The Senate met at 12 noon and was called to order by the President pro tempore (Mr. HATCH).

PRAYER
The Chaplain, Dr. Barry C. Black, offered the following prayer:
Let us pray.
Our Father in Heaven, we sing of Your steadfast love and proclaim Your faithfulness to all generations. Make us one Nation, truly wise, with righteousness exalting us in due season.
Today, inspire our lawmakers to walk in the light of Your countenance. Abide with them so that Your wisdom will influence each decision they make. Lord, keep them from evil so that they will not be brought to grief, enabling them to avoid the pitfalls that lead to ruin. Empower them to glorify You in all they say and do as You fill their hearts with thankful praise. May they never fail to acknowledge their total dependence upon You.
We pray in Your Holy Name. Amen.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE
The President pro tempore led the Pledge of Allegiance, as follows:
I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

RECOGNITION OF THE MAJORITY LEADER
The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The majority leader is recognized.

NATIONAL DEFENSE AUTHORIZATION ACT FOR FISCAL YEAR 2018—MOTION TO PROCEED
Mr. McConnel. Mr. President, I move to proceed to Calendar No. 175, H.R. 2810.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The clerk will report the motion.

The bill clerk read as follows:

Motion to proceed to Calendar No. 175, H.R. 2810, a bill to authorize appropriations for fiscal year 2018 for military activities of the Department of Defense, for military construction, and for defense activities of the Department of Energy, to prescribe military personnel strengths for such fiscal year, and for other purposes.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The majority leader.

WELCOMING BACK SENATOR MCCAIN
Mr. McConnel. Mr. President, I wish to start this morning with a few words about our friend and colleague Senator McCain, whom we will have an opportunity to welcome back today.

As I noted last week, we all know Senator McCain is a fighter. That is evidenced by his remarkable life of public service, just as it is again evidenced by his quick return to the Senate this afternoon. I know he is eager to get back to work, and we are all very pleased to have him back with us today.

HEALTHCARE
Mr. President, on the vote we will have today in a couple of hours, Senators will have an important decision to make. Seven years after ObamaCare was imposed on our country, we will vote on the critical first step to finally move beyond its failures.

Many of us have made commitments to our constituents to provide relief from this failed leftwing experiment. Now we have a real opportunity to keep those commitments by voting to begin debate and ultimately to send smarter healthcare solutions to the President’s desk for his signature. Just yesterday, the President reiterated his intention to sign them.

Yesterday, the administration released a statement urging all Senators to vote in favor of the motion to proceed so that we can “move forward on repealing ObamaCare and replacing it with true reforms that expand choice and lower costs.” I wish to express my appreciation to the administration for its continued close work with us on this issue at every step of the way. From the President and Vice President to Secretary Price and Administrator Verma, as well as others, the engagement we have seen has been important to our efforts, and it has sent an unmistakable signal to the country that this administration not only understands the pain middle-class families have felt under ObamaCare but is actually committed to doing something about it.

By now, we are all keenly aware of the fact that ObamaCare has caused for literally millions of families. Premiums have skyrocketed, doubling on average in the vast majority of States on the Federal exchange. Insurance options have declined under ObamaCare, leaving many with as few as one or even zero insurers to choose from. Many Americans now face the real possibility of having no options at all and could find themselves trapped, forced by law to purchase ObamaCare insurance but left by ObamaCare without any means to do so. All the while, markets continue to collapse under ObamaCare in States across the country.

It is a troubling indication of what is to come unless we act. Fortunately, the American people have granted us the opportunity to do so. We finally have an administration that cares about those suffering under ObamaCare’s failures and a President who will sign a law to actually do something about it. We have a House that recently passed its own legislation to help address these problems. We have a Senate with a great chance to do so. All the while, markets continue to collapse under ObamaCare in States across the country.

If other Senators agree and join me in voting yes on the motion to proceed, we can move one step closer to sending legislation to the President for his signature. I hope everyone will seize the moment. I certainly will. Only then can we open up a robust debate process.

This “bullet” symbol identifies statements or insertions which are not spoken by a Member of the Senate on the floor.
Only then will Senators have the opportunity to offer additional ideas on healthcare.

Inaction will do nothing to solve ObamaCare’s problems or bring relief to those who need it. In fact, it will make things worse for our constituents all across the country.

I wish to reiterate what the President said yesterday:

Any senator who votes against starting debate is telling America that you are [just] fine with the ObamaCare nightmare. . . .

That’s a position that even Democrats have warned about. Remember President Clinton called ObamaCare “the craziest thing in the world” and a Democratic Governor said it’s “no longer affordable.”

You won’t hear me say this often, but they are right.

I hope colleagues will consider ObamaCare’s history of failures—the unaffordable costs, the scarce choices, the burden on middle-class families—as they cast their vote this afternoon. I urge them to remember the families who are hurting under this collapsing law.

Numerous Kentuckians, like so many others across the Nation, have conveyed their heartbreaking stories with my colleagues, letters, meetings, and dozens of healthcare forums all across Kentucky. These families are suffering under ObamaCare. They need relief. I will be thinking about them as I vote to proceed to the bill today. I know for many other colleagues will do the same.

Our constituents are hurting under ObamaCare. They are counting on us to do the right thing right now. That means voting to allow the Senate to finally move beyond ObamaCare’s failures. That is what I intend to do. That is what I urge every colleague to do.

We can do better than ObamaCare. We have a responsibility to the American taxpayer, to the American people, and to the lives of those who depend on healthcare. We have an opportunity to address the root cause of the problem—ObamaCare itself.

The Senate must pass a replacement healthcare bill that provides relief to those who need it the most. We must ensure that millions of Americans—especially the elderly, the poor, and the working-class—are able to afford healthcare.

Mr. President, in recent days, President Trump has gone out of his way to undermine his own Attorney General, his first supporter—what has been reported to be his best friend in the Senate. He has tweeted scathing criticism of Attorney General Sessions and chafed him publicly for recusing himself from the Russia investigation and several other perceived failures, in the eyes of the President.

We should all take a moment to think of how shocking these comments are on a human basis. This is the first person who stuck his neck out for Donald Trump and who was with him throughout this thick and thin. Even if the President has disagreements with him—which I think are ill-founded and self-centered and wrong—you don’t ridicule him in public—someone who is your close friend. That speaks to character.

But I would like to speak to the major issue before us, which is related. It is clear that President Trump is trying to bully his own Attorney General out of office. How can anyone draw a different conclusion? If President Trump had serious criticisms of his Attorney General, why not talk to him in person? Why air his grievances so publicly? He wants him out. Here is the danger. If many Americans and millions are left without coverage, millions losing healthcare, particularly in our poorer and more brutal States. That is the only thing our Republicans have been able to agree on.

The hard-right Freedom Caucus in the House would never accept a Republican bill that only repeals a few regulations in the ACA but leaves much of it in place. No, they want full repeal, and, at minimum, deep cuts to Medicaid, huge tax breaks for the wealthy, and millions in every State in this Nation losing their healthcare.

To my Republican friends who have repeatedly said that full repeal without replace would be a disaster and to my Republican friends who have opposed the deep and drastic cuts to Medicaid, I say: Don’t be fooled by this ruse. A vote in favor of the motion to proceed will mean deep cuts to Medicaid, maybe even deeper than in the House bill. It will mean people with pre-existing conditions will be left high and dry. It will mean huge tax breaks for the wealthiest of Americans. It will mean millions will lose their coverage.

So with all the reminding, why are we here at this late moment? Because the House bill was too drastic, too far too close to that, and all of the work and all of the anguish that so many of my colleagues on the other side of the aisle have shown in the last several weeks will be wasted because they know darn well what is going to happen when there is a conference.

There are no Democratic votes in the House. The Freedom Caucus calls the shots. They will either ask for full repeal or something very close to it. Make no mistake about it. A vote in favor of the motion to proceed this afternoon will be a permission slip to slash Medicaid, hurt millions, and give huge tax cuts for the wealthy—something the vast majority of Americans in every State, a large percentage of Republicans and Trump voters, abhor.

One last plea to my colleagues: Do not fall for the ruse that the majority leader is putting together. We know what is going on. We all know. Our constituents will not be fooled—oh, no. We both know that this plan that is now being ignored on this motion to proceed is a man who proselytized that Republicans should stop at nothing short of full repeal—why would the junior Senator from Kentucky vote to proceed knowing he will not get what he wants? It is because, I believe, he and some of the others in this body know that if the Senate manages to pass something to get to conference in the House, the likely compromise will be just another ruse that is going on. The ruse is this: It will certainly mean drastic cuts in Medicaid, huge tax breaks for the rich, no healthcare for those with pre-existing conditions, and millions losing healthcare, particularly in our poorer and more brutal States. That is the only thing our Republicans have been able to agree on.

The President pro tempore. The clerk will call the roll.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The order for the quorum call is rescinded.

Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESIDENT ON ATTORNEY GENERAL SESSIONS

Mr. President, in recent days, President Trump has gone out of his way to undermine his own Attorney General, his first supporter—what has been reported to be his best friend in the Senate. He has tweeted scathing criticism of Attorney General Sessions and chafed him publicly for recusing himself from the Russia investigation and several other perceived failures, in the eyes of the President.

How can anyone draw a different conclusion? If President Trump had serious criticisms of his Attorney General, why not talk to him in person? Why air his grievances so publicly? He wants him out. Here is the danger. If many Americans and millions are left without coverage, millions losing healthcare, particularly in our poorer and more brutal States, have made such a fuss up to now will not be fooled either.
Second, I cannot imagine that my friends on the Republican side, particularly in the Republican leadership—my friend the majority leader, who I have great respect for, and Speaker RYAN—would be complicit in creating a constitutional crisis. They must work with us and not open the door to a constitutional crisis during the August recess.

Mr. President, on one last item, I know there is a lot going on today, but I just want to mention one item from the House of Representatives. Later, the House is going to take up and, hopefully, pass with near unanimity a sanctions bill that includes strong sanctions against Russia, Iran, and North Korea. It is critical that the Senate act promptly on this legislation.

I will work with the majority leader, as I have in recent weeks, to ensure its swift passage so we can get it to the President’s desk before we leave for recess.

Thank you, Mr. President.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Nebraska.

Mrs. FISCHER. Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mrs. FISCHER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. KENNEDY). Without objection, it is so ordered.

RECESS

Mrs. FISCHER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate recess until 2:15 p.m. today for the weekly conference meetings.

There being no objection, the Senate, at 12:32 p.m., recessed until 2:15 p.m. and reconvened when called to order by the President (Mr. PORTMAN).

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The majority leader.

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Democratic leader be recognized for 5 minutes for debate only and that I then be recognized for 5 minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

The Democratic leader.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, in a short time, we will vote on the motion to proceed to debate the House Republican healthcare bill. Several months into this new process, with Republicans in the majority in both Chambers, the American people have not been treated to a high-minded debate or to much debate at all.

