Ms. BROWN of Florida changed her vote from “aye” to “no.”

So the bill was passed.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I was unavoidably detained and missed rollcall vote Nos. 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, and 800. Had I been present, I would have voted “aye” on rollcall vote Nos. 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799. I would have voted “no” on rollcall vote numbers 792, 793, 800.

IN MEMORY OF REVEREND FRED SHUTTLESWORTH

(Mr. CHABOT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. CHABOT. On October 5, civil rights legend Reverend Fred Shuttlesworth passed away while residing in Birmingham, Alabama. From 1961 to 2007, Reverend Shuttlesworth lived in Cincinnati, and when I first came here in '95, I had the distinct pleasure of representing him here in Congress.

Reverend Fred Shuttlesworth defied death numerous times while fighting against violent segregationists, even surviving the blast from 16 sticks of dynamite that were planted by unknown assassins. So devoted to this cause was he that he pledged to “kill segregation or be killed by it.” From freedom rides and sit-ins to pastor and founder of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, Reverend Shuttlesworth was a tireless and fearless civil rights hero, who not only talked the “talk” but who walked the “walk” in places where few others were willing to go.

The enormity of Reverend Shuttlesworth’s achievements and contributions to American history cannot be overstated. Even Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr. once referred to him as “the most courageous civil rights fighter in the South.” Let us forever remember this great man of faith and the legacy he leaves for America.

God bless you, Reverend Shuttlesworth, and may God bless the Shuttlesworth family.

100TH ANNIVERSARY OF UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI’S HOMECOMING CELEBRATION

(Mr. CARNAHAN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CARNAHAN. This weekend marks the 100th anniversary of the University of Missouri’s homecoming celebration.

In 1911, University of Missouri Athletics Director Chester Brewer invited

Missouri alumni to come home to campus for the football game against the University of Kansas. The game was capped by a parade and spirit rally to celebrate the “coming home” of so many alumni. Thus started the tradition of “homecoming” at the University of Missouri, an event that has served as a model for homecoming celebrations across the country.

Each year, thousands of students and alumni come home to celebrate one of the university’s greatest traditions. Homecoming at Mizzou has gone beyond school pride and football. Through this event, Mizzou has broken the world record for the largest peacetime blood drive on a college campus, and has organized other large community service events. Moreover, the University of Missouri’s homecoming celebration was recently named the best homecoming in the Nation.

My wife, Debra, and I and three generations of my family are fortunate to be alumni of the University of Missouri. As a proud alum, I would like to congratulate the University of Missouri and generations of alumni on this historic milestone of 100 years of coming home to Mizzou.

IN MEMORY OF SYDNIE MAE DURAND

(Mr. LANDRY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. LANDRY. Mr. Speaker, it is with great sadness that I rise today in memory of one of Louisiana’s great public servants, Ms. Sydnie Mae Durand.

As the parish in which I grew up lays her to rest today, it is notable to recognize that she grew up at a time when a woman’s place in the South was culturally in the home. She pioneered her way into a male-dominated oil and gas industry. She constructed and then walked proudly through the door that many women of south Louisiana would soon follow.

During the 37 years she devoted to the oil and gas industry, she found time to serve her community—again, leading women into politics locally by becoming the first woman to preside over the St. Martin Parish Council and then by becoming the first woman to be elected to serve as the District 46 State House representative, where she served for 16 years. Her passion involved health care, where she chaired the House Health and Welfare Committee and served on many other national and State boards that dealt with the health care needs of children.

While she will be missed by all, her work and legacy will continue to have a positive impact on the great State she leaves behind.

CHINESE CURRENCY

(Mr. MURPHY of Connecticut asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. MURPHY of Connecticut. We need to follow the Senate’s lead in
