through the dedication of its employees, UPS has reached the pinnacle of its industry and has set the standard by which its competitors must follow. I am proud to say that since opening their first facility in Newark, NJ, in 1907, UPS has been a substantial presence in my home State of New Jersey. It employs more than 18,000 people statewide, making it one of the 10 largest employers in our State. I recently had the privilege and opportunity to visit a UPS hub in Edison to help commemorate the 100th anniversary of the Edison facility. 3,000 dedicated employees process and sort packages originating from and destined for points all over our State. Individuals and businesses across New Jersey rely on their efforts every day, and the intricate and sophisticated processes used by these employees ensure that important packages and documents are delivered on time.

I encourage my colleagues to join me in congratulating UPS on 100 years in business. I personally extend my best wishes to the company and its employees in New Jersey and across the world for many more years of success and prosperity.

TRIBUTE TO WALTER M. “WALLY” SCHIRRA

Mr. MARTINEZ. Mr. President. I want to commend a great American, Astronaut Walter M. “Wally” Schirra, who passed away today. Captain Schirra leaves behind a praiseworthy legacy as a Navy veteran, a pioneer for NASA and of outer-space exploration, a television commentator, and a devoted husband and father.

Captain Schirra began his distinguished career in the U.S. Navy when he arrived in Annapolis in the early days of World War II; he graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1945 and soon became a pilot through Naval Flight Training in Pensacola, FL. Through an exchange program with the Air Force during the Korean war, he proudly served our Nation as a pilot of F-86 Sabres.

He carried this dedicated service to America into the stratosphere and beyond, making history as one of the “Original Seven” astronauts named by NASA to the Mercury program. On October 3, 1962, Captain Schirra became the first American astronaut to orbit the Earth 6 times. He is unique in that he is the only astronaut to have flown in NASA’s first 3 space programs: Mercury, Gemini, and Apollo. After retiring from NASA, he later served with distinction as a widely known television commentator and a devoted husband and father.

The passion that Wally Schirra had for space exploration and his accomplishments as a pioneer astronaut underscore the importance of our continuing to strengthen the NASA space program. The Apollo 7 mission—under the command of Schirra—proved to those at NASA that they had the ability to send a spacecraft into orbit around the moon. Since then, NASA has taken many giant leaps. We must continue the exploration, research, and discovery that have all constituted NASA’s trademark for decades.

Exploration into outer space helps us to better understand the world in which we live. NASA understood this well when they sent Captain Wally Schirra into outer space nearly 45 years ago; I am hopeful that this vision and reach will only continue to grow with time.

On behalf of Florida and the people of the United States, I thank Captain Schirra for his service to country and the science he helped to advance. He will be missed.

HONORING MAINELY TRUSSES

Ms. SNOWE. Mr. President, I wish today to recognize, for the week of April 29, an ex-ceil-benefit entrepreneur from my home State who has been awarded the Maine 2007 Small Business Person of the Year, Michael Boulet. Mike is truly one of our Nation’s shining small business heroes. His company—Mainely Trusses—exemplifies the heart and soul of the American dream becoming reality.

Last March, I had the privilege to witness first hand the products and services that Mike’s company provides when he was awarded an intermediary relending program loan from Kennebec Valley Council of Governments.

Mike’s investment in his company through the Small Business Administrations’ Maine Small Business Development Center and Costal Enterprises, Inc., has paid tremendous dividends for the future of Mainely Trusses—with a state-of-the-art facility, new technologies, a dedication to customer service, and an outstanding employee base. In fact, Mainely Trusses is so advanced that they use all laser beams to construct the trusses which is completely driven by computer software and highly skilled technicians.

Since Mike has been president, Mainely Trusses has shown no signs of slowing down, growing from 3 to 50 employees over the last 15 years—a tremendous achievement for any business. Think about it—that is a 1,600-percent increase. Just imagine if we had that kind of explosive progress in the U.S. Congress, then we would really be onto something.

