclaimed remains.

Under current law, State cemeteries may be required to provide the costs of interring eligible veterans. For each eligible veteran interred, a $300 plot allowance may be paid by VA. Revenue from the plot allowance is used to operate and maintain the appearance of State cemeteries. However, plot allowance revenue is not payable to States when veterans are interred more than 2 years after the permanent burial or cremation of the veteran’s body. Thus, since each of the 91 veterans interred in Idaho had been left sitting on shelves in an urn for a great deal longer than 2 years, no plot allowance is payable. This doesn’t make sense. Just as our system of benefits does not abandon or give up on veterans who are homeless or chronically ill, so too should our system of benefits system be designed not to abandon or give up on veterans whose remains are unclaimed.

To that end, my legislation would waive the 2-year limit so that States could receive plot allowance revenue for interment of the unclaimed remains of veterans. The extra plot allowance revenue could be used to help States meet costs associated with running this program and other cemetery operations. Most importantly, my legislation would reward States for giving veterans what is long overdue: a fitting burial.

The second way my legislation helps to ensure dignified burials is by increasing VA’s plot allowance benefit from $300 to $300. As I mentioned earlier, the plot allowance can be paid directly to a State cemetery for the interment of eligible veterans. But it can also be paid to the survivors of veterans who purchase burial space on their own in the private market. Unclaimed veterans who die in VA facility, who are in receipt of disability compensation, or who have low incomes and are in receipt of VA pension are eligible to receive the $300 plot allowance benefit. The plot allowance, created in 1973, is designed to ensure that veterans are not buried in a pauper’s grave. When the benefit was created, it covered 13 percent of the average cost of an adult funeral. Today, it only covers approximately 5 percent of the cost. An independent assessment of VA burial benefits directed by Congress and published in 2000 recommended, as an option, increasing the plot allowance to 25 percent of the average cost of an adult funeral. Since that assessment was published, the major veterans’ organizations have persistently recommended that Congress increase this benefit. In its most recent budget submission, the authors of the Independent Budget recommended that the plot allowance be increased to $745. In 2001, Congress took a first step, raising the benefit from $150 to $300. My legislation would take another step.

Finally, my legislation would authorize $5 million per year under VA’s State Cemetery Grant Program for VA to assist States in meeting operational and maintenance expenses. As I mentioned, the State Cemetery Grant Program finances the cost of establishing, expanding, or improving State cemeteries. States must agree to provide suitable land for a cemetery and they must meet administrative, operational, and maintenance standards.

My purpose in introducing this aspect of the legislation is twofold. First, VA is in the midst of the largest national cemetery expansion since the Civil War. Guiding its cemetery expansion effort was a prospective look at where and how many veterans will be living 20 years from now. Based on that prospective analysis, national cemeteries are being built in those areas of the country that have veterans’ populations that are not residing within, or expected to reside within, 75 miles of an open State or national cemetery. It is therefore highly likely that after this expansion has concluded, no additional national cemeteries will be built for quite some time. Thus, in order to serve veterans’ populations in less densely populated areas in the future, VA and the States will need to rely more on the State Cemetery Grant Program. Allowing revenue from plot allowances and operational expenses will serve to make the program more attractive to States, which may otherwise decline to participate in the program due to budget constraints. In fact, the 2000 independent assessment I spoke about earlier made the same point, recommending Congressional consideration of amending the grant program to allow for reimbursement of the sort contemplated in my legislation.

My second purpose behind this provision is that veterans whose remains are unclaimed in these States will ever have access to a national cemetery within the borders of their home State. Yet their service was national in character, and the desire for recognition of that national service through interment in a national cemetery is real, if not practiced. It is my opinion that the Federal obligation to veterans residing in States like my own is therefore heightened. And if the only way to heighten that obligation is by requiring reimbursement of a greater share of the expenses now borne by the States, so be it. To my mind, this would be an equitable outcome, and one that I hope VA factors into criteria it will develop should my legislation be enacted.

Let me make one final and very important point. The cost of my legislation is in the $8 million per year range. I am convinced of the merits of the legislation, I am also committed to adhering to our budget rules which require that appropriate spending offsets be identified before new spending is advanced. I assure my colleagues that should my legislation be reported from the Veterans’ Affairs Committee, it will be fully offset in accordance with our rules and my own principle of fiscal discipline.

In summary, the Veterans’ Dignified Burial Assistance Act of 2007 will help us along in our collective goal of providing veterans with lasting resting places to honor their lives and service. This is good legislation, and I urge the support of my colleagues.

I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the text of the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. 5503
May 2, 2007
Mr. LUGAR. Mr. President, I am pleased to rise today with my colleagues Senators DODD, GRAHAM, DOMENICI, and LANDRIEU to introduce the Free Flow of Information Act.

The free flow of information is an essential element of democracy. A free press promotes an open marketplace of information and provides public and private sector accountability to our Nation's electorate. By ensuring the free flow of information, citizens can work to bring about improvements in our government and our citizenry. It is in our nation's best interest to have an independent press that is free to question, challenge, and investigate issues and stories, without concern for political party, position or who holds power. The role of the media as a conduit between government and the citizenry it serves must not be devalued.

This principle that we practice at home is also one that we promote abroad. Spreading democracy abroad has been a pillar of United States foreign policy. We have recognized that a free and independent press is both essential to building democracies and a barometer of the health of young and often imperfect democratic systems. The example of press freedom we set in this country is an important beacon to guide other nations as they make the transition from autocratic forms of government.