The very first action of this Congress was for the House to pass reconciliation instructions on healthcare—a process which has locked out Democrats from the very beginning. The very first thing this Republican Congress said to the American people is that healthcare is going to be a partisan project, undertaken by Republicans and Republicans alone. Right out of the gate, Democrats were locked out.

The majority leader elected to forge a bill in secret and bypass the committee process entirely—no public hearings, no open debate, no opportunity for the minority to amend the bill or even to read it before it emerged from the leader’s office. Their plan was one of keeping the true American people in the dark and then jamming the bill through in the dead of night on a party line.

Now, here we are, after so much cloak-and-dagger legislation, about to vote on a bill that has taken us 4 months of our time—one-sixth of the economy and tens of millions’ health and lives affected without knowing exactly what we will be debating on. Perhaps nothing could sum up the process that has brought us here as well as this.

The best the majority leader has been able to cook up is a vague plan to do whatever it takes to pass something—anything—to get the bill to a House and Senate conference on healthcare.

My colleagues, plain and simple, it is a ruse. The likeliest result of a conference between the House and Senate is the full repeal of the Affordable Care Act or something very close to it. It will, certainly, mean drastic cuts in Medicaid, huge tax cuts for the wealthy, no help for those with preexisting conditions, and tens of millions losing healthcare, particularly in poorer and more rural States.

The hard-right Freedom Caucus in the House would never accept a Republican bill that only repeals a few regulations in the ACA but leaves much in place.

I would say to my colleagues, particularly those on the other side of the aisle who have fought hard for not cutting Medicaid drastically, for keeping preexisting conditions, for not giving tax cuts to the rich while you are cutting healthcare for the poor, do not go along with this motion to proceed, because you know and I know what it will lead to. All of the things you have been trying to avoid will emerge from that conference, and you will hurt the people of your States dramatically.

We all know what is happening here. The leader could not get the votes on a full repeal because it is so damaging to America. He could not get the votes even on his own bill. Instead, the plan is to come up with a proposal that is simply a means to repeal, a means to dramatic cuts, a means to getting us in conference, and we all know what the result of that conference will be.

I would plead one last time with my friends on the other side of the aisle—and I know you have sincerely tried to modify and change things—to turn back. We can go through regular order. We want to work with you. We know that the ACA is not perfect, but we also know that what you have proposed is much worse. We can work together to improve healthcare in this country. Turn back now before it is too late and millions and millions and millions of Americans are hurt so badly in ways from which they will never, ever recover.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The majority leader.

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, 7 years ago, Democrats imposed ObamaCare on our country. They said that costs would go down. Costs skyrocketed. They said that choice would go up. Choice plummeted. Now ObamaCare’s years-long lurch toward total collapse is nearing a seemingly inevitable conclusion, and it will hurt even more Americans on the way down.

This, my friends, is the ObamaCare status quo. This is the status quo. We have had to accept it for a long time. We do not have to accept it any longer.

The American people elected a House with a vision of a better way on healthcare. Then they elected a Senate. Then they elected a President. Now, having been given the responsibility to govern, we have a duty to act. The President is ready with his pen. The House has passed legislation. Today, it is the Senate’s turn. That starts with a vote that we will take momentarily. The critical first step in that process is the motion to proceed. It is the vote that determines whether this debate can proceed at all, whether we can even take up the four straight elections in which this was a huge commitment to the American people. It is the vote that determines whether the Senators of both parties can offer their amendments and ideas on healthcare.

I told the people of my State, over this period, that I would vote to move beyond ObamaCare, and that is what I am going to do today by voting yes. I ask all of my colleagues to join me in doing so. We have shown that it is possible to put legislation on the President’s desk that moves us beyond ObamaCare and its years of failure. We did that 2 years ago. President Obama vetoed what we passed before. President Trump will sign what Congress passes this time.

I thank the President and the administration for all they have done on this issue already. They have worked with us every step of the way, and they, like us, know the consequences of failing to act.

Look, we cannot let this moment slip by. We cannot let it slip by. We have been talking about this for too long. We have wrestled with this issue. We have watched the consequences of the status quo. The people who sent us here expect us to begin this debate, to have the courage to tackle the tough issues. They did not send us here just to do the easy stuff. They expect us to tackle the big problems. Obviously, we cannot get an outcome if we do not start the debate, and that is what the motion to proceed is all about.

Many of us on this side of the aisle have called for years for this opportunity and thought that it would probably never come. Some of us were a little surprised by the election last year, but with a surprise election comes great opportunities to do things that we thought were never possible. All we have to do today is to have the courage to begin the debate with an open amendment process and let the voting take us where it will.

That is what is before us, colleagues. Will we begin the debate on one of the most important issues confronting America today? It is my hope that the answer will be yes.

ORDER OF PROCEDURE

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that, following the vote, Senator McCain be recognized to speak for debate only for up to 15 minutes and that the time not count on H.R. 1628.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

AMERICAN HEALTH CARE ACT OF 2017—MOTION TO PROCEED

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, I move to proceed to Calendar No. 120. H.R. 1628.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The motion to proceed to Calendar No. 120. H.R. 1628.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the motion.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

Motion to proceed to Calendar No. 120. H.R. 1628, a bill to provide for reconciliation pursuant to title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2017.

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask for the yeas and nays.

(Disturbance in the Visitors' Gallery.)

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Sergeant at Arms will restore order in the Chamber. The Sergeant at Arms will restore order in the Chamber, please.

(Disturbance in the Visitors' Gallery.)

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Sergeant at Arms will restore order in the Chamber.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question is on agreeing to the motion to proceed.

Mr. MCCONNELL, Mr. President, I ask for the yeas and nays.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there a sufficient second?

There is a sufficient second.

The clerk will call the roll.

AMERICAN HEALTH CARE ACT OF 2017

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, I have stood in this place many times and addressed as “President” many Presiding Officers. I have been so addressed when I have sat in that chair, and that is as close as I will ever be to a Presidency. It is an honorific we are almost indifferent too; isn’t it? In truth, presiding over the Senate can be a nuisance, a bit of a ceremonial bore, and it is usually relegated to the more junior Members of the majority.

But as I stand here today—looking a little worse for wear, I am sure—I have a refreshed appreciation for the protocols and customs of this body and for the other 99 privileged souls who have been elected to this Senate.

I have been a member of the U.S. Senate for 30 years. I had another long, if not as long, career before I arrived here, another profession that was profoundly rewarding and in which I had experiences and friendships that I revere. Make no mistake, my service here is the most important job I have had in my life. I am so grateful to the people of Arizona for the privilege—for the honor—of serving here and the opportunities it gives me to play a small role in the history of the country I love.

I have known and admired men and women in the Senate who played much more than a small role in our history—true statesmen, giants of American politics. They came from both parties and various places and backgrounds. Their ambitions were frequently in conflict. They held different views on the issues of the day. They often had very serious disagreements about how best to serve the national interest.

But they knew that however sharp and heartfelt their disputes and however keen their ambitions, they had an obligation to work collaboratively to ensure the Senate discharged its constitutional responsibilities effectively. Our responsibilities are important—viably important—to the continued success of our Republic. Our arcane rules and customs are deliberately intended to require broad cooperation to function well at all. The most revered Members of this institution accepted the necessity of compromise in order to make incremental progress on solving America’s problems and to defend her from her adversaries.

That principled mindset and the service of our predecessors who possessed it come to mind when I hear the Senate referred to as the world’s greatest deliberative body. I am not sure we can claim that distinction with a straight face today. I am sure it wasn’t always deserved in previous eras either. I am sure there have been times when it was, and I was privileged to witness some of those occasions.

Our deliberations today, not just our debates but the exercise of all our responsibilities—authorizing government policies, appropriating the funds to implement them, exercising our advice and consent role—are often lively and interesting. They can be sincere and principled, but they are more partisan, more tribal more of the time than at any other time in my memory. Our deliberations can still be important and useful. But I think we would all agree they haven’t been overburdened by greatness lately. Right now, they aren’t producing much for the American people. Perhaps this is too let’s take this chance to set aside the history of who shot first to the historians. I suspect they will find we all conspired in our decline, either by deliberate actions or neglect. We have all played some role in it. Certainly, I have. Sometimes, I have let my passion rule my reason. Sometimes, I made it harder to find common ground because of something harsh I said to a colleague. Sometimes I wanted to win more for the sake of winning than to achieve a contested policy.

Incremental progress, compromises that each side criticizes but also accepts, and just plain muddling through to chip away at problems and to keep our enemies from doing their worst aren't glamorous or exciting. It doesn't feel like a political triumph. It is usually the most we can expect from our system of government, operating in a country as diverse, quarrelsome, and free as ours.

Considering the injustice and cruelties inflicted by autocratic governments and how corruptible human nature can be, the problem-solving our system does make possible, the fitful progress it produces, and the liberty and justice it preserves, are a magnifi- cant achievement.

Our system doesn't depend on our nobility. It accounts for our imperfections and gives an order to our individual strivings that has helped make ours the most powerful and prosperous society on Earth. It is our responsibility to preserve that: even when it requires us to do something less satisfying than winning, even when we must give a little to get a little, even when our end just 3 yards from a cloud of dust, while critics on both sides denounced us for timidity, for our failure to triumph.

I hope we can again rely on humility, on our need to cooperate, on our dependence on loyalists to reach an agreement to trust each other again and, by so doing, better serve the people who elected us. Stop listening to the bombastic loudmouths on the radio and television and the internet. To hell with them. They don't want anything done for the public good. Our incapacity is their livelihood.

Let's trust each other. Let's return to regular order. We have been spinning our wheels on too many important issues because we keep trying to find a way to win without help from across the aisle. That is an approach that has been employed by both sides: mandating legislation from the top down, without any support from the other side, with all the parliamentary maneuvers it requires. We are getting nothing done, my friends. We are getting nothing done.

All we have really done this year is confirm Neil Gorsuch to the Supreme Court. Our healthcare insurance system is a mess. We all know it, those who support ObamaCare and those who oppose it. Something has to be done. We Republicans have looked for a way to end it and replace it with something else without paying a terrible political price. We haven't found it yet. I am not sure we will. All we have managed to do is make more popular a policy that wasn't very popular when we started trying to get rid of it. I voted for the motion to proceed to allow debate to continue and amendments to be offered.

I will not vote for this bill as it is today. It is a shell of a bill right now. We all know that. I have changes urged by my State's Governor that will have to be included to earn my support for final passage of any bill. I know many of you will have to see the bill changed substantially for you to support it. We have tried to do this by coming up with a proposal behind closed doors in consultation with the administration, then springing it on skeptical Members, trying to convince them it is better than nothing—that it is better than nothing despite our doubts and force it past a unified opposition. I don't think that is going to work in the end and probably shouldn't.

