RECOGNIZING THE 2017
GREENSPRING PRESIDENT'S VOLUNTEER SERVICE AWARD
RECIPIENTS

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, February 27, 2017

Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the Greenspring Retirement Community of Springfield, Virginia as they host their annual President's Volunteer Service Awards reception. I have had the pleasure of visiting Greenspring on many occasions and am continually impressed by the community spirit displayed there.

The 2017 President's Volunteer Service Awards will honor more than 200 volunteers from the Greenspring community as well as the greater Springfield area with the Bronze, Silver and Gold Awards for Volunteer Service. In addition, three members of the Greenspring community are being honored with the Lifetime Service Award, having compiled more than 4,000 hours of community service during their time at Greenspring. In 2016, more than 750 volunteers contributed in excess of 140,000 hours to Greenspring as well as the surrounding community. That averages to nearly 200 hours per volunteer—an amazing display of dedication and commitment to our neighbors and district.

Greenspring residents volunteer their time in a variety of ways including teaching English to staff who are not native speakers as part of an award-winning ESL program, mentoring local elementary school students and preparing thousands of weekend food bags for distribution by organizations such as Food for Others to ensure that local children and families do not go hungry.

Volunteers from the surrounding community also provide a large number of different services to Greenspring residents, such as visiting with residents, playing cards or board games and escorting residents to and from activities.

The selfless participation of these individuals in volunteer activities enriches the lives of those around them and is truly worthy of our highest praise. I ask my colleagues to join me in congratulating all of the 2017 award recipients and in thanking them for their exemplary service to our community.

TRIBUTE TO JON LYNCH THE OUT-
GOING MIDLAND CITY MANAGER
AND INCOMING PRESIDENT OF
THREE RIVERS CORPORATION

HON. JOHN R. MOOLENAAR

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, February 27, 2017

Mr. MOOLENAAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Jon Lynch, the Midland City Manager, for his sixteen-plus years of service to the city of Midland as he takes on a new role as President of the Three Rivers Corporation.

Beginning his work with the city in 2000, it was not long before Mr. Lynch rose up the ranks becoming the city's chief executive six years later. His work in Midland is most notable with the creation of the Citizen's Academy, which established a medium for residents to learn more about their government. Mr. Lynch also was at the helm during a tumultuous state level tax appeal process where Midland was able to continue city services facing a cut in their general fund. Mr. Lynch's ability to preserve Midland's service abilities with challenging budgets and nominal millage increases year after year is a true demonstration of his capability and talent.

Mr. Lynch's administrative knowledge and strong skill set, as well as his long and successful history, proves his ability. His work in the community, creating and facilitating an open dialogue will only continue with the Three Rivers Corporation.

On behalf of the Fourth Congressional District of Michigan, I am honored today to recognize Jon Lynch for his illustrious career and involvement in the Midland community that has positively influenced the careers and lives of countless individuals.

RECOGNIZING THE 50TH ANNIVER-SARY OF LAKE ANNE ELEMEN-TARY SCHOOL

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, February 27, 2017

Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Lake Anne Elementary School on the occasion of its 50th anniversary. The first public school in the Reston neighborhood of Fairfax County, Lake Anne Elementary stands as a symbol of this region's commitment to excellent public education.

As a former member and Chairman of the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors, I know firsthand that the quality of life in our communities is tied directly to the priority with which we afford education. Throughout its fifty-year history, Lake Anne has represented a diverse community. As of today, its student body represents 70 countries and speaks 38 different languages. I have consistently said that the diversity of our community is one of our greatest strengths and I am glad to see Lake Anne continuing this tradition.

In addition to enriching our community through diversity, Lake Anne also enriches its student body through a number of extra-curricular programs, including Spanish Immersion, ESOL, Special Ed, Advanced Academics, HeadStart services, Young Scholars, Artist in Residence, Eco School, Grace Art, Mentor Works and Partners in Print programs. By exposing their students to these types of programs earlier in their academic careers, Lake Anne Elementary helps lay the groundwork not only for future academic success, but greater economic opportunities as well.

Of course, none of this would be possible without the tireless dedication of the faculty, staff and volunteers of Lake Anne Elementary. I have always said that public service is among the most noble of callings and this sentiment certainly is true of the men and women who dedicate their lives to educating our future generations.

Mr. Speaker, much has changed in the world over the last fifty years, but the mission of Lake Anne Elementary School and our Fairfax County Public School system as a whole has not, and indeed it is more important than ever. As the world changes around us, we need to ensure that today's students are equipped with the knowledge and tools they will need in this increasingly globalized and technical world. I congratulate Lake Anne Elementary School on the occasion of its 50th Anniversary and thank the faculty, staff, volunteers and parents for their immeasurable contributions to our greatest resource, our children. I wish you continued success in all of your future endeavors.