Unfortunately, our press is under attack. The free flow of information to citizens of the United States is inhibited and our open market of information is being threatened. When gathering information on a story, a journalist is sometimes required to accept information under a promise of confidentiality. Without assurance of anonymity, many conscientious citizens with evidence of wrongdoing would stay silent. Restricting the manner in which appropriate news is gathered is tantamount to restricting the information that the public has the right to hear.

After a long period when there were few clashes between the media and authorities, a disturbing new trend has developed. More than 30 reporters have recently been subpoenaed or questioned in at least four different Federal jurisdictions about their confidential sources. From 1991 to September 6, 2001, the Department of Justice issued 88 subpoenas to the media, 17 of which sought information leading to the identification of confidential sources. In fact, three journalists have been imprisoned at the request of the Department of Justice, U.S. attorneys under its supervision, or special prosecutors since 1991. As a result, the press is hobbled in performing the public service of reporting news. I fear the end result of such actions is that many whistleblowers will refuse to come forward and reporters will be unable to provide the American people with information they deserve.

Most jurisdictions in our country have recognized that confidential sources are integral to the press's role of keeping the public informed, and protect the shield so that journalists can keep secret the names of such sources. Every State and the District of Columbia, excluding Wyoming, has, by legislation or court ruling, created a privilege for reporters not to reveal their confidential sources. My own State of Indiana provides qualified reporters appropriate protection from having to reveal any such information in court.

The Federal courts of appeals, however, have been less than willing to adopt this matter. Some circuits allow the privilege in one category of cases, while others have expressed skepticism about whether any privilege exists at all. It does not make sense to have a Federal system of various degrees of press freedom, a matter dependent upon where you live or who provides the subpoena. In fact, 34 State attorneys general have argued that the lack of a clear standard of Federal protection undermines state laws.

In addition, there is ambiguity between official Department of Justice rules and unofficial criteria used to secure media subpoenas. The Department of Justice guidelines also do not apply to special prosecutors or private civil litigants. There is an urgent need for Congress to state clear and concise policy guidance.

In response to this situation, 2 years ago, I was pleased to join with my colleagues Senator MINOR PENCE, and Congressman RICK BURCHETT of the House of Representatives and Senator CHRIS DODD in the Senate to introduce the Free Flow of Information Act. This legislation provides journalists with certain rights and abilities to seek and report information without fear of intimidation or imprisonment. The bill sets national standards which must be met before a Federal entity may issue a subpoena to a member of the news media in any Federal criminal or civil case. It sets out certain tests that civil litigants or prosecutors must meet before they can force a journalist to turn over information. Litigants or prosecutors must show, for instance, that they have tried to get the information in other ways and that the information is critical to the case. These standards were based on Justice Department guidelines and common law standards.

Subsequently, additional protections have been added to this bill to ensure that information will be disclosed in cases where the information is critical to prevent death or bodily harm or in cases which relate to the unlawful disclosure of trade secrets. The bill also permits a reporter to be compelled to reveal the source in certain national security situations. Finally, the bill would provide protections to ensure that source information can be provided when personal health records and financial records were disclosed in violation of Federal law.

By providing the courts with a framework for compelled disclosure, our legislation promotes greater transparency of government, maintains the ability of the courts to operate effectively, and protects whistleblowers who identify government or corporate misdeeds.

It is also important to note what this legislation does not do. The legislation neither gives reporters a license to break the law, nor permits reporters to interfere with criminal investigation efforts. State shield laws have been on the books for years, and I have not seen any evidence to support a correlation between reporter privilege laws and criminal activity or threats to public safety. Furthermore, the Free Flow of Information Act does not weaken our national security. The explicit national security exception will ensure that reporters are protected while maintaining an avenue for prosecution and disclosure when considering the defense of our country.

This legislation is carefully crafted to balance the distinct and important roles of both the press and law enforcement.
As ranking member of the United States Senate Foreign Relations Committee, I believe that passage of this bill would have positive diplomatic consequences. This legislation not only confirms America’s Constitutional commitment to press freedom, it also advances President Bush’s American foreign policy initiatives to promote and protect democracy. Our Nation always leads best when it leads by example.

Unfortunately, the press remains under siege in a number of foreign countries. For instance, Reporters Without Borders points out that 125 journalists are currently in jail around the world, with more than half of these cases in China, Cuba, and Burma. This is not good company for the United States of America. Global public opinion is always on the lookout to advertise perceived American double standards.

I would like to thank my colleague, Senator Chris Dodd as well as Mike Pence and Rick Boucher, in the House of Representatives for their tireless work on this issue. I look forward to continuing work with each of them to protect the free flow of information.

Mr. President, I am very glad to join my colleague Senator Lugar, along with Representatives Boucher and Pence in the House of Representatives, in introducing the Free Flow of Information Act. This bill would protect our press from being forced to reveal their confidential sources, not as an end in itself, but as a means to a well-informed public. I applaud the tireless efforts of the senior Senator from Indiana, Mr. Lugar, in once again bringing this important issue to the attention of Congress and indeed the nation.

