

the sacrifices that the men and women of our Armed Forces have made over the past 235 years. Indeed, Memorial Day is a time to reflect on the freedoms and liberties we enjoy because of the heroic deeds of these brave service members. For those who made it back, many seek to continue giving back to the nation they love. Today I wish to recognize one such veteran, Philip Lander, who is the owner of Atlantic Defense Company, a small, service-disabled veteran-owned construction firm in my home State of Maine that provides other veterans with an opportunity to find meaningful employment upon their return. For his efforts, Mr. Lander has been named the Small Business Administration's 2010 Maine Veteran Small Business Champion, a truly prestigious honor that only begins to highlight his incredible work to help America's veterans.

Indeed, Mr. Lander can lay claim to a distinguished record of service to our Nation dating back to 1970, when he enlisted in the U.S. Army during his time at the University of Maine. After 2 years of service, he returned to Maine to complete a degree in agricultural engineering during which time he joined the Air National Guard. Mr. Lander was called up to active duty during several notable conflicts, including Operations Desert Shield and Desert Storm and the Bosnian war in the 1990s, and was recalled to duty after the tragic events of September 11, 2001.

Mr. Lander founded Atlantic Defense Company in 2005, after retiring from the U.S. Air Force the year before. Atlantic Defense immediately got to work upon its inception, renovating the well-known Jordan Pond House in Maine's Acadia National Park, as well as taking on a contract for the New Jersey Air National Guard rebuilding ground support equipment. Shortly after the scandal at Walter Reed Army Medical Center, Atlantic Defense sought to help America's veterans receive the care they are entitled to by assisting in the rehabilitation of the Nation's VA hospital system. The company performed work at several hospitals across New England, including Togus in Maine and Westhaven in Connecticut.

Always seeking to give back to those who have served, Mr. Lander is involved in the Helmets to Hardhats program, which has the goal of helping veterans of the military, Reserves, and Guard transition from active duty to jobs in the construction industry. His company also transports a medical van to remote spots throughout the northwest portion of Maine, to ensure that veterans living in those areas are able to receive care from the Togus VA system. Mr. Lander also seeks to employ veterans in his company, which currently has 15 to 20 year-round employees, as well as through subcontracting opportunities with similar service-disabled veteran-owned firms.

It has been said of the members of our Nation's Armed Forces that some gave all, but all gave some, and clearly, Philip Lander continues to give back even after his longtime career of service to our nation. His generous and selfless efforts to employ fellow veterans and provide them with critical opportunities back home is admirable. I congratulate him on his recognition as the 2010 Maine Veteran Small Business Champion, and wish everyone at Atlantic Defense Company success in future projects.●