And that is all the more remarkable is Mike’s courage to take on the family business after his father, John Boulet, passed away in a work-related accident. But Mike doesn’t just reserve his considerable talents and energy for his business—he also exhibits those traits within the community whether serving as a member of the Maine Merchants Association Workers Compensation Trust Fund Board of Trustees, chairing the Maine Central Youth Hockey Association’s Habitabilit, chairing the Maine Toys for Tots, and being named Maine Citizen of the Year by the报纸 of whom he is a member.

I am proud to say that since opening the Edison facility, 3,000 dedicated employees in New Jersey and across the world are delivering on-time and reach will only continue to grow with time.

That is why I appreciate SBA’s commitment to providing our Nation’s small businesses, as they have helped Mike, with the financial and business development tools to help them grow and excel. With more than 5.3 million jobs created or retained since 1999, this is proof-positive that our investment in the SBA is paying tremendous dividends to the Nation’s economy.

I would like to congratulate Mike and all his business partners in Maine on the Maine Small Business Development Center and Costal Enterprises, Inc., for their outstanding work in helping Maine’s small businesses grow and succeed.

Mr. VOINOVICH. Mr. President, today I honor the musical genius of fellow Ohioan Vincenzo Antonio Manno, a renowned opera singer and devoted professor of music.

Mr. Manno was born and raised in my great hometown of Cleveland, OH. In fact, he grew up right down the street from my family in the Collinwood neighborhood—the same neighborhood I live in still today. But his musical gift eventually took him far beyond Collinwood to some of the finest music institutions in Europe.

Cleveland’s rich cultural environment and outstanding music tradition prepared Mr. Manno for his world-renowned career. Before completing his studies at Oberlin College under the tutelage of Professor Richard Mill, Mr. Manno was trained at the Cleveland Music School Settlement under Burton Garlinghouse and John Shurtleff; at summer sessions in Chautauqua, NY, under Josephine Antoine; and at the Cleveland Institute of Music under Ettore Campogalliani. His private studies in opera were completed with Eleonor Steber.

After Dr. Mueller’s death, Mr. Manno was accepted into the prestigious private singing school directed by Professor Dennis Hall in Bern, Switzerland. As a result of his studies with Professor Hall, Mr. Manno was encouraged to open a voice studio in Milan, which has become a mecca for singers from around the world.

Mr. Manno’s singing career embraces a wide repertoire—from the baroque to the modern—and he has sung with opera houses around the world. His radio performances within Europe have been admired by the public and critics alike. And, he is currently a permanent member of the Teatro alla Scala in Milan, Italy.

Not all accomplished musicians make good teachers, but Mr. Manno’s teaching career has taken great strides in the past 10 years. He has been recognized for teaching and helping emerging singers on many continents. He also holds seminars and master classes on singing style.

Mr. Manno is regularly invited to teach singing technique at the world-renowned Accademia dei Giovani Cantanti—I-Academy of Young Singers—under the artistic direction of Leyla Gencer, affiliated with the Teatro alla Scala and the Accademia Internazionale della Musica—International Music Academy—in Milan. The students of Vincenzo Manno can be heard regularly around the world in opera houses, recording studios, concert halls, and radio and television stations.

Mr. Manno also lends his expertise in pop music, Broadway, and operetta. He has guided many Italian pop singers through recording sessions and is regularly contacted by Italian television to help arrange songs for singers and give advice on new compositions.

For all he has accomplished, Mr. Manno has received several awards. He received the “Grand Prix du Disque” for baroque music recorded with the great Swiss conductor Edwin Loerher, and the “Year in Review” from Gramophone Magazine for his second CD solo recording of tenor music of the 17th century, “Strana Armonia d’Amore” with Roberto Gini.

Mr. President, on the 40th anniversary of his career, it is my pleasure to honor Vincenzo Antonio Manno for his great success and significant contributions to the world of music.