I hardly have to read the litany of grave wrongs that have been exposed because journalists called the powerful to account. As President Jefferson said, the information provided by those brave souls has helped to make the powerful accountable. Thomas Jefferson said it best: “If I had to make a choice, to choose the government without the press or to have the press but without the government, I will select the latter without hesitation.” Jefferson clearly understood that a free press is something our system cannot possibly last without a free press.

But today, we find this cornerstone of self-government facing a new threat. This threat has not come from the dictates of a dangerous government, but from the best of intentions. In a spate of recent cases, prosecutors have used subpoenas, fines, and jail time to compel journalists to reveal their anonymous sources. Judith Miller of The New York Times was jailed for 85 days for refusing to reveal a source. Two San Francisco Chronicle reporters were found in contempt of court for refusing to identify sources and hand over material related to the BALCO steroids investigation. And inibiore, journalist was sentenced to home arrest on similar charges. Last year alone, a total of some two dozen reporters have been subpoenaed or questioned about confidential sources. They were all journalists prosecuted only for the offense of journalism.

The impact of these subpoenas on the broader issue of freedom of information is undeniable. Last summer, for instance, the editor-in-chief of Time magazine testified before the Senate Judiciary Committee. This is what he said about the fallout from the Justice Department’s efforts to obtain confidential information from a Time reporter: “Valuable sources have insisted that they had not only to allow their magazine and that they would no longer cooperate on stories. The chilling effect is obvious.”

The chilling effect is obvious. Experience has shown us that the most effective constraint on newsgathering is not to be blatant censorship: A few cases like Ms. Miller’s and the San Francisco Chronicle’s, and news will begin censoring itself. We can only speculate as to how many editors and publishers put the brakes on a story for fear that it could land one of their reporters in a spider web of subpoenas, charges of contempt, and prison. When we minimize the impact of confidential sources, serious journalism is crippled. We will find our papers full of stories more and more palatable to the Powerful and secretive. No one argues that that is the intention of those prosecuting these cases; but few deny that it could, in time, be their effect.

While I have not been brought into court and threatened with imprisonment if they don’t divulge their sources, we are entering dangerous territory for a democracy. The information we need to remain sovereign will be degraded; the public’s right to know will be threatened; and I suggest to you that the liberties we hold dear will be threatened as well.

To that is exactly why we need a Federal reporter shield. Forty-nine States, including our own, have already recognized that need by enacting similar protection on the state level either through legislation or court decisions; the Free Flow of Information Act simply extends that widely recognized protection to the Federal courts. The new version of this bill expands coverage in two significant ways. First, it will not only protect the information journalists obtain under the promise of confidentiality; it will also cover the “work product” of journalists as well. That is, it was subjected to that promise. And second, it no longer limits its protection to mainstream reporters; the new version also shields any person engaged in journalism. In today’s expansive media environment, it would be unacceptable to deny the shield to our citizen-journalists.

Of course, the reporter shield is not absolute. The public’s need to know must be weighed against other goods, and the bill will not protect and immunity when disclosure of a source would prevent imminent harm to national security, imminent death or bodily harm, or the release of personal or health-related information. In other words, we are balancing our right to know with our need for security, whether physical or economic. Secrecy is as necessary in extreme circumstances as it is dangerous on the whole.

It is on the idea of balance that I would like to conclude. A prosecution, whatever its individual merits, sacrifices something higher when it turns on reporters; and so those merits must be balanced against the broader harms such a prosecution can work. If a free press is too expensive a luxury, then some government, as Jefferson suggested, then the agents of that free government, prosecutors included, owe a heavy debt to a free press. We do not want to see a situation where the prosecution of a reporter simply means toeing the line of a particular government. There have been far too many expulsions for that in the past, and we must have the means to protect against that. Public interest is served by a free press. One that is free to do its job. A press that is not under threat of prosecution is a press that is free to do its job.

By Mr. INHOFE.

S. 1269. A bill to improve border security in the United States and for other purposes; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. INHOFE. Mr. President, I once again today introduced S. 1269, the ENFORCE Act, because this body has failed to move forward with sound immigration legislation. My bill is a strong step in the right direction to help solve our growing problem of illegal immigration.

I did this already. I did this last year. We had a chance to talk about it, but we never were able to get this up to a vote. I do want to keep this subject moving because people are not talking about this anymore. This bill focuses on those illegal aliens entering the United States from Canada or Mexico,Infos about the press.

I wish to be clear, for some reason— I am not sure why— I have been honored over the years to speak at nationalization ceremonies. Blending one of the emotional things a person can go through. When you see people coming into this country and doing it the way they are supposed to, they learn the history. Those who have gone through the legal process know more about the history of America than the average person you run into on the street. I am very strongly in favor of legal immigration.

In 1997, the U.S. Commission on Immigration Reform stated that “measured, legal immigration has led to create one of the world’s greatest multi-ethnic nations.” I agree with that statement. I agree with their statement that when immigrants become “Americanized,” they help cultivate a shared commitment to “liberty, democracy, and equal opportunity” in our Nation. That is legal immigration. I agree with that.

However, I am quoting now from Roy Beck, executive director of Numbers USA. He stated:

A presence of 8 to 11 million illegal aliens—

I think the figure is now approximately 12 million.

in this country is a sign that this country has lost control of its borders and the ability to determine who is a member of this national community. And a country that has lost the ability to greatly loses the ability to determine the rules of its society—environmental protections, labor protection, health protections, safety protections.