The administration and congressional Democrats shouldn't have forced through Congress, without any opposition support, a social and economic change as massive as ObamaCare, and we shouldn't do the same with ours. Why don't we try the way of legislating in the Senate—the way our rules and customs encourage us to act. If this process ends in failure, which seems likely, then let's return to regular order. Let the Health, Education, Labor, and Pension Committee, under Chairman Alexander and Ranking Member Murray, hold hearings, try to report a bill out of committee with contributions from both sides—something that might pass on the other side of the aisle didn't allow to happen 9 years ago. Let's see if we can pass something that will be imperfect, full of compromises, and not very pleasing to implacable partisans on either side but that might provide workable solutions to problems Americans are struggling with today.

What have we to lose by trying to work together to find those solutions? We are not getting much done apart. I don't think we can be very proud of our incapacity. Merely preventing your political opponents from doing what they want isn't the most inspiring work. There is greater satisfaction in respecting our differences but letting the Senate's agreement under majority leader Bipartisan work in the end and probably shouldn't.

What a great honor and extraordinary opportunity it is to serve in this body. It is a privilege to serve with all of you. It means we have a greater cause. I have been in the Senate for 12 years, trying to convince them it is better than nothing—that it is better than nothing despite our doubts and force it past a unified opposition. I don't think that is going to work in the end and probably shouldn't.

AMENDMENT NO. 267
(Purpose: Of a perfecting nature.)
Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, I call up amendment No. 267.
The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.
The legislative clerk read as follows:
The Senator from Kentucky [Mr. McConnell] proposes an amendment numbered 267.
Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

Mrs. MURRAY. Mr. President, I object.
The PRESIDING OFFICER. Objection is heard.
The legislative clerk continued with the reading of the amendment.

(Disturbance in the Visitors' Gall-

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Sergeant at Arms will restore order in the Gallery.

(Disturbance in the Visitors' Galleries.)

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. STRANGE). The Sergeant at Arms will restore order in the Gallery.
The clerk will continue.
The legislative clerk continued with the reading of the amendment.

(The amendment is printed in today's Record under "Text of Amendments.")

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Who yields the floor?
If no one yields time, time will be charged equally.
The Senator from Wyoming.

Mr. ENZI. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that, for the duration of the Senate's consideration of H.R. 1628, the majority and Democratic managers of the bill, while seated or standing at the managers' desks, be permitted to deliver floor remarks, retrieve, review, and edit documents and send email and other data communications from text displayed on wireless personal digital assistant devices and tablet devices.
The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.
Mr. ENZI. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the use of calculators be permitted on the floor during the consideration of H.R. 1628.
The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.
Mr. ENZI. Mr. President, what is the regular order with respect to the pending amendment?
The PRESIDING OFFICER. It is 2 hours equally divided.
Mr. ENZI. Thank you, Mr. President.
I suggest the absence of a quorum and ask unanimous consent that the time be equally divided.
The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?
Mrs. MURRAY. Objection.
The PRESIDING OFFICER. Objection is sustained.
Mr. ENZI. Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum.
The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. NELSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.
The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

WELCOMING BACK SENATOR MCCAIN
Mr. NELSON. Mr. President, I am so encouraged by the words of our dear friend and fellow Senator, Mr. JOHN McCAIN.
First of all, I am so encouraged by seeing that fighting spirit of John McCain and so glad to see him back. In the midst of everything he is facing, that he would come and insert himself to give us some considerable words of wisdom—it was such an enormous, emotional experience when John walked in. Then, to have all of us seated here because of the vote that was occurring—and not a Senator left after airport. Whether or not we wanted to hear from John and did so willingly. His eloquent words about how we all need to come together and stop being driven apart by partisan reasons were timely, and they were well received.
Mr. President, this Senator never thought we would see a vote to advance a bill which, to so many, feels as though it is going to harm so many of our fellow Americans. Obviously, we can disagree on specifics, but we have seen that particular expression of opinion of harm over and over. We have seen it in the coverage of the townhall meetings, where people stand up and say: If I didn't have this healthcare, I would be dead.
This Senator has seen it in Florida over and over, as I have had people come up to me wherever I am—in a meeting, on the street corner, in the airport, wherever—and say: Senator, please don’t let them take my healthcare away from me.
Indeed, when people explained their particular circumstances, four different stories. If they did not have the waiver on Medicaid, indeed, that fellow would not only not be alive, but even if he were alive, he would be in an institution instead of being able to be cared for or three other families who brought forth testimonies about how the Affordable Care Act has given them insurance they had never been able to get before. It was at a cost that they could afford and involved coverage they never could have had.

In other instances, preexisting conditions. This Senator, as a former elected insurance commissioner of Florida, has seen insurance companies refuse to insure people because they had a preexisting condition. If you had a preexisting condition; if you had a bad rash, that was a preexisting condition, and they were not going to insure you. Also, insurance policies never had the guarantee of lifetime coverage but instead the policy said you had lifetime caps.
There was a dollar figure which, if you exceeded it, the insurance policy was not going to cover any more.

If we are really serious about wanting to fix the situation, if our brothers and sisters on the other side of the aisle are not successful in proceeding with what the majority leader is going to be coming forth with, if that is voted down, and if we are serious about it, let's really look at what is the existing law—the Affordable Care Act—and fix it.

Senator COLLINS, a former insurance commissioner, appointed in the State of Maine, and a former elected insurance commissioner in the State of Florida, are already working on a reinsurance fund which would insure the insurance companies against catastrophe. I asked for this to be costed out in the State of Florida. This fix would lower premiums 13 percent in the State of Florida.

In the words of Senator McCain, if we really want to get together and fix the problems, we can. Yet, in the midst of hearing from constituents all around the country who have shared their personal stories about how the existing law has helped, we are in the parliamentary position we are in, where we will proceed on trying to repeal what is the existing law.

For some people, they don’t care about the politics. As a matter of fact, for a lot of people, they don’t care about the politics. They just want ac-ce to healthcare. They want what is genuinely described as health insurance—whether it is a Medicaid type of insurance or whether it is an actual policy through a private insurance company offered on the health exchanges in the States or whether it is the guarantees of the coverage in an individual policy that they might buy, they just want healthcare. That is the reason you have health insurance in the first place.

Now, I have heard some fixes say: Oh, let’s cut back on Medicaid, which, remember, is spread over millions and millions of people, just like Medicare is spread over millions and millions of people. The difference there is age. If you are 65, you are eligible for Medicare.
There are some people we overlook in the system who depend on Medicaid.

How about veterans? Veterans’ healthcare has been taken care of while on Active Duty in the U.S. military. Then their healthcare is transferred to the Veterans’ Administration, but there are a lot of veterans who are not getting their healthcare through the VA. They get their healthcare through Medicaid. If you start cutting back on Medicaid, which are the versions of the so-called replace bills we have seen—if you start cutting back on Medicaid and make a capped program or a block grant program, we already know the figures. It has been costed out by the CBO. The figures tell us it is close to at least double the current deficit. When you start doing that, these people who rely on Medicaid at the edges, like some poor people or like seniors in nursing homes—by the way, in my
CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — SENATE S4171

State, 65 to 70 percent of the seniors in nursing homes are on Medicaid, and some of those veterans I told you about are not on VA healthcare but Medicaid. How about some of the children's programs on Medicaid? If you start cutting that back to the tune of about $30 billion, you are going to knock out a lot of these people. That is not something we want to do. That is why, when explained, you have such low numbers who support what is being attempted as a replacement if you repeal the Affordable Care Act. Anyone who supports the Affordable Care Act, of 3 to 1 in the healthcare exchanges so you can charge an older person three times as much as a young, healthy individual—not in the replacement proposals that are coming up. It's simple. What does that mean? That means for those older Americans, before they turn 65 and become eligible for Medicare, they are going to be paying more for their insurance premiums. Is that what you want to do? I don't think so. You cannot ignore these facts. I ask those who come forth with these replacements, why in the world do you do this? Why do you support a bill that will hurt so many Americans, which has been demonstrated over and over? Why do you support a bill that will hurt so many of your constituents that your constituents cry out to you, please, don't do this? And they give personal testimonies.

I urge our colleagues, after the emotional appeal of Senator MCCAIN, to do things in a bipartisan way. Take a moment, reflect on what your constituents have said—not just some of your constituents. Listen to all of your constituents and ask yourself, are you doing the right thing? Let's improve our Nation's healthcare system. Let's not make it worse. Let's do it in the spirit of the uplifting words of Senator MCCAIN and what he said: Let's do it together in a bipartisan way.

I yield the floor.

Mr. HATCH. Mr. President, I rise today to once again remind my Senate colleagues what is at stake with the procedural vote that took place today. The Senate voted on the motion to proceed to the House-passed budget reconciliation bill. The Senate will now start working in earnest to consider and, hopefully, pass legislation that will repeal and replace ObamaCare with a 2-year transition period, or other, specific replacement policies.

That is a complicated undertaking to say the least. However, the first vote on the procedural vote was relatively simple. While pundits and talking heads have already analyzed this particular vote to death, all of the talk boils down to a single question: Do Republican senators want to repeal and replace ObamaCare?

I don't want to belittle or discredit the concerns some of my colleagues have raised about the various legislative proposals that are out there. However, we would be voting on any particular policy or proposal. On the contrary, the vote was simply to determine whether the Senate is actually going to consider the budget reconciliation bill. Members were not voting for or against any particular healthcare proposal; they were simply voting on whether the Senate will actually debate any such measure.

That being the case, the vote was a simple one. Anyone who supports the larger effort to repeal and replace ObamaCare should be willing to at least debate the various proposals that have been put forward.

That is the very definition of a no-brainer.

The original pieces of ObamaCare were signed into law in March 2010, more than 7 years ago. Since then, the law has been one of the key focal points of legislative and political debate and discourse nationwide. Very few topics in our Nation's history have been the subject of more public debate and fierce disagreement.

After all this time, one thing is very clear: ObamaCare has failed the American people.

The vast majority of Americans are dissatisfied with the healthcare status quo. These people want answers from Congress that will bring down their healthcare costs, reduce their tax burdens, and put them back in charge of their own healthcare. For more than 7 years now, virtually every Republican in Congress has been promising to provide those solutions.

We have never been closer to making good on those promises than we are right now with a Republican President and Senate who are committed to supporting congressional efforts to repeal and replace this unworkable law.

Make no mistake, none of the major proposals that have been put forward are perfect. In fact, in my personal view, they are all far from perfect. But, at the end of the day, any bill—particularly a bill as wide and sweeping as one that addresses a large portion of our healthcare system—that is "perfect" in the eyes of one Senator is likely fatally flawed in the eyes of others.