HONORING RON McDANIEL

HON. BRAD SHERMAN

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, February 27, 2017

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Ron McDaniel, CEO of California Credit Union and a leader in the credit union system who is retiring next month.

Ron's credit union career includes 23 years in senior management at Point Mugu Federal Credit Union (now Premier America CU) in Ventura, 19 of those as president and CEO. Since 2004, he has served as CEO of California Credit Union.

Ron has been a leader amongst his peers. He has served on the Credit Union National Association (CUNA) Board of Directors and its Governmental Affairs Committee. He has also served on the California Credit Union League Board of Directors, where he served as board chairman and chairman of the Government Relations Committee. In these roles he helped shape the policy agenda for credit unions in Sacramento and Washington, D.C. and was called upon to testify on behalf of credit unions before the California Senate and Assembly.

In the days before credit unions were allowed to provide checking accounts, Ron participated in the National Credit Union Administration's (NCUA) pilot share draft program, which created the first checking accounts for credit union members. In 1979, Congress authorized credit unions to experiment with share drafts for a three-month period. Shortly after the successful pilot program began, the American Bankers Association sued NCUA arguing that it was illegal for credit unions to provide something that was so similar to a checking account. In 1978, a district court ruled that under the Federal Credit Union Act, the NCUA could authorize credit unions to offer share drafts. This new program became an instant success among credit union members.

From 1980 through 1982, Ron was part of the California Credit Union League's ATM Task Force. At the time, most credit unions did not have an ATM. Ron was part of the steering committee that developed the idea of creating a nationwide ATM network for credit unions, which ultimately led to the formation of the CO-OP Financial Services system and later into shared branching. Ron was actively involved in developing the corporate structure for CO-OP and helped shepherd the idea through its first turbulent (and unprofitable) years.

During the mid-1990s, the banking industry coordinated an attack on the community charter model of service for credit unions. At the time, Ron was CEO of Point Mugu Federal Credit Union. When the Navy dramatically reduced its operations at Point Mugu, the credit union's existence was threatened. Through Ron's leadership, Point Mugu decided to expand and become more of a community charter credit union to serve the needs of consumers throughout Ventura County. When the NCUA approved this expansion, the banking industry sued the NCUA. This lawsuit, along with a similar lawsuit filed by banks against the NCUA and AT&T Family Federal Credit Union, culminated in a Supreme Court decision that would have drastically limited consumer access to credit unions.

Ron worked tirelessly with the California League, CUNA, and the NCUA to develop a legislative solution. He was active in public and private advocacy on behalf of credit unions that relied on the existence of a robust community charter model. Ultimately, the efforts of Ron and others resulted in the enactment of the Credit Union Membership Access Act of 1998. It is not an exaggeration to say that this single piece of legislation saved the community charter model and has provided access to credit union services for millions of consumers and allowed hundreds of credit unions to thrive throughout the country.

For his accomplishments and contributions to the credit union system, Ron received the League's Distinguished Service Award in 1999. For his advocacy efforts throughout the years, he received the League's Advocacy Lifetime Award in 2016.

In his community, Ron served for several years on the board of Cal Lutheran University's Alumni Association including one term as president. He also served on the University's Board of Regents, where his responsibilities included assignments on the Administration and Finance Committee; the Investment Committee that oversees the University's endowment; and on the Audit Committee. He was chairman of the Credit Unions for Kids Advisory Board for Children's Hospital Los Angeles.

Ron is an excellent ambassador for the credit union movement. I have enjoyed my many conversations with Ron over the years about how credit unions can better serve individuals and small businesses. I am pleased to join my friends and constituents in the credit union system in congratulating Ron McDaniel on his years of service and dedication to America's credit unions.

TRIBUTE TO ALL-TIME SCORING LEADER FOR MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TORI JANKOSKA

HON. JOHN R. MOOLENAAR

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, February 27, 2017

Mr. MOOLENAAR. Mr. Speaker, today, I, along with Representative BISHOP pay tribute to Tori Jankoska, the all-time scoring leader for Michigan State University Women's Basketball.

Tori was born and raised in Freeland, where she grew up with a passion for competition. As a young girl, Tori was unable to compete with her peers. She grew up with asthma and other illnesses that kept her from playing with the other kids. Through her own perseverance, she was able to play with her siblings and her passion for sports started to grow. As a student at Freeland High School, Tori raised the bar for her own team and her competitors. It wasn't long before her talent was noticed by the coaches at MSU.

When starting her basketball career at MSU, Tori knew that was where she wanted to be. She also knew that she had a chance to do something great. Regarded by her coaches as having the highest basketball IQ on the court, Tori has proven her acumen time and again. Now, as the all-time point leader for MSU, she has written her own legacy into the record book as one of the best college women's basketball players of all time.

Tori has overcome obstacles and excelled at the highest level of competition. On behalf