Further quoting from Roy Beck:

In fear of a country that cannot keep illegal immigration to a low level quickly ceases to be a real country, or a real community. Rather than being self-governed, such a country becomes a destination largely determined by citizens of other countries who manage to move in illegally.

With that being said, I cannot and I will not stand idly by and watch our great Nation collapse under the pressures of uncontrolled illegal immigration. This is a crisis, one that must be addressed aggressively. While I would not belabor the point, I will chronicle some of illegal immigration’s specific threats to our Nation’s vitality and how it undermines our shared commitment to liberty, democracy, and equal opportunity.

First and foremost, the issue of border security must be addressed. My bill would help ramp up border security by providing a way for civilians and retired law enforcement officers to assist the Border Patrol in stopping illegal border crossings. Keep in mind, if you are a retired Federal law enforcement officer, they have a mandatory retirement age of 57. There are many of these who would work for expenses. What I am proposing is a three-tiered system where you have the Border Patrol who are skilled the way they are today but have them fortified by this army of retired law enforcement officers and then bring in the third tier which are those which we have working in the past that have been very effective in adding to the numbers on the border.

It is already working. It is very similar to the National Border Neighborhood Police which I know in my home State of Oklahoma. It has been a very effective program. It is more eyes to watch and more talent to arrest, when necessary. A more obscure issue that also warrants reform is the legal status of what has become known as anchor babies.

To better their odds of remaining in the United States, illegal immigrants have taken advantage of a constitutional provision granting automatic citizenship to all children born in U.S. soil.

Unfortunately, by providing citizenship to these “anchor babies,” as they are known, our Nation rewards the illegal entry of their parents and facilitates the further exploitation of our borders and national resources.

This trend contributed to the alarming fact that the illegal immigrant population is growing faster than the birthrate of American citizens. According to the Center for Immigration Studies, based on numbers from the National Center of Health Statistics, in 2002, there were about 8.4 million illegal aliens, which represented about 3.3 percent of the total U.S. population. That same year, there were about 383,000 babies born to illegal aliens, which represented about 9.5 percent of all U.S. births in 2002.

This problem continues to grow exponentially and serves as a strong incentive for more aliens to illegally cross into our country in hopes of short-term requirements. Language included in the ENFORCE Act will put an end to this much exploited practice.

Another “supposed” obligation we face is the education of illegal aliens. States, such as my State of Oklahoma, allow the illegal aliens the advantage of receiving in-state tuition at our State colleges and universities. I believe it is inexcusable to give away State-subsidized educations to those who do not pay taxes. This act will address this problem by making it unlawful for illegal aliens to receive this particular handout.

The ENFORCE Act includes several provisions to halt illegal immigrants’ access to one of our tax laws and our Social Security benefits. One of the greatest problems in this area is illegal immigrants’ abuse of the individual tax identification number. That is the ITIN program. Currently, it so closely resembles the Social Security number that many illegal immigrants are able to use it in place of a Social Security card to by-pass our tax laws or receive wrongly awarded benefits. The ENFORCE Act will require a change in the physical appearance of this particular document so its identity can no longer be mistaken for that of a Social Security number, and it will also prohibit that document from being used for identification purposes.

Additionally, my bill will require Social Security numbers to expire as soon as a person’s permission to be in the United States expires. So it would expire at the same time that permission expires.

It will prohibit illegal immigrants who gain legal status from collecting Social Security benefits for the time they worked illegally in the country.

Finally, the legality of day-labor centers is a topic that must be addressed by any comprehensive immigration reform package. These day-labor centers exist within illegal immigration-friendly “sanctuary sites” and not just in San Francisco. Day-labor centers are State-funded sites where illegal aliens congregate and wait for employers to pick them up for a day of illegal work.

One such site was approved in 2005 in Fairfax County, VA, to be paid for by taxpayer dollars. Sanctuary sites, such as these enable and encourage unlawful activity by both illegal aliens and the employers who hire them. The ENFORCE Act will outlaw the creation of those particular centers.

Illegal immigrants continue to cause a myriad of problems for our country and for law-abiding citizens such as you and me. Illegal immigrants not only drain our economy through their exploitation of public services and resources, but we must not forget the national security threat posed by would-be terrorists who have entered our country illegally or remain here unlawfully by overstaying their visas.

The Center for Immigration Study says:

For though illegal aliens make little use of welfare, from which they are generally barred, the costs of illegal immigration in terms of government expenditures for education, criminal justice, and emergency medical care are significant. Illegal immigration is straining our economy, jeopardizing our security, and burdening our education and health care systems.

So this ENFORCE Act will provide solid tools to eliminate illegal immigration and strongly enforce the existing U.S. immigration laws. The seriousness of this crisis warrants that Americans of all political stripes come together to address this problem.

One thing that is missing in this legislation that I think should be included in any kind of reform—and some of my colleagues can remember I had on the floor of the Senate the legislation making English the official language of the United States—and it is interesting that some 88 percent of the American people want this, and some 70 percent of the Hispanic population want this also. It is also interesting that there are 50 countries around the world that have English as their official language, including West Africa and some other countries, and yet we do not have it for ourselves. But that is going to be handled separately at a different time.

