No. 177

Senate

The Senate met at 9:30 a.m. and was called to order by the Honorable TOM UDALL, a Senator from the State of New Mexico.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Dr. Barry C. Black, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Eternal God, thank You for the gift of this day. Help us to use it for Your glory. Guide our lawmakers to labor with diligence for the good of our Nation. Deliver them from bitterness, frustration, and futility as they lift their eyes to You, their ever-present help for life's difficulties. Lord, save them from the futile repetition of old errors and the restoration of old evils. May they live such exemplary lives that people who see their good works will glorify You. Use the Members of this body to increase opportunities for more abundant life to people everywhere. Help our lawmakers to be aware of Your nearness and to recognize Your voice as You lead them to Your desired destination. We pray in Your sacred Name. Amen.

The Honorable TOM UDALL led the Pledge of Allegiance, as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

SCHEDULE

Mr. REID. Mr. President, following leader remarks, the Senate will resume consideration of the health care reform legislation. It will be for debate only until 11:30 a.m., with alternating blocks of time. The first 30 minutes will be under the control of the Republicans; the majority will control the next 30 minutes.

The Senate will recess from 11:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. today. Following the recess, the Senate will resume consideration of the health care legislation. I am hopeful we can have some votes this afternoon. We have been unable to work that out with the minority and so we will see what the afternoon brings.

HEALTH CARE REFORM

Mr. REID. Mr. President, this historic health care reform bill before us is strong, and it is a strong head start in the right direction toward urgently needed change. But similar to nearly every bill to come before the Senate, it stands to benefit from the constructive input of all Senators. This good bill will be even better when this body debates it, refines it, and improves it.

I am pleased we have begun the amendment process. I hope we will soon be able to begin voting on those amendments—the ones drafted and sponsored by both Republicans and Democrats. But as we delve into the details and give the individual parts of this bill the considerable thought and attention they deserve, let's not forget the big picture.

So as we begin the third day of debate on this bill, let's remember what it does: First, we are making it more affordable for every American to live a healthy life. Second, we are doing it in a way that is fiscally responsible and in a way that will help our economy recover.

This bill does not add a dime to the deficit—quite the opposite. In fact, we will cut it by $130 billion in the first 10 years and as much as $¾ trillion in the next 10 years. We do this by keeping costs down. This critical piece of legislation will cost less than $85 billion a year over the next decade—well under President Obama's goal. It will make sure every American can afford quality health care. We will make sure that more than 30 million Americans who don't have health care today will soon have it. It will not only protect Medicare, but it will make it stronger. In short, this legislation saves lives, saves money, and saves Medicare.

The Congressional Budget Office and respected economists outside Washington have studied it, and they agree. The bill will do what we set out to do at the beginning of this Congress: It will lower costs and increase value so all Americans can afford quality health care, not just a few.

The experts have crunched the numbers, and they have come back with positive reviews. It will help parents afford to take care of their children and help bosses provide coverage for their workers. It creates more choices and more competition in the health care market. It will protect everyone against insurance company abuses, and for all the changes, in areas where our health care system does work, it keeps it the way it is.

I am very happy with the way Democratic Senators have stood for these
