“(5) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, for the purpose of enforcing a restitution order, a United States Attorney may receive, without the need for a court order, any financial information concerning the defendant obtained by the grand jury that indicted the defendant for the crime for which restitution has been awarded, the United States Probation Office, or the Bureau of Prisons. A victim may also provide financial information concerning the defendant to the United States Attorney.

“(6)(A) At sentencing, or at any time prior to the termination of a restitution obligation under section 3613 of this title, the court may—

“(i) impose special payment directions upon the defendant or modify such directions; or

“(ii) direct the defendant to make a single, lump sum payment, partial payments at specified intervals, in-kind payments, or a combination of payments at specified intervals and in-kind payments.

“(B) The period of time over which scheduled payments are established for purposes of this paragraph shall be the shortest time in which full payment reasonably can be made.

“(C) In-kind payments may be in the form of the return of property, replacement of property, or, if the victim agrees, services rendered to the victim or a person or organization other than the victim.

“(D) In ordering restitution, the court may direct the defendant to—

“(i) repatriate any property that constitutes proceeds of the offense of conviction, or property traceable to such proceeds; and

“(ii) surrender to the United States, or to the victim named in the restitution order, any interest of the defendant in any nonexempt asset.

“(E) The court may enter a restraining order or injunction, require the execution of a satisfactory performance bond, or take any other action to preserve the availability of property for restitution.

“(7)(A) In determining whether to impose or modify specific payment directions, the court may consider—

“(i) the need to provide restitution to the victims of the offense;

“(ii) the financial ability of the defendant;

“(iii) the economic circumstances of the defendant, including the financial resources and other assets of the defendant and whether any of those assets are jointly controlled;

“(iv) the projected earnings and other income of the defendant;

“(v) any financial obligations of the defendant, including obligations to dependents;

“(vi) whether the defendant has concealed or dissipated assets or income; and

“(vii) any other appropriate circumstances.

“(B) Any substantial resources from any source, including inheritance, settlement, or other judgment, shall be applied to any outstanding restitution obligation.

“(8)(A) If the court finds that the economic circumstances of the defendant do not allow the payment of any substantial amount as restitution, the court may direct the defendant to make nominal payments of not less than $100 per year toward the restitution obligation.

“(B) Any money received from the defendant under subparagraph (A) shall be disbursed so that any outstanding assessment imposed under section 3013 is paid first in full.

“(9) Court-imposed special payment directions shall not limit the ability of the Attorney General to maintain an Inmate Financial Responsibility Program that encourages sentenced inmates to meet their legitimate financial obligations.

“(10)(A) The ability of the Attorney General to enforce restitution obligations ordered under paragraph (2) shall not be limited by appeal, or the possibility of a correction, modification, amendment, adjustment, or reimposition of a sentence, unless the court expressly so orders for good cause shown and stated on the record.

“(B) Absent exceptional circumstances, as determined by the court, an order limiting the enforcement of restitution obligations shall—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The ability of the Attorney General to enforce the fines and assessment ordered under paragraph (1) shall not be limited by an appeal, or the possibility of a correction, modification, amendment, adjustment, or reimposition of a sentence, unless the court expressly so orders, for good cause shown and stated on the record.

Subtitle B—Preservation of Assets for Restitution

SEC. 741. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the “Preservation of Assets for Restitution Act of 2007”.

SEC. 742. AMENDMENTS TO THE MANDATORY VICTIMS RESTITUTION ACT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 232 of title 18, United States Code, is amended by inserting after section 3664 the following:

“§ 3664A. Preservation of assets for restitution

“(a) PROTECTIVE ORDERS TO PRESERVE ASSETS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Upon the Government’s ex parte application and a finding of probable cause to believe that a defendant, if convicted, will be ordered to satisfy an order of restitution for an offense punishable by imprisonment for more than 1 year, the court—

“(A) shall—

“(i) enter a restraining order or injunction;

“(ii) require the execution of a satisfactory performance bond; or

“(iii) take any other action necessary to preserve the availability of any property traceable to the commission of the offense charged; and

“(B) if it determines that it is in the interests of justice to do so, shall issue any order necessary to preserve any nonexempt asset (as defined in section 3613) of the defendant that may be used to satisfy such restitution order.

“(2) PROCEDURES.—Applications and orders issued under paragraph (1) shall be governed by the procedures under section 413(e) of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 853(e)) and in this section.