History shows us that declaring “immigration bankruptcy” does not work. We saw that in the amnesty of 1986. Simply granting citizenship to immigrants who are currently in our country illegally is not the answer. We have to enhance our border security, hold those accountable who encourage illegal immigration, and enforce those who violate our laws by entering our country illegally do not remain here and are not easily welcomed back.
So I am introducing that legislation, and I am going to be bringing it up at the appropriate time.

By Mr. AKAKA (for himself, Mr. KENNEDY, Mr. OBAMA, Mr. DURBIN, Mr. HARKIN, Mr. SALAZAR, and Mr. ISAKSON):

S. 1270. A bill to amend title IV of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 to require the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation to retire at age 60, to compute the actuarial value of monthly benefits in the form of a life annuity commencing at age 60; to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions.

Mr. AKAKA. Mr. President, today I am introducing the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation Pilots Equitable Treatment Act to ensure fair treatment of commercial airline pilots retires. I thank my cosponsors, Senators KENNEDY, INOUYE, OBAMA, DURBIN, HARKIN, and SALAZAR. I also thank Representative GEORGE MILLER for introducing the companion legislation in the other chamber.

My bill corrects an injustice imposed on pilots whose pensions have been terminated and handed over to the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation, PBGC. This bill will lower the age requirement to receive the maximum pension benefits allowed by the PBGC to age 60 for pilots, who are mandated by the Federal Aviation Administration, FAA, to retire before age 65. With the airline industry experiencing severe financial distress, we need to enact this legislation to assist pilots whose companies have been or will be unable to continue their defined benefit pension plans. This bill will require the PBGC to take into account the fact that the pilots are required to retire at the age of 60 when calculating their benefits.

The FAA requires commercial aviation pilots to retire when they reach the age of 60. Pilots are therefore denied the maximum pension benefit administered by the PBGC because they are required to retire before the age of 65. Herein lies the problem. If pilots want to work beyond the age of 60, they have to request a waiver from the FAA. It is my understanding that the FAA rejected those waivers for pilots working for foreign airlines that fly to and from the United States. Therefore, retired pilots whose pensions are administered by the PBGC do not receive the maximum pension guarantee because they are forced to retire at age 60.

For plans terminated in 2005, the maximum benefit for someone that retires at 65 is $45,614 a year. For those who retire at 60, the maximum is $39,649. This significant reduction in benefits is causing a difficult situation. Their pensions have been reduced significantly and they are prohibited from reentering their profession due to the mandatory retirement age. They are unable to go back to their former jobs. My legislation ensures that pilots are able to obtain the maximum PBGC benefit without being unfairly penalized for having to retire at 60. We must pass this bill to provide some relief for United, Continental, USAirways, Delta, TWA, and other pilots who have had their pensions terminated and taken over by the PBGC and suffer from this wrongly imposed penalty.

In the previous Congress, this legislation was included in the Senate-passed version of the Pension Security and Transparency Act of 2005. However, this provision was not included in the conference report. I urge my colleagues to support this bill so that we can finally provide some relief for our pilots who already have suffered financially due to the termination of their pension plans.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the text of the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. 1270

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation Pilots Equitable Treatment Act”.

SEC. 2. AGE REQUIREMENT FOR AIRLINE PILOTS.

(a) SINGLE-EMPLOYER PLAN BENEFITS

(1) Section 1322(b)(3) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (29 U.S.C. 1322(b)(3)) is amended by inserting at the end the following: “If, at the time of termination of a plan under this title, regulations prescribed by the Federal Aviation Administration require an individual to separate from service as a commercial airline pilot after attaining age 65, this paragraph shall be applied to an individual who is a participant in the plan by reason of such service by substituting such age for age 65.”

(b) AGGREGATE LIMIT ON BENEFITS GUARANTEED

— Section 4022(b)(3) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (29 U.S.C. 1322(b)(3)) is amended by adding at the end the following: “If, at the time of termination of a plan under this title, regulations prescribed by the Federal Aviation Administration require an individual to separate from service as a commercial airline pilot after attaining any age before age 65, this subsection shall be applied to an individual who is a participant in the plan by reason of such service by substituting such age for age 65.”

SEC. 3. EFFECTIVE DATE.

The amendments made by this Act shall apply to benefits payable on or after the date of enactment of this Act.

By Mr. KYL:

S. 1273. A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to allow permanent look-through treatment of payments between related foreign corporations, to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. KYL. Mr. President, today I am introducing legislation to make permanent a provision of our tax that was enacted in 2006 as part of the Increase Prevention and Reconciliation Act, but expires at the end of 2008. The controlled-foreign corporation (CFC) look-through provision allows U.S.-based multinational companies to better compete with foreign companies by avoiding them to be nipping at their overseas operations. In this age of global competition, I hope my colleagues will agree that the United States needs to maintain a business climate that encourages U.S.-based companies to grow and succeed. The CFC look-through provision is an important part of that effort.

For several years now, I have been encouraging my colleagues to recognize that our tax system puts many of our best U.S. employers at a competitive disadvantage as compared to foreign-based companies. Many foreign countries only impose tax on income earned within their borders; the United States taxes U.S. companies on their worldwide income.

The general rule is that income from a foreign subsidiary is not taxed by the United States until those earnings are brought back to the U.S. parent, usually in the form of a dividend. Subpart F of the Internal Revenue Code sets forth a number of exceptions to this general rule, imposing current U.S. tax, instead of allowing deferral of tax, on subsidiary earnings generally when that income is passive in nature. One exception to the general deferral rule imposes tax on the U.S. parent when a foreign-based subsidiary receives dividends, interest, rents or royalties from another subsidiary that is located in a different country. If the two subsidiaries are in the same country, however, U.S. tax is generally deferred until the income is repatriated to the U.S. parent.