Translation: When any one of us legislates successfully, the word "perfect" shouldn't be in anyone's vocabulary.

Like any aspect of governing, drafting and passing important legislation is about compromise and prioritization. It is about recognizing which fights need to be fought now and which ones can wait for another day.

I have been here a while. In that time, I have noticed a few things. Some Senators in this Chamber would rather fight the good ideological fight for legislative purity than get the majority of what they want—but not everything—through compromise. These people tend to claim that even the most embarrassing legislative losses are victories, so long as they can say that they went down swinging.

Now, don't get me wrong; speaking in terms of advocating good policy I have never been seen as an enemy from a fight. In fact, I have battled some of the most revered and admired Senators in our Nation's history right here on the Senate floor.

One reason I think I have developed a reputation as an effective legislator is I don't believe that fighting for a cause is an end unto itself. Fights are only meaningful if there is an objective in mind. While I am no mathematician, I believe getting 60, 70, or 80 percent of what you want out of a bill is better than getting nothing, even if, on the way to getting nothing, you have fought a valiant fight for that perfect—yet ultimately unattainable—outcome.

The fight to repeal ObamaCare, at least from where I have been standing, has always had an objective in mind. That objective, of course, has been to actually repeal ObamaCare.

We have fought for that objective for more than 7 years. Now, we find ourselves on the cusp of being able to take major steps toward that larger goal.

No, we don't have a perfect bill to vote on. However, the fact remains that we are close to being able to pass legislation that would accomplish the majority of our goals and keep most of the promises we have made to repeal and replace ObamaCare.

Before we can do any of that, we need to at least get a chance to consider and debate the matter on the floor. That is what this afternoon's vote was to determine: whether we are committed enough to this effort to at least take that step.

I remind my Republican colleagues that, when the ObamaCare reconciliation bill was brought up for debate in 2010, all of our friends on the other side, who were present at the time, except for one Member, voted in favor of the motion to proceed. They supported their leader. Leader MCCONNELL is owed the same loyalty.

Any Senator who has fought with us to undo the damage caused by ObamaCare should be willing, at the very, very least, to take that step and allow the floor debate to actually happen.

I hope we all will. Toward that end, I urged my colleagues to vote in favor of the motion to proceed to the House-passed reconciliation bill to allow the Senate to begin debate on repealing and replacing ObamaCare.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Who yields time?

If no one yields time, time will be charged equally to both sides.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The asker of the Democratic leader.

Mr. DURBIN. Thank you, Mr. President.

History was made on the floor of the Senate Chamber today. I don't think it has ever happened before. Think about this: 50 out of 100 Senators came to the floor with the Vice President of the United States and voted to begin debate on a bill they have never seen—a bill they have never seen—because we don’t know what the Republicans are going to offer for an alternative to the Affordable Care Act.

There have been a lot of different versions. Technically, the one that is before us now is the version that passed the House of Representatives, but I think the Republican leader, Senator MCCONNELL, has known from the beginning that it has no chance whatsoever. So many Republicans have taken a look at what the House passed and said: We can’t vote for that. You have to give us something different. The problem the Senate Republicans ran into is that they couldn’t come up with anything better. They tried. They wrote several different versions, and every time they would write a version of the new Affordable Care Act, it got worse for the American people, and here is what I mean. Under one proposal for the Republicans—not the one before us, but the Senate Republicans—1 million people in the state of Illinois have lost their health insurance. There are 12.5 million people in Illinois, and 1 million would have lost their health insurance because of dramatic cutbacks in Medicaid and cutbacks in the premium support that is given to a lot of working families to buy regular health insurance in the health insurance market.

It was so terrible that every time Republicans came up with a Senate proposal, two or two of them would announce: Can’t buy it, won’t vote for it—and ran away from it.

So Senator MCCONNELL came to the floor today and said: I am begging you, just vote to open debate on a bill that I have here, Mr. President, and 50 Republican Senators did, and the Vice President broke the tie, the 50-to-50 tie to offer an amendment to the bill. We have gone back and forth through all the provisions on immigration. John even conceded today that he has an interesting temper. There were days when John McCain was Mount Vesuvius, just exploding in every direction, and you had to step back. And there were days when he smothered you with kindness. That is the way he is. We love him for it.

He came today to give a speech that every American should read if you want to understand how a Democratic Senator can stand on the floor and give compliments and praise to a Republican Senator, which I am about to do. Senator McCain said that we have to set aside the country of 13 states—the political divisions. I will not get the words perfectly, but he said to us: Will you please start ignoring these radio and TV and Internet talking heads who want us to fail and make a living by watching them? What does it mean to you to ignore more those people? Instead, look to what this institution, the U.S. Senate, is all about and what we should be doing to solve the problems for the people we represent.

John McCain went on to say: Why don’t we have debates on the floor of the Senate anymore?

Do you know what? He is right. We are 7 months into this year’s Senate session. We have not had one bill on the floor of the Senate that we have debated and amended—not one. This is a first, and it is in this kind of convoluted reconciliation process where you speed up the amendments.

Think about this. We are amending your healthcare policy that affects you and your family. We are amending how you will buy health insurance as an individual and how your company will buy health insurance for you. We are amending, basically, whether your insurance policy is going to protect your family or not, how it works. People propose an amendment, and then we debate it. Do you know how long we debate it? We debate it for 1 minute on both sides. Disgraceful. John McCain called us on it today and asked: Why have we reached this point when an issue this important is going through a process that is totally partisan?

You see, the Republicans decided early on that they were not going to invite Democrats to the party; that they were going to write this healthcare bill by themselves, in secret. Senator MCCONNELL picked 13 Republican Senators, and they sat for me to hear the Democratic side. I am not asking for long—months, weeks—and wrote a bill. One of them I mentioned earlier was ultimately rejected by the Republicans themselves. John McCain challenged us and said: For goodness’ sake, he has been in the Senate 3 terms—I have too—during a time when it was much different. He really begged us, pleaded, and urged us to get back to that time when we worked together on a bipartisan basis to solve problems. John McCain was right. I did not agree with him to put up with those amendments we are in at this moment, but I was encouraged by the way he closed. He turned to Senator MCCONNELL, who was sitting right there, and said to him: Do not count on my vote on final passage. I want to see what we do in this bill. I want to see how we debate this bill.

One Republican Senator like John McCain can make the difference as to whether this process stops and a real bipartisan process begins. Isn’t that what the American people expect of us?

Seated in the Chair, the Presiding Officer, is a brand new Senator from the State of Alabama.

Welcome, Senator STRAND. He is a newcomer. Post-Natal Sessions went on to become the Attorney General. He has seen the Senate for a couple of months or 3 months, maybe—5 months now—and I am sure he has his impressions of this body. They may be different than what he thought about it before he was elected. Yet I can tell him for sure that this is a much different Senate than the one PATTY MURRAY was elected to, that it is much different than the one I was elected to.

Even for MIKE ENZI, my friend from Wyoming, it is much different than the one he saw.

I see my colleague here, Senator SCHATZ, from Hawaii.

How long have you been here now, Mr. SCHATZ. Four-and-a-half years.

Mr. DURBIN. Four-and-a-half years.

Mr. DURBIN. Four-and-a-half years.

He is a newbie, and he has not seen the Senate I am describing.

Can you believe there was a time in the Senate when we would bring an important measure to the floor on many different issues, and Members would come to the floor—I am not making this up—and actually hand an amendment to the clerk and say: I would like this amendment on the floor. Then we would debate it, and then we would vote on it. Sometimes you won, sometimes you lost, and you moved on to the next amendment. That actually happened on the Senate floor. For the people who are not new to the Senate, I am sure you do not believe me, but it did happen over and over and over. We had a healthy respect for one another. The amendments went back and forth, and we ended up seeing bills passed that made a difference in America.

What we are doing now is a disgrace to this institution, and it does not honor the Senate, its Members, or our Constitution when what is at stake is so important. In looking at some of the provisions that have been brought before us in the Senate’s Republican repeal bills to repeal the Affordable Care Act, I do not know how they can do it. I do not know how Senators could go home and say in their home States: A million people are going to lose your health insurance because of something I just voted for.

Health insurance means a lot to me personally. I have said it on the floor. There was a baby in my life when I was a brand new law student and was married. God sent me and my wife this beautiful little baby. She had some health issues, and we had no health insurance, as I was a law student. We ended up sitting in the charity ward of a local hospital here in Washington, hoping our baby girl would have a good, talented, capable doctor walk through the door and see her. I was not sure because I did not have health insurance. I will never forget that as long as I live, and I thought to myself that it will never happen to me again. I am going to have health insurance no matter what it takes. It meant that much to me, and it means that much to everybody.

There is not a single one of us who does not want the peace of mind of knowing that if we get sick or if someone we love gets sick, he will have access to good hospitals and good doctors. That is what health insurance is all about. As the Republican proposals eliminate health insurance for 60 million, 20 million, 30 million Americans, you ask yourself: How can you do that to this country?

The cuts they make in Medicaid have really educated America about Medicaid. People know about Social Security. They know what that is all about. We all pay into it and wait to receive our Social Security checks when we reach the age of 65, Medicare is not enough. They need the help of Medicaid. So if it is Mom or Dad or Grandma or Grandpa who is in a nursing home, two out of three of them depend on Medicaid.

The Republican bill to replace the Affordable Care Act says we are going to cut Medicaid, that 25 to 35 percent will be cut. That is why Governors of both political parties have screamed bloody murder: You cannot do that. You are cutting the Federal contribution to Medicaid in our States. Who is going to pay for that? Who is going to pay for the disabled baby? Who is going to pay the school district? Who is going to pay for the disabled? Who will take care of the folks in nursing homes?

Why did they make that deep cut of a cut in Medicaid, that is so important to so many people? There is the tough part. That deep of a cut was made in Medicaid so Republicans, in their healthcare proposal, could include a tax break for the wealthiest people in America, for health insurance companies, and—get this—for pharmaceutical companies. To give them tax breaks, they had to cut Medicaid coverage for all of the people whom I just described.

Is it any wonder that many Republicans backed away from this? Senator HELLER, of Nevada, talked to Governor Sandoval—both Republicans—and said he could not support an early version of the bill because of the deep cuts in Medicaid.

If this is supposed to be an improvement over the Affordable Care Act, which part of it is an improvement? Is it in cutting Medicaid coverage for all of those people, saying that your health insurance does not have to cover people with preexisting conditions, raising the cost of healthcare premiums, particularly for people between the ages of 50 and 64, eliminating health insurance for millions? Is that an improvement over the current system? It is not. It is a disaster.