“(3) MONETARY INSTRUMENTS.—If the property in question is a monetary instrument (as defined in section 1956(c)(5)) or funds in electronic form, the protective order issued under paragraph (1) may take the form of a warrant authorizing the Government to seize the property and to deposit it into an interest-bearing account in the Registry of the Court in the district in which the warrant was issued, or into another such account maintained by a substitute property custodian, as the court may direct.

“(4) POST-INDICTMENT.—A post-indictment protective order entered under paragraph (1) shall remain in effect through the conclusion of the criminal case, including sentencing and any post-sentencing proceedings, until seizure or other disposition of the subject property, unless modified by the court upon a motion by the Government or under subsection (b) or (c).

“(b) DEFENDANT’S RIGHT TO A HEARING.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—In the case of a preindictment protective order entered under subsection (a)(1), the defendant’s right to a post-restraint hearing shall be governed by paragraphs (1)(B) and (2) of section 413(e) of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 853(e)).

“(2) POST-INDICTMENT.—In the case of a post-indictment protective order entered under subsection (a)(1), the defendant shall have a right to a post-restraint hearing regarding the continuation or modification of the order if the defendant—

“(A) establishes by a preponderance of the evidence that there are no assets, other than the restrained property, available to the defendant to retain counsel in the criminal case or to provide for a reasonable living allowance for the necessary expenses of the defendant and the defendant’s lawful dependents; and

“(B) makes a prima facie showing that there is bona fide reason to believe that the court’s ex parte finding of probable cause under subsection (a)(1) was in error.

“(3) HEARING.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—If the court determines that the defendant has satisfied the requirements of paragraph (2), it may hold a hearing to determine whether there is probable cause to believe that the defendant, if convicted, will be ordered to satisfy an order of restitution for an offense punishable by imprisonment for more than 1 year, and that the seized or restrained property may be needed to satisfy such restitution order.

“(B) PROBABLE CAUSE.—If the court finds probable cause under subparagraph (A), the protective order shall remain in effect.

“(C) NO PROBABLE CAUSE.—If the court finds under subparagraph (A) that no probable cause exists as to some or all of the property, or determines that more property has been seized and restrained than may be needed to satisfy a restitution order, it shall modify the protective order to the extent necessary to release the property that should not have been restrained.

“(4) REBUTTAL.—If the court conducts an independent hearing under paragraph (3), the court shall afford the Government an opportunity to present rebuttal evidence and to cross-examine any witness that the defendant may present.

“(5) PRETRIAL HEARING.—In any pretrial hearing on a protective order issued under subsection (a)(1), the court may not entertain challenges to the grand jury’s finding of probable cause regarding the criminal offense giving rise to a potential restitution order. The court shall ensure that such hearings are not used to obtain disclosure of evidence or the identities of witnesses earlier than required by the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure or other applicable law.

“(c) THIRD PARTY’S RIGHT TO POST-RESTRAINT HEARING.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—A person other than the defendant who has a legal interest in property affected by a protective order issued under subsection (a)(1) may move to modify the order on the grounds that—

“(A) the order causes an immediate and irreparable hardship to the moving party; and

“(B) less intrusive means exist to preserve the property for the purpose of restitution.

“(2) MODIFICATION.—If, after considering any rebuttal evidence offered by the Government, the court determines that the moving party has made the showings required under paragraph (1), the court shall modify the order to mitigate the hardship, to the extent that it is possible to do so while preserving the asset for restitution.

“(3) INTERVENTION.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subparagraph (B) or paragraph (1), a person other than a defendant has no right to intervene in the criminal case to object to the entry of any order issued under this section or otherwise to object to an order directing a defendant to pay restitution.

“(B) EXCEPTION.—If, at the conclusion of the criminal case, the court orders the defendant to use particular assets to satisfy an order of restitution (including assets that have been seized or restrained pursuant to this section) the court shall give persons other than the defendant the opportunity to object to the order on the ground that the property belonged in whole or in part to the third party and not to the defendant, as provided in section 413(n) of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 853(n)).

“(d) GEOGRAPHIC SCOPE OF ORDER.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—A district court of the United States shall have jurisdiction to enter an order under this section without regard to the location of the property subject to the order.

“(2) OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES.—If the property subject to an order issued under this section is located outside of the United States, the order may be transmitted to the central authority of any foreign state for service in accordance with any treaty or other international agreement.