In 2005, I introduced legislation to extend this “same-country” treatment, the CFC look-through provision, to payments between related foreign subsidiaries that are located in different countries, and I was pleased that the 2006 tax reconciliation bill included this provision. Today, I am introducing legislation to make the CFC look-through permanent.

Today’s global economy is significantly different from the environment that existed when the subpart F rules were first introduced in 1962. As the global economy has changed, the traditional model for operating a parent global business has changed as well. In today’s world, it makes no sense to impose a tax penalty when a company wants to fund the operations of a subsidiary in one country from the active business earnings of a subsidiary in another country. For example, to operate efficiently, a U.S.-based manufacturer could establish specialized manufacturing sites, distribution hubs, and service centers. As a result, multiple related-party entities may be required to have a different legal structure. Before the CFC look-through was enacted last year, U.S. tax law inappropriately increased the cost for these foreign subsidaries to serve their customers in a very competitive business environment by imposing current tax on these related-party payments, even though the income continues to be used in active operations in the foreign market.

In another example, financial institutions headquartered in the United States, which employ millions of workers here at home and pets; to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

S. 1274

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Human and Pet Food Safety Act of 2007”.

SEC. 2. FOOD SAFETY FOR HUMANS AND PETS.

(a) Advisories, Events, Inspections, Recall.—Chapter IV of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 341 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following:

SEC. 417. NOTIFICATION AND RECALL.

(a) Notice of Violation.—(1) In General.—A person that has reason to believe that any food introduced into or in interstate commerce, or held for sale (whether or not the first sale) after shipment in interstate commerce, may be in violation of this Act shall immediately notify the Secretary of the identity and location of the food.

(2) Manner of Notification.—Notification under paragraph (1) shall be made in such manner and by such means as the Secretary may require by regulation.

(b) Recall and Consumer Notification; Voluntary Actions.—If the Secretary determines that food is in violation of this Act when introduced into or in interstate commerce or while held for sale (whether or not the first sale) after shipment in interstate commerce and that there is a reasonable probability that the food, if consumed, would present a threat to public health, as determined by the Secretary, the Secretary shall give the appropriate persons (including the manufacturer, importer, distributor, or retailers of the food) an opportunity to—

(1) cease distribution of the food;

(2) notify all persons;

(A) processing, distributing, or otherwise handling the food to immediately cease such activities with respect to the food; or

(B) to which the food has been distributed, transported, or sold, to immediately cease distribution of the food;

(3) recall the food;

(4) in conjunction with the Secretary, provide notice of the finding of the Secretary—

(A) to consumers to whom the food was, or may have been, distributed; and

(B) to State and local public health officials; or

(5) take any combination of the measures described in this paragraph, as determined by the Secretary to be appropriate in the circumstances.

(c) Civil and Criminal Penalties.—

(1) Civil Penalty.—(A) Any person that commits an act that violates the notification and recall standards under subsection (b) (including a regulation or order issued under this Act) may be assessed a civil penalty by the Secretary of not more than $10,000 for each such act.

(2) Seizure. — Each act described in subparagraph (A) and each day during which that act continues shall be considered a separate offense.

(3) Other Requirements.—(A) Written Order.—The civil penalty described in paragraph (1) shall be assessed by the Secretary by a written order, which shall specify the nature and extent of the violation and the penalty under subparagraph (B) considered by the Secretary.

(B) Amount of Penalty.—Subject to paragraph (1), the amount of the civil penalty shall be determined by the Secretary, after considering—

(i) the gravity of the violation;

(ii) the degree of culpability of the person;

(iii) the size and type of the business of the person; and

(iv) any history of prior offenses by the person under this Act.

(c) Review of Order.—The order may be reviewed only in accordance with subsection (d).

(3) Exception.—No person shall be subject to the penalties of this section if—

(A) he has recorded, proffered, or delivered in interstate commerce any food, if the receipt, proffer, or delivery was made in good faith by a person who refuses to furnish (on request of an officer or employee designated by the Secretary).

(i) the name, address and contact information of the person from whom that person purchased or received the food;

(ii) copies of all documents relating to the person from whom that person purchased or received the food; and

(iii) copies of all documents pertaining to the delivery of the food to that person;

(B) if that person establishes a guaranty signed by, and containing the name and address of, the person from whom that person received in good faith the food, stating that the food is not adulterated or misbranded with the meaning of this Act.

(d) Judicial Review.—

(1) In General.—An order assessing a civil penalty under section (c) shall be a final order unless the person—

(A) not later than 30 days after the effective date of the order, files a petition for judicial review of the order in the United States court of appeals for the circuit in which that person resides or has its principal place of business or the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, and

(B) simultaneously serves a copy of the petition by certified mail to the Secretary.

(2) Filing of Record. — Not later than 45 days after the service of a copy of the petition under paragraph (1)(B), the Secretary shall file in the court a certified copy of the administrative record upon which the order was issued.

(e) Standard of Review.—The findings of the Secretary relating to the order shall be set aside only if found to be unsupported by substantial evidence on the record as a whole.

