

safe. This bill will authorize those resources while ensuring full congressional oversight of the intelligence community. I urge my colleagues to vote for the bill.

In closing, Mr. Speaker, I want to again thank Mr. SCHIFF for his congeniality and all of his staff's work and our staff's work on our side.

Mr. Speaker, I urge passage of the bill.

I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Mr. Speaker, as a senior member of the Homeland Security Committee and Ranking member of the Judiciary Committee's Subcommittee on Crime, Terrorism, Homeland Security, and Investigations, I rise in support of H.R. 4127, the "Intelligence Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2016," for several reasons.

With bipartisan legislative changes negotiated and incorporated, H.R. 4127, is an improved and acceptable bill that will provide critical funding for our nation's 16 intelligence agencies.

While this measure is not perfect, H.R. 4127 corrects many of the provisions that were objectionable by providing a more balanced and realistic budget for our Intelligence Community.

The revised Intelligence Authorization Act makes cuts to less effective programs, adds money to underfunded ones, and requires intelligence agencies to keep Congress abreast of their activities to ensure responsible and lawful spending practices.

More specifically, I am pleased that this bill will: provide critical resources for the fight against ISIL; emphasize collection to monitor and ensure compliance with the Iranian nuclear agreement; provide the necessary means to counter threats from nation-state actors, particularly in cyberspace, space and the undersea environment, and furthermore helps to shore up our counter-proliferation and counter-intelligence capabilities; support our overhead architecture through the funding of critical space programs, invests in space protection and resiliency, preserves investments in cutting-edge technologies, and enhances the oversight of contracting and procurement practices; promotes foreign partner capabilities; and enhance human intelligence capabilities and oversight throughout CIA's reorganization process.

H.R. 4127 will provide funding that is 7% above last year's enacted budget level, and only 1% less than President Obama's budget request.

Importantly, this version of the bill corrects the over-reliance on short-term Overseas Contingency Operations (OCO) funding to evade Budget Control Act caps, which proved problematic in the earlier version.

I applaud my colleagues for working together to reach agreement on a fair and balanced budget framework that does not harm our economy or require draconian cuts.

Additionally of concern in the prior measure, to the extent intelligence funds might be used in an effort to shutter the Guantanamo facility, the Guantanamo-related language in the current version will merely subject those funds to restrictions identical to those imposed by the FY 2016 National Defense Authorization Act, recently passed and signed into law by the President.

Lastly, while a provision of H.R. 4127 still curtails the Privacy and Civil Liberties Oversight Board's (PCLOB) ability to access information regarding covert action, it does not alter the PCLOB's broader jurisdiction or mission to provide independent oversight and to ensure that the U.S. appropriately protects privacy and civil liberties in its counter terrorism programs.

With respect to covert actions, the language of H.R. 4127 has been reworded to emphasize that such actions are subject to presidential approval and reporting to Congress pursuant to existing law.

The balance between liberty and security must be respected to preserve our way of life and the values that countless generations have fought to preserve.

This includes taking precautionary measures to ensure that lives are safe from eminent danger and terrorist threats both domestically and abroad.

On balance, Mr. Speaker, H.R. 4127 contains more salutary than objectionable provisions, and for that reason I support this bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. NUNES) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 4127.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

MOMENT OF SILENCE IN RECOGNITION OF THE AFTERMATH OF TERRIBLE ACTS OF VIOLENCE IN COLORADO SPRINGS, COLORADO

(Mr. LAMBORN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. LAMBORN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today with sadness in the aftermath of a terrible act of violence that took the lives of three innocent victims and injured nine others in my hometown of Colorado Springs, Colorado, last Friday.

Among those lives that were tragically lost was Iraq war veteran and father of two, Ke'Arre Stewart; wife and mother of two, Jennifer Markovsky; and University of Colorado-Colorado Springs police officer, husband, father of two and the pastor at Hope Chapel, Garrett Swasey, who bravely rushed to the scene to help save others. Officer Swasey immediately left his own jurisdiction and rushed to the scene when he got word that an officer was down. These three innocent individuals and their families, friends, and loved ones were the victims of senseless violence.

I would like to extend my sincere thanks to the brave first responders and law enforcement officers who responded on that day. Their heroism prevented a bad situation from being so much worse.

I would also like to thank everyone for their outpouring of support and prayers for Colorado Springs. We are a resilient and supportive community that will come together and will pull through this tragedy.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to stand with me and my colleagues from the Colorado delegation and with the community of Colorado Springs for a moment of silence and to reflect upon the lives that were lost and to pray for their families and loved ones.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The House will observe a moment of silence.
