

Now, is our government going to adopt the English system and determine who lives and who dies? It doesn't sound like a healthy health care plan to me.

And that's just the way it is.

PASS THE COOPER-WOLF SAFE COMMISSION BILL TO SAVE AMERICA'S FUTURE ECONOMY

(Mr. WOLF asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WOLF. Mr. Speaker, our economic house is crumbling. We are being bought piece by piece by China and Saudi Arabia. We owe these and other countries billions. And in a few years, because of this crushing debt and our huge mandated entitlement programs, we will have no money for research to find cures for cancer, Alzheimer's disease, autism, or other diseases. No money for science advances or for education. This Congress cannot abandon the American people and leave our children and grandchildren to shoulder these awful burdens.

There is a way to solve this dilemma. We can pass the bipartisan Cooper-Wolf SAFE Commission bill to save America's future economy.

This Congress, this Congress that we serve in now, is failing, is failing the American people.

ENERGY INDEPENDENCE AND FOSSIL FUELS

(Mr. YOUNG of Alaska asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, the week before last we passed the crap-and-trade bill, which is a terrible bill. It's a tax.

Then we celebrated Independence Day. And the week before Independence Day, we became more dependent on foreign countries for our fossil fuels.

We have fossil fuels in the United States, and we need them. Next year we're going to spend $552 billion buying oil from overseas.

I think it's time that this Congress accepts the fact that we have to have fossil fuels for the bridge to the future in order to have the ability to provide power for this country. Let's do the right thing for this Nation.

HEALTH CARE

(Ms. FOXX asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. FOXX. Mr. Speaker, Democrats in Washington are pushing hard for a government takeover of health care. The result will be devastating for patients across the country.

In countries that already have government-run health care, like Britain and Canada, bureaucrats are put in charge of intimate health care decisions and critical care is denied.

Look at the story of one woman from Great Britain, Sarah Anderson. Her father suffers from a kidney tumor that could be treated by a drug approved throughout most of Europe. But, sadly, Britain's National Health Service is denying Sarah's father this lifesaving treatment.

This case is not unique as patients across Great Britain are denied the care they need by the government's health care service. In much of Canada, patients are even banned from paying for private health care.

The Democrats' health care reform would be a bad prescription for the American people.

Republicans have a better health care reform that provides high-quality health care coverage to every American and that doesn't put bureaucrats between patients and the care they need.