(f) Collection Actions for Failure to Pay.—

(1) In General.—If any person fails to pay a civil penalty assessed under subsection (c) after the order assessing the penalty has become a final order, after the court of appeals described in subsection (d) has entered final judgment in favor of the Secretary, the Secretary shall refer the matter to the Attorney General, who shall institute in a United States district court of competent jurisdiction a civil action to recover the amount assessed.

(g) Civil Penalties Paid Into Account.—The Secretary—

(1) shall deposit penalties collected under this section in an account in the Treasury; and

(2) may use the funds in the account, without further appropriation or fiscal year limitation—

(A) to carry out enforcement activities under food safety law; or

(B) to provide assistance to States to improve their food safety law.
other food or firms under the jurisdiction of State food safety programs.

Section 417—(c) Discretion of the Secretary to Prosecute.—Nothing in this section, section 418, or any other provisions of law or any order issued by the Secretary to report for prosecution, or for the commencement of an action, the violation of this Act in a case where the Secretary finds that the public interest will be adequately served by the assessment of a civil penalty under this section.

Section 417—(d) Remedies Not Exclusive.—The remedies provided in this section may be in addition to, and not exclusive of, other remedies that may be available.

Section 418—(a) Mandatory Recall Action.—(1) MANDATORY ACTIONS.—If a person referred to in section 417(b) refuses to or does not adequately carry out the actions described in that section within the time period and in the manner prescribed by the Secretary, the Secretary shall—

(i) have authority to control and possess the food, including ordering the shipment of the food from a food establishment, such as an establishment that holds, stores, or transports food or food ingredients, to the Secretary;

(ii) at the expense of such food establishment; or

(iii) in an emergency (as determined by the Secretary), at the expense of the Secretary; and

(2) by order, require, as the Secretary determines to be necessary, the person to immediately—

(A) cease distribution of the food; and

(B) notify all persons—

(i) processing, distributing, or otherwise handling the food to immediately cease such activities with respect to the food; or

(ii) if the food has been distributed, transported, or sold, to immediately cease distribution of the food;

(3) NONDISTRIBUTION BY NOTIFIED PERSONS.—If, on the person that processes, distributes, or otherwise handles the food, or to which the food has been distributed, transported, or sold, and that is notified under section 417(b) of this Act, the Secretary shall immediately cease distribution of the food.

(4) Availability of Records to Secretary.—Each person referred to in section 417 that processed, distributed, or otherwise handled food shall make available to the Secretary information necessary to carry out this subsection, as determined by the Secretary, regarding—

(i) persons that processed, distributed, or otherwise handled the food; and

(ii) whether the food has been transported, sold, distributed, or otherwise handled.

(5) INFORMAL HEARINGS ON ORDERS.—(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall provide any person subject to an order under subsection (a) with an opportunity for an informal hearing, to be held as soon as practicable but not later than 2 business days after the issuance of the order.

(2) SCOPE OF THE HEARING.—In a hearing under paragraph (1), the Secretary shall consider the actions required by the order and any reasons why the food that is the subject of the order should not be recalled.

(3) AMENDMENT OF ORDER.—If, after providing an opportunity for an informal hearing under subsection (a), the Secretary determines that there is a reasonable probability that the food that is the subject of an order under subsection (a), if consumed, would, because of its unusual or hazardous nature to public health, the Secretary, as the Secretary determines to be necessary, may—

(A) amend the order to require recall of the food or other appropriate action; and

(B) specify a timetable in which the recall shall occur;

(4) REQUIREMENTS ON ORDERS.—The Secretary shall require the person to whom the order is issued to—

(A) provide the Secretary with a written statement of the reasons why the order cannot be complied with;

(B) submit any evidence submitted to the Secretary in the course of any informal hearing under this section;

(C) submit any evidence submitted to the Secretary in the course of any hearing under section 418a; and

(D) submit any evidence submitted to the Secretary in the course of any judicial proceeding relating to this section.

(5) WITHDRAWAL OF CERTIFICATION.—The Secretary may withdraw certification of any food from a foreign government or foreign manufacturer, importer, distributor, or retailer that seeks to import food to the United States if the Secretary determines that such food is linked to an outbreak of human illness.

Section 419—(a) AUTHORITY TO INSPECT.—The Secretary shall have the authority to inspect any person that processed, distributed, or otherwise handled food from a food establishment, such as a food establishment that holds, stores, or transports food or food ingredients, to the United States by a foreign manufacturer, importer, distributor, or retailer that seeks to import food to the United States at least every 5 years to ensure the continued compliance with the standards set forth in this section.

(b) RECORDS INSPECTION.—The Secretary shall routinely inspect and test food and food animals (or a physical examination) before it enters the United States to ensure that it is—

(A) safe;

(B) labeled as required for food produced in the United States; and

(C) otherwise meets requirements under this Act.

(c) RECORDS INSPECTION.—The Secretary shall—

(A) in general, determine the right of the Secretary to have access to records required to be maintained under this section during an inspection pursuant to section 418;

(B) Regulations.—For purposes of this paragraph—

(I) the term ‘‘authorized person’’ means an officer or employee of the Department of Health and Human Services who has been duly designated by the Secretary to have access to the records required to be maintained under this section; and

(II) the term ‘‘authorized person’’ means, with respect to an article of food, any person responsible for the food’s processing, packaging, or holding for such food for consumption in the United States.