The question is, By the end of this debate, after we have gone through this crazy process of voting up and down quickly and with very little debate, will our more Republican Senator from Illinois in my State—bipartisan? Two of them have. If one more will join them, then we can get down to the real business we should face. The real business is being the Senate again with regular order, which means taking the measure to the HELP Committee. Senator MURRAY, of Washington, is the ranking Democrat. Senator LAMAR ALEXANDER is the chairman from Tennessee. I respect him and like him a lot. The two of us have fought on a bill to change the affordable care system and make it work better, bring down the cost of premiums, and expand health insurance coverage. I think that is what we should be all about. Now there is a basic difference in philosophy here. I will close with this, but this is what drives us. Answer the following question, and I can tell you how you are going to vote on this bill:

Do you believe healthcare is a right for every American or do you believe it is a privilege; that if you have enough money and you are lucky enough, you can get it, and if you don’t, you go without.

If you answer the question that it is a privilege, that it should be a right in America, then you have to reject this approach. You cannot take helpless people, some of whom are working hard in two and three jobs at a time and who have no healthcare benefits, and say to them: Sorry. Our system will not take care of you.

One last point. The irony of that is that if you do not give people health insurance, if you do not give them protection, they still get sick, they still go to the hospital, and they still get care. What happens to the bills they cannot pay? Everybody else pays them. Before the Affordable Care Act, each of us paid $1,000 a year in premiums just to cover for the people who could not afford health insurance.

We think there is a better way. We think Americans should have access to affordable health insurance across the board, and we think we can achieve that if we work together on a bipartisan basis. So I hope the more Republican Senator will join Senators COLLINS and MURKOWSKI and bring us back to what JOHN MCCAIN described on the floor today to the Senate—of having a real debate about real issues and really caring about the American people.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Ohio.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that after my remarks the senior Senator from Hawaii be recognized.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, what is happening today on the Senate floor is outrageous. I still cannot quite believe my colleagues as their staff members stood behind them in the Senate Chamber to my right. All of them have health insurance that is paid for by taxpayers. All of us—all of them, all of the staff, all of the Senators, all of the members paid for by taxpayers. Yet they would come to the Senate floor with their votes entrusted to them and given to them by the voting public in their districts and their States. All of them have health insurance that is paid for by the taxpayers, and they would vote to take insurance away from hundreds of thousands of people in my State and in Washington and in Wyoming and in Alabama and in Hawaii.

Millions of people around the country, most of whom have jobs—people who are working $8-, $10-, $12-, $15-an-hour jobs—are not as well paid as the staff, and staff who stand behind us as these floor sessions go on, and they would take insurance away from people like them. I am still just incredulous that that would have happened. This bill affects all of our constituents. It would upend one-fifth of the American economy. Yet the people whom we serve have no idea what is in this bill. We really do not know what is in it.

Over the weekend, people said Senator MCCONNELL was going to bring us all to the floor on Tuesday to vote on the by-the-staff amendment. This is the law as it is. It is repeal the Affordable Care Act. I was part of writing the Affordable Care Act as a member of the Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions Committee. That bill took months and months and months of hearings, and hundreds of amendments. The committee adopted, and I supported, 150 Republican amendments. It was the way we should do things here. Instead, Senator MCCONNELL met just down this hall—I know he does not quite show this. Down this hall in his office, he met with lobbyists from Wall Street, with lobbyists from the drug companies, and with lobbyists from the insurance companies. I do not think the President was part of this—he is, perhaps, too junior—but four or five Republican Senators were in there, and they wrote a bill that, alas, was good for drug companies, was good for insurance companies, and was good for Wall Street. It just left out the public.

Now I really know what is in the bill this time. One of the things we do know is, all of the options are bad for my State of Ohio and that all of the options are bad for the people who elected us to serve here. Let me talk about those options.

First, behind door No. 1, we have the repeal of the Affordable Care Act with no replacement. Again, behind door No. 1, I do not know if that is what this bill is. I am one of the skeptics. So behind door No. 1 is repeal with no replacement. That means repealing the entire Affordable Care Act with no plan to replace it. It creates dangerous uncertainty that of course will drive prices up for everyone. When insurance companies, when the people who have insurance now have no idea what is going to happen, of course it drives prices up. Of course, it means insurance companies will pull out of Wyoming and Alabama and Washington State and Ohio, quite show this.

According to the nonpartisan Congressional Budget Office, 18 million Americans will lose their health insurance next year, and premiums will go up 20 percent. Professionals hold these jobs. They are people who are not Republicans, who are not Democrats, who are just like the Parliamentary, who is not aligned with either party. The Congressional Budget Office is just like that.

Again, think about that. Think of the Members of the Senate. Think of the Senate’s staff who line up along this wall during floor sessions. All of us have been going to take it away. According to this plan behind door No. 1, we are going to take it away from 18 million Americans. There would be less coverage, and premiums would go up 20 percent—higher costs. By the end of this decade, 32 million Americans—that is like 1 out of 10 Americans—who currently have insurance would be without health coverage and premiums would double. So 32 million people lose their insurance within the decade and premiums double.

Let’s talk about what we have been doing. Barbara, whom I met in Toledo just recently, is 63. She is not old enough for Medicare; she relies on the healthcare exchanges. Repeal with no replacement would create massive uncertainty for Ohioans. According to the Senate staff who voted yes today—does the Senate staff who stands behind here who have insurance from—taxpayers like Barbara—do they think about Barbara? Do they think about somebody who reads in the paper that the Senate took the first—still reversible but barely—step toward taking their insurance away? Do they ever think about people like Barbara? Do they, as President Lincoln said, ever get out and get their public opinion pass and listen to people like Barbara? She is 63 years old, and she doesn’t know if she will have insurance next month. Imagine that. Do the staff back here, do the Senators who get insurance from—taxpayers—do they think: Oh, may my insurance exist a few months down now. Do they think about that? I am guessing they don’t.

Repeal with no replacement creates massive uncertainty for Ohioans like her. We have already seen this year what that uncertainty does to Ohio families, with insurance companies that have been forced to pull out of the market as Congress and the White House create more and more uncertainty. When Aetna pulled out of Dayton and other communities in Ohio—in that area and other areas left nearly 20 counties in Ohio without any insurer next year. When they did that, they announced it was because of the uncertainty in this Congress, that nobody really quite knows what is happening.

So that is door No. 1—repeal with no replacement, higher cost, less coverage.

Let’s look at door No. 2. Behind door No. 2 is the plan that MITCH MCCONNELL negotiated in secret. As I said, straight down this hall, go to the right, that is MITCH MCCONNELL’s office. That is where the drug company lobbyists hung out; that is where the insurance company lobbyists hung out; that is where the Wall Street lobbyists hung out and a small number of Senators, and then they slammed the door shut. That is how they wrote this bill. The Parliamentary Officer left his constituents in Florida. The drug companies wrote the bill. The insurance companies wrote the bill. Wall Street wrote the bill. And, alas, the bill: tax cuts for insurance companies and tax cuts for the drug companies. We are going to take away the 400 richest families in America—many of them contribute huge numbers of dollars, with lots of zeroes on them, to my Republican colleagues who voted for this bill. The 400 richest families in America will get—under this McConnell door No. 2, there are not just higher costs with less coverage for the public, but 400 families will average a $7 million tax cut for each of the next 10 years.

The McConnell plan would increase healthcare costs for working families. We know that. They would slap on higher costs. They would give themselves massive tax breaks for drug companies, and was good for taxpayers—do they think:

What does this plan do for the opioid epidemic? I have had dozens—maybe not dozens—I have done at least 15 or 20 roundtables around Ohio to talk about the opioid epidemic with doctors and nurses, psychologists and therapists and nurses, people who are recovering from addiction and their families, and others. One thing they all agree on is that the single best tool to combat the opioid epidemic is Medicaid. The single best tool to combat the opioid epidemic is Medicaid. This bill would take away the No. 1 tool we have to fight that.

So 220,000 Ohioans right now are struggling with opioid addiction, getting treatment for opioid addiction—220,000—they are getting their addiction treatment because they have the Affordable Care Act and insurance provided by the Affordable Care Act. We are going to take that away from them.

At one of my roundtables in Cincinnati—the Talbot House—a father... sitting next to his daughter, who I believe was in her early thirties, looked at me and said: My daughter would be dead from an opioid overdose had it not been for Medicaid expansion. I thank Governor Kasich for having the courage to stand up against his President and stand up for the proper leadership in this town and do the right thing in expanding Medicaid.

This plan, door No. 2, has higher costs, less coverage, and would kick many of those 220,000 people off their insurance. It would disrupt treatment for hundreds of thousands of Ohioans as they fight for their lives. It would pull the rug out from under local police and communities in the midst of an epidemic.

A number of police officers told me that when they go to a home—a police officer or a firefighter or another first responder—when they go to a home where somebody is unconscious because of an opioid epidemic, first they have to revolve them, and the second thing they do is sign them up for Medicaid. They sign them up for Medicaid so they can get treatment. Otherwise, there is a very good chance that person will die.

The most potent tool for fighting opioid addiction is Medicaid. Yet this body voted today—2 Republicans stood up and voted against this—today, 50 Republicans and the Vice President of the United States, who honored us with his presence today with the tie-breaking vote, voted essentially to kick those people off their treatment.

So door No. 2, the insurance company lobbyist plan: higher costs, less coverage. The same plan written by lobbyists.

Let’s talk about door No. 3. Behind door No. 3 are higher costs and less coverage. It is the same plan written by lobbyists, just with taxpayer dollars thrown in to buy off votes. Same result—higher costs and less coverage.

They can’t just throw money at this bill and make it better.

Take opioids. They want to take away Medicaid, which is the No. 1 tool we have to get people treated, and then they throw in a $45 billion Federal grant program instead.

Governor Kasich said that those dollars—taking away Medicaid, taking away treatment, taking away insurance from the 700,000 Ohioans in Medicaid’s middle class—would mean that 700,000 Ohioans lose $45 billion in Federal grant money.

Governor Kasich said that those dollars—taking away Medicaid, taking away treatment, taking away insurance from the 700,000 Ohioans in Medicaid’s middle class—would mean that 700,000 Ohioans lose $45 billion in Federal grant money.

The director of Ohio’s Medicaid Program said the Republican Senate plan would be devastating for Ohio. For instance, if someone had cancer, I don’t think the best treatment for cancer is to cut off their insurance and then give them a Katie. You can’t get their oncologist—not even a Federal grant to pay their oncologist. You don’t treat people by a Federal grant, you treat people by insurance and all of the wraparound of insurance that matters.

It is not just those fighting addiction—I talked a lot about opioids—it is kids with special healthcare needs. It is kids with special healthcare needs. There is a program called Medicaid for those young people struggling with various kinds of physical and mental illnesses in the schools. That is helpful.

