

Witte severely wounded in both of their legs. In the chaos that followed many other police personnel responded boldly providing CPR and other life saving techniques as needed, while securing the crime scene.

Sergeant Kinterknecht, a Montrose native, has been posthumously awarded the Purple Heart and the Medal of Honor by the Montrose Police Department for his valor in the face of great and imminent danger. Sergeant David Kinterknecht had been involved with law enforcement since he was 14, as a member of the Montrose Police Explorers, a local youth group. He was a committed family man who is survived by his wife Kathy and his daughters Andrea and Amanda.

Officer Rodney Ragsdale, who made his way to Montrose from Suburban Denver, was another man who had been deeply involved in law enforcement. Officer Ragsdale was shot in both of his legs, and for his display of bravery he was also awarded the Purple Heart and the Medal of Honor by the Montrose Police Department.

Officer Larry Witte was just 23 at the time of the incident, and only two years out of Western State College in Gunnison. Officer Witte was also severely wounded from gunshot wounds in both of his legs, and for his steadfastness in dire circumstances he was also awarded the Purple Heart and the Medal of Honor. Officer Witte has a lovely wife, Chelsea, and a beautiful young daughter, Julia. He has recovered from his wounds and is back on patrol in Montrose.

Mr. Speaker, it has been an honor to rise in tribute to these three brave men. We should never forget the sacrifices the men and women in law enforcement make every day to insure our safety, and the sacrifices of their families. To Officer Ragsdale and Officer Witte, thank you for your service and gallantry. To the Kinterknecht family, our thoughts and prayers have, and continue to be, with you all. Sergeant Kinterknecht gave his life in service, and he shall not be forgotten.

HONORING CROATIAN PRESIDENT
IVO JOSIPOVIC

HON. ELTON GALLEGLY

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 3, 2011

Mr. GALLEGLY. Mr. Speaker, I would first like to thank Croatian President Ivo Josipović for traveling to the United States and taking part in the Congressional Croatian Caucus kick-off event.

Although President Josipović has been in office for little over a year, his record in promoting an environment of genuine regional dialogue, better mutual understanding, across-the-board cooperation, and a Euro-Atlantic perspective for the whole of South East Europe has been noteworthy.

Since taking office he has pursued the path of regional reconciliation, a policy that has been matched with concrete action. For example, President Josipović expressed regret for all the victims of the tragic events of the 1990s irrespective of their ethnic background, religious identity, or country of origin. He has also pursued open dialogue with all the key partners in the region of South East Europe, but in particular with Serbian and Bosnian and Herzegovinian high officials.

His efforts at promoting the eventual membership of all the countries in the region into the EU and NATO, have been widely recognized. President Josipović's effort in realizing "Europe, whole, free and at peace" is acknowledged and has been highly commended by the Administration and prominent members of Congress, as it complements U.S. efforts in that part of the world.

Croatia's two-year-long record of NATO membership already bears his mark. President Josipović showed strong leadership and responsibility at the December 2010 NATO summit in Lisbon, in regard to Croatian contributions to NATO led peace-keeping missions. Moreover, he has offered his strong support to Allied efforts in Afghanistan, where Croatian troops and experts assist in transitioning this country to stability and security, using its own capabilities, which was clearly expressed on his recent visit to Kabul.

Again, on behalf of the Congressional Croatian Caucus, I would like to welcome President Josipović to the United States and for his role in building a closer friendship between our two nations.

75TH ANNIVERSARY OF ST.
GEORGE ORTHODOX CHURCH

HON. DALE E. KILDEE

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 3, 2011

Mr. KILDEE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the 75th anniversary of St. George Orthodox Church. The parish celebrated this occasion this past weekend with a banquet and brunch.

The parish was organized in 1936 by families that had immigrated from Lebanon, Syria and Palestine. Due to the success of these immigrants the parish thrived and the first church was built in 1938. Many of the original members remain a vibrant part of parish life to this day. The parish relocated to the existing church 40 years ago in 1971. Currently there are 230 families that make their spiritual home at St. George Orthodox Church. Despite the diversity of cultures among the parishioners, the Church members are united in their Orthodox Faith rooted in Apostolic Succession.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the House of Representatives to join me in congratulating Father Joseph Abud, the parishioners, clergy, staff, and friends of St. George Orthodox Church for 75 years of worship, fellowship, and inspiration. May God continue to bless the parish with enthusiasm and spiritual growth for many, many years to come.

VIVIAN FIELD MIDDLE SCHOOL
CELEBRATING 50 YEARS OF EDUCATION

HON. KENNY MARCHANT

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 3, 2011

Mr. MARCHANT. Mr. Speaker, it is with great pride that I rise today to recognize the 50th anniversary of Vivian Field Middle School. As a former student of Carrollton-Farmers Branch ISD, it gives me great satisfaction to recognize Vivian Field Middle School for its five decades of educational excellence.