(d) ENFORCEMENT.—The Secretary is authorized to—

(A) deny importation of food from any foreign government that does not permit United States officials to enter any foreign country to conduct such inspections as may be necessary to fulfill the requirements under this section;

(B) deny importation of food from any foreign government or foreign manufacturer, importer, distributor, or retailer that does not consent to an investigation by the Administration, the Food and Drug Administration, the Secretary, or its agents; and

(C) promulgate rules and regulations to carry out the purposes of this section, including setting terms and conditions for the destruction of products that fail to meet the standards set forth in this Act.

(e) Detention and Seizure.—Any food imported for consumption in the United States may be detained, seized, or condemned pursuant to section 418.

(f) SEC. 2. ENSURING EFFICIENT AND EFFECTIVE COMMUNICATIONS DURING A RECALL.—The Secretary shall, during an ongoing recall of human or pet food—

(1) work with companies, relevant professional associations, and other organizations to collect and aggregate information pertaining to the recall; and (2) use existing networks of communication including electronic forms of information dissemination to enhance the quality and speed of communication with the public; and (3) post information regarding recalled products on the Internet websites of the Food and Drug Administration in a consolidated, searchable form that is easily accessed and understood by the public.

SEC. 4. INCREASING THE SAFETY OF PET FOOD.

(a) PROCESSING AND INGREDIENT STANDARDS.—Not later than 18 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall— (1) processing and ingredient standards with respect to feed, pet food, animal waste, and ingredient definitions; and (2) updated standards for the labeling of pet food and ingredient information.

(b) EARLY WARNING SURVEILLANCE SYSTEMS AND NOTIFICATION DURING PET FOOD RECALLS.— (1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall by regulation establish an early warning and surveillance system to identify contaminations of the pet food supply and outbreaks of illness from pet food. In establishing such system, the Secretary shall— (A) use surveillance and monitoring mechanisms similar to, or in coordination with, those mechanisms used by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (FoodNet) and PulseNet; and (B) consult with relevant professional associations, including veterinary medical associations, animal health organizations, and pet food manufacturers, shall by regulation establish— (1) processing and ingredient standards with respect to feed, pet food, animal waste, and ingredient definitions; and (2) updated standards for the labeling of pet food and ingredient information.

(c) SUBMITTED RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. DODD submitted the following concurrent resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations:

S. CON. RES. 30
Resolved by the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring), That Congress finds— (1) the safety and integrity of the United States food supply is vital to the public health, to public confidence in the food supply, and to the success of the food sector of the Nation’s economy; (2) illnesses and deaths of individuals and companion pets caused by contaminated food— (A) have contributed to a loss of public confidence in food safety; and (B) have caused significant economic losses to manufacturers and producers not responsible for contaminated food items; (3) the task of preserving the safety of the food supply of the United States faces tremendous pressure with regard to— (A) emerging pathogens and other contaminants and the ability to detect all forms of contamination; and (B) inadequate and unreliable volume of imported food, without adequate monitoring and inspection; (4) the United States is increasing the amount of food that it imports such that— (A) free trade agreements, the value of food imports has increased from $45,600,000,000 to $64,000,000,000; and (B) imported food accounts for 13 percent of the average Americans diet including 31 percent of fruits, juices, and nuts, 9.5 percent of red meat and 78.6 percent of fish and shellfish; and (5) the number of full time equivalent Food and Drug Administration employees conducting inspections has decreased from 2003 to 2007; and (6) because of the increasing volume of international trade in food products the Secretary of Health and Human Services should make it a priority to enter into agreements, including memoranda of understanding, with the trading partners of the United States with respect to food safety.

SEC. 5. SENSE OF THE SENATE.

(a) SENSE OF THE SENATE.—Congress finds that— (1) the safety and integrity of the United States food supply is vital to the public health, to public confidence in the food supply, and to the success of the food sector of the Nation’s economy; (2) illnesses and deaths of individuals and companion pets caused by contaminated food— (A) have contributed to a loss of public confidence in food safety; and (B) have caused significant economic losses to manufacturers and producers not responsible for contaminated food items; (3) the task of preserving the safety of the food supply of the United States faces tremendous pressure with regard to— (A) emerging pathogens and other contaminants and the ability to detect all forms of contamination; and (B) inadequate and unreliable volume of imported food, without adequate monitoring and inspection; (4) the United States is increasing the amount of food that it imports such that— (A) free trade agreements, the value of food imports has increased from $45,600,000,000 to $64,000,000,000; and (B) imported food accounts for 13 percent of the average Americans diet including 31 percent of fruits, juices, and nuts, 9.5 percent of red meat and 78.6 percent of fish and shellfish; and (5) the number of full time equivalent Food and Drug Administration employees conducting inspections has decreased from 2003 to 2007; and (b) SENSE OF THE SENATE.—It is the sense of the Senate that— (1) it is vital for Congress to provide the Food and Drug Administration with additional resources, authorities, and direction with respect to ensuring the safety of the food supply of the United States; and (2) additional Food and Drug Administration inspectors are required if we are to improve Food and Drug Administration’s ability to safeguard the food supply of the United States; and (3) because of the increasing volume of international trade in food products the Secretary of Health and Human Services should make it a priority to enter into agreements, including memoranda of understanding, with the trading partners of the United States with respect to food safety.