It is rural hospitals. I have been on the phone with literally four dozen hospital CEOs in this State—at least four dozen, a number of them a number of times—and small hospitals in rural communities know that they may close if this bill, the one behind door No. 3, is adopted.

It is seniors in nursing homes, and it is their families who help care for them. Few people realize that three in five nursing home residents in my State rely on Medicaid to cover the cost of their care. That is 60 percent. They have to go to their grandparents. These are middle-class families and working-class families who end up in nursing homes. They run out of money at the end of their lives. That is Medicaid dollars. Two-thirds of Medicaid dollars go to children or opioid addiction, they go to nursing homes to take care of our parents and grandparents.

I met with families again in Toledo last week who rely on Medicaid to help afford the care they need. Bob’s mother Blanche lives at a home in Perrysburg, a suburb of Toledo. My mother and father worked all their lives. My mother is 95 and receives a pension of only $1,500 a month. Medicaid keeps her alive so she is able to spend time with her kids and her grandkids.

I remember Margaret Mead, the great anthropologist, who said that wisdom and knowledge are passed from grandparent to grandchild. A child can spend time with his grandparents, as my daughters got to spend time with their grandparents, especially my grandmother in her last years. It didn’t just bring great joy to the grandparents, it imparts wisdom and understanding and education to the grandchildren. Medicaid does that, too, when people have insurance, when people are taken care of in nursing homes and assisted living.

We talk about people like Blanche who worked hard to build a good life for her family. They paid their taxes. They paid their insurance premiums. They paid into Medicare and Social Security. So we are going to cut their Medicaid in the last years of their lives. They shouldn’t have to lose everything because they need more intensive care in the later years of their lives, and neither should their families, who are already squeezed—people in their forties and fifties and early sixties—who worry about their children’s education on the one hand and then worry about paying for nursing home care for their parents on the other.

Another huge portion of the people Medicaid helps are Ohioans who are workers, who pay taxes, who have children with a disability or with serious special needs. Nearly 500,000 kids in Ohio—20 percent of Ohio kids, 2 in 10—have special healthcare needs. Boaz, whom I met in Cleveland, was born with several heart defects. He wouldn’t be alive today without treatment covered by Medicaid. Benjamin Dworning from Akron, born with Down syndrome, visited my office recently with his parents.

It is not just kids with special needs who will lose out. Ohio schools could lose $12 million a year. Twenty-two percent of rural hospitals would be at risk of closing. It goes on and on. These are all problems created by this bill behind door No. 3, written by lobbyists, written down the hall in Senator McConnell’s office by drug company and insurance company and Wall Street lobbyists. That is the bill—undisclosed, unknown until he regurgitated it on the Senate floor and gave us this bill.

Cleveland.com wrote: “As for the proposed $200 billion to ease the path for ACA funding losses, this too would pale compared with the losses themselves.”

Again, Governor Kasich—he, a Republican; I, a Democrat—said this is spitting in the ocean.

So that is what is behind door No. 3—higher costs, less coverage.

That brings us to door No. 4. What is behind the last door? We have no idea. It is the ultimate mystery plan.

Remember what uncertainty has already done to Ohio families? There are 20 counties with no insurer next year.

As an editor at the Columbus Dispatch—Ohio’s most conservative newspaper—said to me about a month and a half ago, uncertainty is like carbon monoxide for business, a silent killer.

Now, the Republican Party, which fashions itself as the party of business, has specialized over the last 10 years in injecting uncertainty into the economy—uncertainties such as, are we going to pass the Export-Import Bank, which Senator Murray worked so hard on, so our companies can export American-manufactured, well-made products? Are we going to pay our debts or are we not going to meet our obligations and shut down the government? Are we going to leave hanging out there the Affordable Care Act, one of these things create uncertainty, and as a result, business investment freezes. We know what happens. So who knows what kind of damage this latest vote will do in the insurance market.

The other thing that is certain is that this mystery plan behind door No. 4 will mean higher costs and it will mean less coverage, because nothing so far—nothing that has been put on the table—could result in anything else. The math doesn’t work. How can anyone stand here—again, staff standing by the wall here and Members of the Senate, all getting insurance provided by taxpayers—how can you stand here and threaten to take away the insurance of others and at the same time drive up costs.

The Affordable Care Act is not perfect. Of course, it is not. We have work to do. Senator Schumer talked today about it. Sit down with us. We would love to work through many of the items and get more young, healthy people into the insurance pool, to stabilize the insurance market, to go after the high cost of prescription drugs and maybe, even to consider Medicare at 55. We voted one vote away from opening up Medicare in a revenue-neutral way for people between 55 and 64 who might have lost their insurance as they get sick or as they get older. There are all of those options, but don't start with repeal, throwing millions of Americans off of their insurance.

I agree with Governor Kasich one more time. Yesterday, Governor Kasich said: Until Congress can step back from more time. Yesterday, Governor Kasich repeal, throwing millions of Americans for people between 55 and 64 who might up Medicare in a revenue-neutral way, to stabilize the insurance market, to go after the high cost of prescription drugs and stabilize the insurance market, to go after and as, more or less, 98 of us sat here and watched and wondered what was going on and saw that political gamesmanship, together with a workable bipartisan plan, it is a mistake for the Senate to proceed with the vote we just took on Tuesday. He said that yesterday.

Instead of down the hall Senator McConnell working with insurance companies and drug company lobbyists, instead of listening to the drug companies so that he puts the tax break for drug companies in the bill, let's listen to the people of Kentucky, Wyoming, Texas, Louisiana, Alabama, North Carolina, Ohio, Hawaii, and Washington. Let's listen to the people of the States of my colleagues in this body.

Let's work on a bipartisan plan to fix what is not working in the Affordable Care Act. Let's keep what is working and improve what works better for the people whom we serve. The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. Rubbo). The Senator from Hawaii.

Mr. SCHATZ. Mr. President, how much time remains?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There is 5½ minutes.

Mr. SCHATZ. Mr. President, we just took one of the most reckless legislative actions in this body's history. We are blowing up the American healthcare system, and we don't even know what comes next.

I want to be clear. The Senate has never before voted on major legislation that would reorder about one-sixth or one-fifth of the American economy and impact millions of lives without actually knowing what the bill would even do.

There has been no bipartisanship. There has been talk of it, but there have been no real discussions. There have been no public hearings. Let me say something about hearings. This is not a technical point. This is the way a legislative body does its work. This is the way we figure out whether our bill is any good or not. This is the way the Senate has always worked. We don't do major legislation without hearings. But that is what we are doing today, and that is because people don't want to disclose what is in the bill.

It is true that we don't know exactly what is in the bill, but we can be sure of a few things. First, whatever problems there are with the ACA, this bill doesn't even bother to take a swing at them. To the extent people are worried about high deductibles, it will increase the deductibles. To the degree people are worried about the choices on the exchanges, it doesn't even try to solve that problem.

We don't know exactly how much Medicaid will be cut, whether it is just rolling back the Medicaid expansion or making these radical structural reforms, but we know there will be deep cuts to Medicaid. This will hurt people. It will hurt our seniors in nursing homes. It will hurt people with drug addiction. Medicaid is a program that works for tens of millions of Americans, and it will be slashed massively.

We don't know whether they are going to get rid of the capital gains tax or just other revenue, but we know they are going to reduce many of the taxes in the original Affordable Care Act, and they are going to pay for it by cutting Medicaid.

So under the guise of fixing the ACA, they are actually doing nothing about ACA. What they are doing is cutting taxes and cutting Medicaid. We don't know exactly what is in the bill, but we do know that.

People are going to be hurt—people with preexisting conditions, families with loved ones struggling with opioid abuse, people in nursing homes, people who rely on Planned Parenthood, and the tens of millions of people who will lose their insurance almost instantly. That is why every group—from the American Medical Association to the nurses, to the American Cancer Society, to the March of Dimes, to the National Physicians Alliance, and the AARP—opposes this bill. There are 14 different versions of this bill, but, actually, these organizations oppose them all.

There are some core elements of the vote we took that are going to be true no matter what. We're going to cut Medicaid and cut taxes. It will reduce patient protections. It will reduce the number of people who have insurance.

It was all done with no hearings, with no Democrats, with no experts on healthcare. The thing is going to be dropped on us without enough time to review it and without enough time to interact with our home State and figure out the impact.

Make no mistake, the reason they will not tell you what is going to be in the final bill is because in the moment they do, this thing will come crashing down. What the American people have to do is to make sure that this thing comes crashing down anyway. We have to do it for the tens of millions of Americans who depend on Medicaid and the ACA. We have to do it for our rural hospitals. We have to do it for the people with preexisting conditions. We have to do it for the people without power, without the ability to walk 200 yards from this glided Chamber and get the best healthcare in the world.

I will be fine. All the Members of this Chamber will be fine. But our job is not to take care of ourselves. Our job is to represent our constituents, and this bill has earned the title of most unpopular major bill in American history, most unpopular major legislation in American history.

There is still time to walk back from the brink.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The majority leader.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the yeas and nays with respect to amendment No. 267.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Wyoming.

Mr. ENZI. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

(The amendment is printed in today's RECORD under "Text of Amendments.")

Mr. ENZI. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that there be 1 hour for debate on amendment No. 270, equally divided between the two managers or their designees; that following the use or yielding back of time, Senator MURRAY or her designee be recognized to make a point of order against the amendment, and that Senator ENZI or his designee then be recognized to make a motion to waive; further, that following the vote on the motion to waive, Senator Enzi or his designee be recognized to offer a second-degree amendment, and that Senator Murray or her designee be recognized to offer a motion to commit; finally, that the time from 10 a.m. until 12 noon tomorrow, Senator MURRAY or her designee or her managers or their designees; that at 12 noon tomorrow, Senator MURRAY or her designee be recognized to make a point of order, and that Senator Enzi or his designee be recognized to make a motion to waive; that following the motion to waive, the Senate vote in relation to the amendment No. 271, and that Senator MURRAY or her designee be recognized to offer a motion to commit; finally, that the time from 10 a.m. until 12 noon be equally divided between the managers or their designees; that following the use or yielding back of time, Senator MURRAY or her designee be recognized to make a motion to waive; that following the motion to waive, the Senate vote in relation to the amendment No. 271; that following disposition of the amendment, the time until 2:15 p.m. be equally divided on the Murray motion to commit, with a vote on the motion at 2:15 p.m. I further ask that following disposition of the Murray motion, Senator MURRAY or her designee be recognized to offer an additional motion to commit.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oregon.

Mr. WYDEN. Mr. President, the pitch to Republican Senators this afternoon before the first vote was that it was nothing but a little bit of threat clearing—just a first step to get the conversation started.

Let's be clear, nobody can pretend the stakes aren't real now. In a few minutes, the Senate will be voting on yet another version of the Senate Trumpcare bill, that the CBO having been scored by the CBO. It features a special gut punch to consumer protection offered by Senator CRUZ.