In 1960, Tom Field, a former county commissioner and staunch supporter of public education, donated 7.5 acres of land to Carrollton-Farmers Branch ISD for a new school. Mr. Field, however, had one requirement of the school district: the new school had to be named after his wife, Vivian. The school district honored his wish and constructed Vivian Field Junior High School.

Vivian Field Junior High School opened in the fall of 1961. The school consisted of the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades. The main building was structured with three wings which were connected by a gymnasium on the southeast side and a cafeteria on the west side. In 1969, to accommodate its growing student body, Vivian Field Junior High School constructed an additional wing, providing a formal entrance and additional classrooms. Since opening, the school has changed its name to Vivian Field Middle School to better reflect the grades and programs.

Today, Vivian Field Middle School has approximately 900 students across three grades. The middle school has been honored by the Texas Education Agency as a "Recognized" school from 2005 to 2010, and has been commended on the State and National level for continually providing an outstanding education for its students.

Mr. Speaker, on behalf of the 24th District of Texas, I ask all my distinguished colleagues to join me in commending the administrators, teachers, and students of Vivian Field Middle School for its five decades of exemplary education in our community.

TRIBUTE TO USMC MASTER
SERGEANT FRANK MASON

HON. DUNCAN HUNTER

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 3, 2011

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. Speaker, every so often, the heroism of America's greatest generation is relived through personal accounts, ceremony and celebration. It was these Americans who lead our nation to victory in Europe and the Pacific during World War II, and then returned home to build an economy and set the gold standard for future generations to not only admire, but to follow.

One of these great Americans, Marine Corps Master Sergeant Frank Mason, is celebrating his 90th birthday, a significant milestone that encompasses a lifetime of service and sacrifice. Frank's story, starting with his childhood and carrying through his career in the Marine Corps, is truly inspiring. And his courage as a prisoner of war following the fall of the Philippines is an example of the same American selflessness and fighting spirit that continues to motivate the men and women of the Marine Corps, and every other American who understands that freedom comes at a cost.

Seeing both an obligation of duty and opportunity in the Marine Corps, Frank enlisted in the Marines in 1937 at 17 years of age. Frank was assigned to the 1st Battalion, 4th Marine Regiment and, after a year in Hawaii, he joined the Battalion in Shanghai, China—Oa part of the world that, outside of books and maps, was unfamiliar to most Americans—until the threat of a Japanese attack forced the evacuation of all American troops on November 28, 1941—days before the bombing of Pearl Harbor. Frank's next stop was the Philippines, where the Marines would soon put up a valiant fight against a determined and relentless Japanese enemy committed to fighting until the last man.

The Philippines was a strategic asset for both the U.S. and the Japanese during World War II. And the Island of Corregidor was the culmination of the Japanese campaign for the Philippines. It was on Corregidor that Frank and others, cornered and outnumbered, endured multiple waves of attacks. They held their ground. The fighting intensified until Japanese tanks went into action and stacked the odds against the Marines on the Island.

Many were wounded, and under fear that Japanese landings would continue overnight, General Jonathan Wainwright made the decision to surrender.

General Wainwright's famous words to President Roosevelt provide a clear window into the conditions facing Marines on Corregidor, saying "There is a limit of human endurance, and that point has long passed." On May 6, 1942, the Corregidor garrison, with two officers sent forward with a white flag, surrendered to the Japanese.

Frank's account of these events aptly reflects the attitude of a Marine rifleman. An attitude, in fact, that reflects the tradition and honor of the Marine Corps to this day. Franks asserts that, "we never surrendered. We were ordered to stop fighting."

Frank was put on a "hell ship" and transported to Japan with other Prisoners of War, where he was starved and nearly worked to death in a nickel and lead mine for over three years. Still, Frank did not lose his spirit or his desire to live. With some incredible fortune and personal resourcefulness, Frank survived. And when most people might say they've done their part and try restoring some normalcy to their lives, Frank made the conscious decision to stay in the Marine Corps. His extraordinary levels of experience, fortitude and resilience, would be needed yet again, this time in Korea.

Less than a decade after the World War II victory parades rolled through America, Frank's next test would come during the Korean War and the historic battle of the Chosin Reservoir—a badge of pride for the Marine Corps, which, once again, faced insurmountable odds against a formidable enemy. Frank showed that the right leadership and experience is invaluable, under even the most difficult and dangerous conditions.

It's impossible to quantify Frank's contribution to the nation, but what's certain is that there are only a few Americans whose experience and sacrifice compare to his. Frank is part of an elite class of Americans who deserve our unending appreciation.

It was Ronald Reagan who famously said, "Some people live an entire lifetime and wonder if they have made a difference in the world. Marines don't have that problem." Mr. Speaker, I believe Frank is an example of the type of Marine President Reagan had in mind. Frank made a difference and we are all thankful for his service.

On the occasion of his 90th birthday, I ask that my colleagues join me in paying tribute to Master Sergeant Frank Mason—a true American hero.