“(e) NO EFFECT ON OTHER GOVERNMENT ACTION.—Nothing in this section shall be construed to preclude the Government from seeking the seizure, restraint, or forfeiture of assets under the asset forfeiture laws of the United States.

“(f) LIMITATION ON RIGHTS CONFERRED.—Nothing in this section shall be construed to create any enforceable right to have the Government seek the seizure or restraint of property for restitution.

“(g) RECEIVERS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—A court issuing an order under this section may appoint a receiver under section 1956(b)(4) to collect, marshal, and take custody, control, and possession of all assets of the defendant, wherever located, that have been restrained in accordance with this section.

“(2) DISTRIBUTION OF PROPERTY.—The receiver shall have the power to distribute property in its control to each victim identified in an order of restitution at such time, and in such manner, as the court may authorize.”

NATIONAL CHARACTER COUNTS WEEK

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate now proceed to the consideration of S. Res. 351, which was submitted earlier today.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The clerk will report the resolution by title.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A resolution (S. Res. 351) designating the week beginning October 21, 2007, as “National Character Counts Week.”

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the resolution.

(At the request of Mr. REID, the following statement was ordered to be printed in the RECORD.)

• Mr. DODD. Mr. President, today Senator DOMENICI and I submitted a resolution designating next week, the week of October 21–27, 2007 as “National Character Counts Week.” I have worked for many years on the issue of character education and hope that by designating a special week to this important cause, students and teachers will come together to participate in character building activities in their schools this week and throughout the year.

Senator DOMENICI and I first established the Partnerships in Character Education Pilot Project in 1994 and since then we have worked together regularly to commemorate National Character Counts Week. Character education is about celebrating what’s right with young people while enabling them to develop the knowledge and life skills necessary in order to embrace ethical and responsible behavior. I am pleased that we are continuing our efforts today to help expand the ability of States and schools to make character education a central part of every child’s education.

While English, math and science provide the figurative bricks of schools, character education provides the mortar. Trustworthiness, respect, responsibility, fairness, caring, and citizenship are the six pillars of character. The standards of conduct that arise out of those values constitute the foundation of ethics, and therefore, of ethical decisionmaking. Character education provides students a context within which to learn. If we view education simply as the imparting of knowledge to our children, then we will not only miss an opportunity, but we will also jeopardize our future.

Currently, there are character education programs across all 50 States in rural, urban and suburban areas at every grade level. I hope that in celebrating National Character Counts Week, that more schools in every State adopt similar programs.

Character education programs work. Schools across the country that have adopted strong character education programs report better student performance, fewer discipline problems, and increased student involvement within their communities. Children want direction; they want to be taught right from wrong. Young people yearn for consistent adult involvement, and when they get it, according to surveys, they are less inclined to use illegal drugs, vandalize property or commit suicide. The American public wants character education in our schools, too. Studies show that approximately 90 percent of Americans support schools teaching character education.

Character education can and is being incorporated into children’s lives in and outside of the classroom. It provides a helping hand to our schools and communities to ensure our children’s futures are bright and filled with opportunities for success. Character education not only cultivates minds, it nurtures hearts. While our children may only represent one-quarter of our population, they are 100 percent of our future.

I submit that character transcends religious, cultural, political, and socioeconomic barriers. I believe our country is having a renewed focus on character and this resolution sends a wonderful message to Americans and will help those of us involved in character education reinvigorate our efforts to get more communities and schools involved. So today, Senator DOMENICI and I submitted a resolution to accomplish just that and hopefully our renewed effort will bring together even more communities to ensure that character education is a part of every child’s life. I hope that my colleagues will join us in this important effort.●

Mr. DOMENICI. Mr. President, today my good friend Senator DODD and I submitted a resolution designating the week of October 21 as the 2007 National Character Counts Week.

Our character is the foundation of who we are as people and how we are perceived by the world. Every day our character and ethics are tested through the decisions we make and the behavior we exhibit. The National Character Counts program focuses on “Six Pillars of Character” which are promoted through school and community based character education programs across the country. The six pillars are: trustworthiness, respect, responsibility, fairness, caring, and citizenship.

I have supported Character Counts throughout the years because I believe this program reaches out to all youth and adults, as the Character Counts Coalition states, no matter the individual’s race, creed, politics, gender, and wealth. In my home state of New Mexico, we have run many successful Character Counts programs throughout the