My view is, the Cruz proposal is a prescription for misery for millions of Americans dealing with serious illness and bedeviling the private insurance market. Forget, colleagues, all the talk about bringing costs down. This bill is going to send health expenses like deductibles and copayments into the stratosphere.

Trumpcare 3.0, BCRA 3.0, tells insurance companies: Look, you are off the hook for basic consumer protection. You get to bring back annual and lifetime caps on coverage, and those caps would hit people who get their healthcare through their employer, as well as those who buy it for themselves in the individual market. You can forget about essential health benefits. You get to plug the holes with bargain-basement insurance plans, as long as you offer one, single, comprehensive option, the kind of plan that actually works for people with preexisting conditions and, by the way, you get to price it with the premiums for the healthy, and that is why the CBO has said that the bill is likely to cause chaos for the reasons I described in the private insurance market.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Ohio.

Mr. PORTMAN. Mr. President, I rise tonight to talk about the Portman amendment and about the broader substitute that repeals and replaces the Affordable Care Act, otherwise known as ObamaCare, was enacted in 2010, we heard a lot of promises about lower costs. They promised that ObamaCare would bring down premium costs by 2,500 bucks for the average family, but we now know that families have seen premium increases every year. According to the Ohio Department of Insurance, health insurance premiums on the individual market in Ohio have nearly doubled since the Affordable Care Act went into effect 7 years ago. Small business owners have gone from paying the good old BCRA 2 to the good old BCRA 3.0. Premiums for this year are up double-digit, and next year we all expect the same. No one can afford that.

To make matters worse, we have seen a sharp increase in deductibles. For a lot of people covered by insurance, they feel as though they really don't have health care insurance at all because their out-of-pocket expenses are so high and deductibles are so high, they really can't access it.

Higher premiums and deductibles have already made healthcare unaffordable for a lot of hard-working Ohioans. But it is not just about costs, it is also about choice. Some people are losing their insurance altogether because the policies established in the Affordable Care Act were set up for failure.

Fifteen of the 23 nonprofit insurers set up around the country as co-ops around the Affordable Care Act have now gone bankrupt. One was in Ohio. Last year in my State, 22,000 hard-working Ohioans lost their coverage because our co-op declared bankruptcy. Many of them, by the way, had already paid their deductibles on that, and they lost that as well.

Worse than that even, right now there are 19 counties in Ohio without a single insurance company in the exchange market, the individual market—not one insurance company. Another 27 counties in Ohio have only 1 insurer. That is not competition. That is not choice. Far too many Ohioans—thousands of them—if they want health insurance, are told they have to move out of their county to another county.

Less competition has also meant less choices and higher costs for Ohio families and cost shifting on to employer-based plans. As these insurance companies have lost money, some of them haven't left Ohio, but they shifted their costs to other people. That is why so many people's costs have gone up.

Without competition and choice in the marketplace, we are not able to lower healthcare costs for families and small businesses. That is one more reason why the status quo on healthcare, the system we have now, is not sustainable. That's why Affordable Care Act has failed to meet the promises that were made, but we can do better, and we have to do better. It is our job to do better, but we should do it in a way that protects low-income beneficiaries of Medicaid, that protects the most vulnerable in our State. We can do that too.

At the outset of this debate and consistently throughout the debate, I have said my goal was to create a more workable healthcare system that lowers the cost of coverage and provides access to affordable care while protecting the most vulnerable. This most recent version of the Better Care Reconciliation Act— as my colleague just called it, BCRA.3—is an improvement over the House bill, but it is also an improvement over the previous Senate bill. This measure includes reforms that will help lower premiums on families and small businesses. The No. 1 priority should be to lower those costs. This bill will help lower those premiums.

Throughout the process, I have expressed my concerns about how we deal with Medicaid, which is a critically important Federal program that provides healthcare benefits to about 70 million Americans who live below the Federal poverty line. The Affordable Care Act allowed States, including Ohio, to expand Medicaid eligibility actually above the poverty line, to 138 percent of poverty, and to cover single adults.

With our growing debt and deficits, we know the current Medicaid Program is not financially sustainable over the long term, and we have to look for innovative solutions to protect and preserve it now so that Ohioans can count on this program in the future and so that those who need it will have it.

My point all along has been that these reforms can and should be done in a way that doesn’t pull the rug out from under people and gives States time to adjust. So, in this Senate bill, I have worked to put Medicaid expansion on a glidepath for 6 years, with the current law for 3 years and then a transition for another 3 years. That transition would be to a new healthcare system. This is a big improvement over the House bill, which had a cliff in 2 years without a glidepath.

Just as important, in this substitute before us, Governors would have new flexibility in this legislation to design innovative Medicaid Programs that meet the needs of their States and their expansion populations.

One issue I have focused on a lot in this discussion has been the opioid epidemic. In my own State of Ohio, this epidemic has had a devastating effect. At least 250,000 Ohioans now suffer from drug abuse, largely from opioids and prescription drugs and the new synthetic heroin, such as fentanyl. Unbelievably, I will tell you that about half of the funds we spend in expanded Medicaid in Ohio go for one purpose, and that is mental health and substance abuse treatment, primarily driven by addiction to heroin and prescription drugs and fentanyl.

We have to deal with this issue in a smart way. In this latest version of the substitute before us, why I fought to provide not only that transition for those on expanded Medicaid but also an additional and unprecedented $45 billion in new resources for States to address the opioid epidemic. I am pleased to say that in the legislation we are going to vote on tonight, it is included. We want those receiving opioid treatment under Medicaid expansion to maintain access to treatment as they work to get back on their feet. This new funding is critical to help ensure both the treatment and longer term recovery.

An additional issue I have been working on is to ensure that those on expanded Medicaid are able to find affordable healthcare options under a new system not only have the new Medicaid structure or affordable healthcare options in the private sector on the private market. Over the past few weeks, I have worked with the President, the Vice President, administration officials, and many of my colleagues on ways to improve this bill further in this regard, to help out low-income Ohioans and others who are trying to find affordable coverage. That is why this proposal before us, the Portman amendment, is so important.

By the way, it is called the Portman amendment, and it is the result of the work of a lot of different Senators, some of whom I saw on the floor earlier and one I see here tonight. Senator Capito, Senator Capito; Senator Portman, Senator Portman; and Senators Hoeven, Gardner, Sullivan, Cassidy, Young, Boozman, Heller, Murkowski, and others, have worked on this proposal.

I am pleased that we have received a commitment that the Senate will vote tonight on this approach to help those on Medicaid expansion and other low-income Americans get access to affordable healthcare in the private market.

This plan has two parts. First, it provides an additional $100 billion to the long-term stability fund in the Better Care Reconciliation Act to help people with out-of-pocket expenses, such as deductibles and copays, thus ensuring that those who transition from Medicaid every year under a new system not only have the tax credit to help them, which is part of the underlying bill, but also have this additional help for affordable coverage options.

Second, it is a Medicaid wraparound that allows States to provide cost-sharing assistance to low-income individuals who transition from Medicaid to private insurance and receive a tax credit on the exchange. The States could use this flexibility in combination with this long-term stability fund increase—the additional dollars I am talking about—to assist individuals with their deductibles, out-of-pocket expenses, and copays.

It would also help the States to capture Federal Medicaid matched dollars to supplement the tax credits under the Better Care Act without having to seek and renew existing waiver authority.

This Medicaid wraparound is already available through a waiver, but we think it is critically important to put it in a statute so that other administrators and the current ones—Seema Verma has said she supports this waiver being granted—but others will grant it, and you don’t have to renew this waiver or beg for a waiver. It is a commonsense way to help get people who are going into private plans the help they need to be able to afford the premiums, deductibles, and copays.

This is a commonsense approach to help ensure that these low-income Americans have access to affordable care, and I urge my colleagues to support it.

We must do better than the Affordable Care Act. I have heard from people across Ohio on both sides of this debate. Trust me, I have heard a lot. There is a lot of passion. I understand that. But it is interesting, the common denominator in many of these discussions is that doing nothing is not sustainable. Pretty much everybody acknowledges that the status quo is not working. Ohioans deserve action.

In my view, to throw in the towel and give up on finding a better alternative is to give up on Ohio’s families, give up on Ohio’s small businesses, and I am not willing to do that.

We all know the Affordable Care Act has not lived up to its promises to the American people. Today, after 7 years of consistently calling for repeal and replace, I am supporting a sensible plan to do just that. Is it perfect? No. I don’t think any substitute is. Replacement is hard. But it is an improvement on the unsustainable status quo, and it does help keep our promise to the American people to do better.

I urge my colleagues to support the legislation before us.

I yield back my time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Massachusetts.

Mr. MARKEY. Thank you, Mr. President.

Mr. President, earlier today the Senate voted on a bill to dismantle this country’s healthcare—a cruel bill that would affect every American and one-sixth of our economy; a heartless bill that was crafted in secret, without public debate and without input from the families who will be impacted; an inhumane bill that would make health insurance unaffordable for millions of Americans and leave millions more with no access at all.

Despite this legislative malpractice, despite numerous independent analyses and nonpartisan Congressional Budget Office findings that millions of Americans will lose coverage and face increased costs, despite Americans from across the country pleading with Republicans not to rip away their coverage or take a machete to Medicaid, despite that, President Trump and Republican leaders are politics ahead of people and voted to repeal the Affordable Care Act. That is a travesty.

I have often said that the proudest vote that I ever cast in favor of the Affordable Care Act. The second proudest vote is today, voting no on this cruel, heartless, inhumane bill.
To all of my constituents in Massachusetts, please know that I vote no with you in mind.

Massachusetts is the home of universal healthcare. We have a model for the Affordable Care Act. Because of our belief that healthcare is a right and not just a privilege, 98 percent of Massachusetts residents have healthcare coverage. That was a dream of the great Teddy Kennedy, the lion of this Chamber, and it is a reality in Massachusetts.

I cast this historic vote today to proceed to debate on healthcare legislation, but rest assured, the fight to protect the Affordable Care Act is far from over.

It is a testament to how divided the Republican Party is over how to replace the healthcare law that we still don’t know which version of TrumpCare we will proceed to vote on for final passage. It is not because Republicans haven’t had time—they have had 7 years to craft a plan to repeal the Affordable Care Act. Rather, the chaos we have seen so far from Senate Republicans is because millions of Americans are finally benefiting from insurance coverage, many for the first time, and they don’t want these protections taken away.

In many ways, it doesn’t matter which bill they bring up for a vote because all versions of the Republican healthcare bill are terrible. Republicans have the same idea how they will go about protecting those with pre-existing conditions and ensure that millions aren’t kicked off their current insurance plan.

