IN HONOR OF SIXTY-THREE YEARS
OF EDUCATIONAL EXCELLENCE
AT TORAH ACADEMY OF MIN-NEAPOLIS

HON. MICHELE BACHMANN

OF MINNESOTA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, March 6, 2008

Mrs. BACHMANN. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the teachers, parents, and community of the Torah Academy in St. Louis Park, Minnesota. This weekend, at its annual banquet celebration, the Torah Academy will celebrate 63 years of educational excellence and service to children from pre-school through the eighth grade.

Founded in 1945, the Torah Academy provides a well-rounded and highly regarded education in the basics of reading, writing, and arithmetic, as well as Judaic studies. The teachers and staff there are committed to providing a nurturing environment and to instilling in students a lifelong love of learning.

Torah Academy depends upon the dedicated service of so many fine individual volunteers and corporate citizens to ensure that it meets its mission of educational excellence. At their banquet this weekend, the community will honor two in particular: Rabbi Joshua Borenstein, the Academy's outstanding Executive Director, and King Solutions, Inc.

King, founded by Meyer Bolnick and Mike Patterson, will be honored as the Business of Distinction as “a business built on strong values, and a role model of responsibility and commitment to the community.” Community service is an integral part of the work that King does in the Twin Cities area.

In addition to Rabbi Borenstein, who has served the Torah Academy community for a full decade, the Academy depends on many fine staff, including Rabbi Binyomin Ginsberg, Dean, and Mrs. Ginger Vance, Principal. I join the Minneapolis-area community this weekend in commending these outstanding educators and active citizens for their commitment to the core values and mission of Torah Academy.

HONORING THE LIFE AND WORK OF ADRIENNE SWENSON

HON. LYNN C. WOOLSEY

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, March 6, 2008

Ms. WOOLSEY. Madam Speaker, it is with great sadness that I rise today to recognize the passing of a good friend, who was one of Sonoma County's notable environmental activists and a conscience for social justice, Adrienne Swenson. Adrienne was 81 when she died in January of pulmonary disease. Adrienne touched the lives of thousands through her successful environmental conservation efforts, her commitment to social justice, and her work for the Democratic Party.

I knew Adrienne through all of these arenas and agree with her friends and colleagues, who are universal in their praise.

“She was a remarkable woman. She was a person committed to the idea that society could be improved,” said David Thatcher, who along with others, helped Adrienne found the Peace and Justice Center of Sonoma County. “She was a tower of strength in so many ways.”

But what was so remarkable about Adrienne was that in all her interests she always had a wider context in mind. Her work with the local United Nations community, her commitment to the peace process, her participation on the county planning commission—she integrated them all in the interest of trying to make a better society.

Born in San Francisco, Adrienne spent her life in California, except for 2 years in Spain when she and her husband, Len, and their three children lived what she once called “the good life,” traveling about Europe, studying art and learning Spanish.

A trip to Yosemite later introduced her to what became her favorite activities—family camping, backpacking, and birding. This led to her lifelong devotion to environmental issues, which interest she shared with her husband, a longtime Sierra Club leader.

Later, Adrienne served on the Manhattan Beach City Council while living in southern California, and on the Sonoma County Planning Commission after moving back to northern California. “She really set a standard,” said Bill Kortum, a member of the board of supervisors, which appointed her. “She was always very well informed.”

Politically, Adrienne was active in the Santa Rosa Democratic Club and served on the Democratic Central Committee for nearly 20 years.

But where Adrienne really left her legacy was the Peace and Justice Center of Sonoma County.

“She had an incredible sense of justice in the face of overwhelming injustice,” says Elizabeth Stinson, the center's director. “She worked tirelessly for more than 30 years in every capacity you can think of.”

She was vehemently anti-war and opposed the occupation of Iraq. Standing on the corner at Mendocino and College avenues almost every week with a group of women, all dressed in black, she protested until she could no longer stand.

Madam Speaker, Adrienne Swenson would want us to carry on her work here in Congress, to be inspired by her tenacity and willingness to confront difficult subjects, knowing the world is better for her contributions to it.

IN SUPPORT OF THE GOALS OF A NATIONAL SIBLINGS DAY

HON. CAROLYN B. MALONEY

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, March 6, 2008

Mrs. MALONEY of New York. Madam Speaker, I rise today to show my support for the goals of a National Siblings Day for all Americans, a day to honor our sisters and brothers for the many ways in which they enrich our lives. This occasion would give us the opportunity to show appreciation for our siblings, much the same way that Mother's Day and Father's Day are celebrated, and completes the celebration of the whole family. One of my Manhattan constituents, Claudia Evert, has worked tirelessly to encourage everyone to honor their siblings on April 10th each year.

April 10th marks the birthday of Claudia's sister Lisette, who died tragically in 1972 at age 19 in a car accident that also killed their father. An additional tragedy struck in 1987, when Ms. Evert's older brother, Alan, died in an accident in his home. He was 36 years old.

Siblings make an important contribution to who we are. Often, when our parents are gone, our siblings are our only remaining family. And, sometimes, as in the case of my constituent Claudia Evert, Siblings Day will help us remember siblings whom we have lost at an early age.

I applaud these past 12 years of hard work by Claudia Evert who has created a loving tribute to her deceased siblings with her work to establish a National Siblings Day. Her inspired work should serve as a lesson to us all. Since 1998, 31 governors have issued gubernatorial proclamations in their states for Siblings Day: AL, AR, AZ, CO, CT, FL, IL, IA, KS, KY, LA, ME, MD, MA, MI, MS, MO, NE, NH, NJ, NM, NY, PA, RI, SC, VT, VA, WV, WA, WI and WY. Therefore, I now call on the Congress to recognize the importance of contributions of all family members, including our siblings, by supporting the goals of a National Siblings Day for all Americans.

PAUL WELLSTONE MENTAL HEALTH AND ADDICTION EQUITY
ACT OF 2007

SPEECH OF

HON. MARCY KAPTUR

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 5, 2008

Ms. KAPTUR. Mr. Speaker, I am delighted that yesterday Congress was able to pass the long overdue Paul Wellstone Mental Health and Addiction Equity Act, finally vowing to end the discrepancy of health care and treatment available to patients with mental illness and addiction disorders. I commend Mr. KENNEDY and Mr. RAMSTAD for their steadfast and courageous efforts to bring this bill, and even more so, this issue, to the forefront of this Congress. This bill seeks to establish parity in coverage between mental health care and other forms of health care, ensuring greater access to treatment.
