TRIBUTE TO JOYCE WATTS

HON. FRED UPTON

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, February 15, 2017

Mr. UPTON. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to my friend Joyce Watts.

After 40 years as Allegan County Clerk and Register, this past December Joyce made the tough decision to hang it up and retire.

She did so as the longest-serving elected county clerk in the entire state of Michigan and simply put one of the most dedicated public servants our great state has ever seen.

Joyce juggled many duties in her career. Before she was clerk-register, she was register of deeds for 12 years. She also served on the board of directors of the National Association of County Records and Clerks.

Joyce always impressed me with her professionalism, work-ethic, and tireless advocacy on behalf of our corner of the state. Joyce was someone you could trust to get the job done right. And as a clerk handling elections, it's absolutely imperative you have someone of her character and integrity serving in that position.

There is no doubting her passion and commitment. But above all, Joyce was a wife, mother, and a friend to me and countless others in our Allegan community.

And so, I want to wish Joyce, her husband John, and their son Jason and his wife Lesley best of luck in the coming years and I look forward to remaining close friends.

RECOGNIZING THE LIFE OF CECILIA ZÁRATE-LAUN

HON. MARK POCAN

OF WISCONSIN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, February 15, 2017

Mr. POCAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the life of Cecilia Zárate-Laun, a constituent and dear friend of mine who dedicated her life to building a more just and peaceful world. I first met Cecilia while serving on the Dane County Board of Supervisors in Wisconsin, where we worked together on a sister-city relationship between Dane County and Apartadó, in Antioquia, Colombia. I had the honor of visiting Apartadó on a delegation that Cecilia led, and worked with her to host Colombian dignitaries visiting the U.S. over the years.

Cecilia was born in 1945 in the Santander Province in Colombia. The eldest of five sisters, she studied nutrition in Bogotá, and later, as a Master's student at the University of Wisconsin. In 1976, she married Jack Laun, whom she had met while studying in the United States. They celebrated their 40th anniversary together last year.

Her lifelong mission was to educate and inspire ordinary people to become involved in the messy work of democracy. She had an intimate understanding that efforts to change government policy here in the U.S. had a profound impact on the lives of untold billions across the world. By shifting our priorities away from militarism and war-making, the United States could instead contribute to sustainable development and solving real human needs globally.

Co-founding the Colombia Support Network (CSN) in 1987, Cecilia went on to lead more than 50 delegations of residents of the United States to Colombia, supporting the formation of CSN chapters in the U.S. and matching them with communities in areas of conflict. CSN sought to achieve peace with justice in Colombia by changing U.S. policy and minimizing the violence faced by people caught between guerrillas on the one hand and state security forces and paramilitaries on the other.

Cecilia's commitment to social and economic equality, and a deep sense of solidarity with people around the world, drove her tireless efforts. That passion had a lasting effect on me and will continue to inform my work and the values I strive to uphold as a public servant.

Even in the weeks just before her passing, she worked closely with me as we pursued strategies to ensure accountability, truth, and justice for the victims of Colombia's 50-year conflict. She lived to see the end of Colombia's brutal civil war, which was the fruit of her labors and the efforts of persistent, dedicated peace activists just like her. Her life is a window into the decades-long commitment from millions of people in order to produce real social change.

Mr. Speaker, it is with great honor that I recognize the life and legacy of Cecilia Zárate-Laun today.

Ms. ROYBAL-ALLARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Downey resident, Mr. Kenneth William Thompson on the occasion of his 100th birthday.

Ken was born on February 9, 1917, to William and Eleanor Thompson in Virginia, Minnesota. The third of four boys, he spent his childhood in nearby Duluth, where the Thompson family survived the many challenges of the Great Depression. In 1940, the family moved west to California.

In 1942, at the outbreak of World War II, Ken was drafted into the U.S. Army, where he served as a Radar Technician (T5). Two of his brothers also served in World War II, in the U.S. Navy. When the war in Europe ended, he was one of four in his unit who was scheduled to go to Japan because of his radar training, but the war ended before he shipped out.

After the war ended, Ken returned to California, where he met Vivian Laura Oden of St. Paul, Minnesota. They were married in 1948, and settled in Downey, California, where they raised their three beautiful daughters: Joan, Kathy, and Mary.

Ken was employed by Maytag for 35 years, where he worked in many positions until he retired in 1982. His loving wife, Vivian, died on February 19, 2000. Today, their family includes nine grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.