Senate Republicans have so far proposed three bills that would each devastate the healthcare sector, take a machete to Medicaid, and make the poorest in our country pay for tax breaks for the wealthiest. These bills are the bad, the worse, and the ugly.

First, the bad.

Senate Republicans proposed legislation at the end of June—just a month ago—that would rip away health insurance from 22 million Americans and give the top 400 wealthiest people in our country a tax break worth $33 billion.

Then the worse.

They introduced yet another bill that would also kick 22 million Americans off of their health insurance and cut Medicaid by $750 billion. They tried to buy Republican votes with a separate Medicaid and hamstringing access to healthcare for the wealthiest in our country, who do not need them or deserve them. Even in Massachusetts, the Republican proposals would mean more than 290,000 people would lose coverage, often the most vulnerable. It is estimated that the Medicaid alone would cost the State more than $3 billion by the year 2025.

There are no changes, no so-called fixes, no modifications to make any of these bills less cruel. Each of the Republican proposals will just exacerbate the most devastating public health crisis facing the country—the battle against opioid overdose deaths.

Leader McConnell said today that he would be thinking about the families of the nearly 1,000 people who died from opioid overdose in Kentucky last year.

In a blatantly craven attempt to make TrumpCare more palatable, moderate Republicans from States that have been ravaged by the opioid crisis a few years ago, when he cast his vote to kick at least 20 million Americans off of their health insurance coverage. Yet do you know who will really be hurting? It will be the families of the nearly 1,000 people who died from opioid overdose in Kentucky last year.

The GOP plan reduces access to care and treatment wealth—tax breaks for the rich coming from the cuts in healthcare coverage for those who need it the most in our country. They are abandoning hard-working families so that they must fend for themselves while they bestow those gifts of billions in tax breaks to the wealthy. That is shameful.

The GOP replacement plan also imposes an age tax on older Americans, this bill would charge older Americans five times more than younger Americans for the same coverage. That is unconscionable.

The GOP plan reduces access to care for those with preexisting conditions—Americans with cancer, diabetes, women who have had children. They want to force them to pay for a Cadillac, but they then hand over to them a tricycle. That is just plain wrong.

On this floor, it is going to be a battle of visions, and I am going to keep speaking and keep fighting until my Republican colleagues understand how important these issues are to every single family in our country.

The American people who believe in quality, affordable healthcare will not be silenced by today’s vote. Instead, we will be invigorated to call out the callousness in any of these bills that would threaten the economic security for low-income and working families in our communities, the already overflowing bank accounts of the 1 percent. Oh, no. This fight is just beginning out here on the Senate floor because the lives of all proposals have one thing in common: heartlessness. They all reduce coverage. They all increase costs for Americans. They all eviscerate Medicaid, causing irreparable damage to a program that provides coverage for 70 million Americans, and they all hand over the challenges of substance addiction to the wealthiest in our country, who do not need them or deserve them. Even in Massachusetts, the Republican proposals would mean more than 290,000 people would lose coverage, often the most vulnerable. It is estimated that the Medicaid alone would cost the State more than $3 billion by the year 2025.

Americans who would be hurt by the Senate’s vote today to begin debate on repealing the Affordable Care Act are simply too important for us to stop fighting.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Texas.

Mr. CRUZ. Mr. President, today is an important step in a very long journey. Some 7 years ago, ObamaCare passed into law, and in the 7 years that ObamaCare has been on the books, we have seen the results of this catastrophic law. We have seen the devastation that has resulted. ObamaCare is the biggest job killer in this country.

You and I and the Senators who have listened to their constituents across the country have heard over and over again from small businesses that have been hammered by ObamaCare. As I have listened to small businesses in the State of Texas over and over again, they talk about ObamaCare as the single biggest challenge they face.

Indeed, thanks to ObamaCare, we have discovered two new categories of people who have been hurt by the Federal Government—the so-called 49ers and the 29ers. The 49ers are the millions of small businesses that have 47, 48, 49 employees and yet do not grow to 50 because at 50, they would be subject to ObamaCare, and in being subject to ObamaCare, they would go out of business. There are literally millions of small businesses that are forced to work part time; nothing for the 29ers, the single moms who could not get new jobs; nothing for the 49ers who could not get new jobs; nothing for the millions of people who have the insurance plans that they liked canceled; nothing for the millions of people who could not go see their own doctors anymore; nothing for the millions of people whose premiums had skyrocketed. After 7 years of stonewalling and blocking and saying “We do not hear you” to the American people, now our friends on the Democratic aisle are conducting a study on the impact of the failed law—have been mounting and mounting, and for 7 years, the Democrats have been content to do nothing. Barack Obama as President and Democrats having majorities in the Senate did nothing for the 49ers who could not get new jobs; nothing for the millions of people who have the insurance plans that they liked canceled; nothing for the millions of people who could not go see their own doctors anymore; nothing for the millions of people whose premiums had skyrocketed.

The bill before the Senate is not perfect. No one would expect it to be perfect. Bismarck’s comments about sau-

The consumer freedom amendment was designed to bring together and serve as a compromise for those who support the mandates in title I. The consumer freedom amendment says that insurance companies, if they offer plans that meet those title I mandates—all the protections for pre-existing conditions—they can also sell any other plan that consumers desire. So it takes away nothing. If you like your ObamaCare plans, those are still there. It just adds new options and lets you decide: Do you want the ObamaCare option or do you want something else that is affordable? Rather than getting fixed by the IRS, you can actually purchase something that meets the needs for you and your family.

Now, our friends on the Democratic aisle have been unwilling to look at any option expanding consumer free-doing just say it won’t work. What we know won’t work is ObamaCare. We know premiums have risen over $5,000 a year. What happens with the consumer freedom amendment? And this is critical. Over the past 2 weeks, the Department of Health and Human Services conducted a study on the impact of the consumer freedom amendment. They concluded, No. 1, it would expand insurance coverage by 2.2 million people. Our friends on the Democratic aisle are constantly alleging that repealing ObamaCare will cause coverage. Well, HHS found the consumer freedom amendment expands it by 2.2 million people.
But what does it do to premiums? This is powerful. HHS found that it will reduce premiums by over $7,000 a year. If you are a single mom, if you are a school teacher, if you are a truck-driver, $7,000 a year is a lot of money. It is the difference between making ends meet and perhaps, HHS found specifically that for those choosing freedom plans—the less expensive options—premiums would drop $7,260 a year.

But what about those on the exchanges? What about those purchasing plans subject to all of the mandates? HHS found those plans would also drop, they projected by $5,580 a year. So consumers benefit across the board with lower premiums.

This has been a process. At the end of this process, it is not clear what the Senate is going to pass, what is going to bring together and unite the Republican conference because, sadly, the Democrats are not willing to help us provide more consumer freedom, to help us provide relief to the 40ers and 20ers who have been hammered by this bill. But I believe the key to getting this done—and I believe we can and will get to yes. We are not likely to get to 60 tonight, but we can and will get to yes. I think the key to it is the consumer freedom amendment, if we are lowering premiums. IfTexans, ifMontanans, ifpeople across this country are going home and now premiums are for a year cheaper with protections for pre-existing conditions or $7,000 cheaper if you want a catastrophic plan on a freedom plan, that is a win for everyone. It is a win for conservatives. It is a win for moderates. It should be a win for Democrats. If Democrats were not engaged in this partisan fight, Democrats ought to be saying that lowering premiums $5,000 or $7,000 is a win for our citizens. That, I believe, will be the key to getting this done.

Let me finally say that there is rhetoric about insurance companies. Do you know who loves ObamaCare? It is insurance companies. Under ObamaCare, the profits of the top 10 insurance companies have doubled. When you have the IRS fining people to force them to purchase their product and driving up premiums so they are unaffordable, ObamaCare effectively sets up a cartel for the large insurance companies.

Consumer freedom puts you, the consumer, in charge of your choices. Instead of the giant insurance companies, instead of the Federal Government, it puts you in charge. Freedom is the key to unifying our conference, and lowering premiums is the key, and I believe we can and will get this done.

With that, Mr. President, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oregon?

Mr. INLIEY. Mr. President, we are now considering the Cruz amendment, which he titles consumer freedom, but there could not be a more mismatched amendment to come to the floor.

Americans know this as the fake insurance amendment. This is the amendment that says: Hey, insurance companies, we are going to do you a huge favor. You get the policies that aren’t worth the paper they are written on. And, Hey, isn’t this wonderful, says my colleague from Texas, because, you know what, people will only have to pay a few dollars per month for those worthless policies, and that is free.

Well, I will tell you that if my colleague had been out talking to people in rural America, as I have been, if he had been out there talking to people in red America, as I have been, he would be hearing that people are terrified about this effort to annihilate health insurance.

One out of three people in Oregon have been able to be on the Oregon Health Plan, Oregon Health Plan. That has had an incredible impact on our rural healthcare centers. Many of them have doubled their number of employees. About 20,000 employees across the State have been added. Oh, we just heard a speech about it being a job killer, but I can assure you thousands and thousands more people in the healthcare industry across America.

Little communities that didn’t have folks being able to take on mental health can now take on mental health at the local level. The Cruz amendment only have a drug treatment program now have a drug treatment program. Rural hospitals that were going out of business now have a strong financial foundation. And that is just the beginning.

Entrepreneurs across this Nation were tied up in their companies, afraid to leave and pursue their vision because they couldn’t get healthcare by themselves. Now, they can, so they are starting one business after another after another, and what we have seen is month after month after month of growth in employment in this Nation.

Oh, we can tell you about the amend- ment that my colleague from Texas is proposing forward and what it does in terms of offering these fake policies, but that is only the beginning of it because what it is designed to do is carve off those who are young, carve off those who are healthy, and put them to one pool into pre-existing conditions, those who are sick, those who are older, have to go to another pool in which the rates go way up and create a death spiral. So whether we call this fake insurance for the young and healthy or a death spiral insurance for the old and those with health problems or preexisting conditions, it is really blowing up the insurance market at both ends.

Don’t take my word for it; take the experts word for it. We have a Repub- lican Senator who said that there is a real feeling that there is subterfuge to get around the preexisting conditions, referring to this amendment. And then we have a staffer for a Republican who says: “And outside health policy folks have said this would set up a death spiral for the markets.”

OK, but let’s turn to the American Enterprise Institute, an extremely con- servative organization. What does their director, Douglas Holtz-Eakin, say: “This means that people with those kinds of illnesses will end up paying more.” And then he goes on to say, “The people who don’t know something will happen and come down with something, those are the ones at issue.”

Or let’s turn to the American Action Forum Deputy Director Tara O’Neill Hayes, who says: “I think that really would be the definition of a death spi- ral.”

Or we can turn to the former CBO Di- rector, Douglas Holtz-Eakin, who says “What that will do is allow insurers to offer cheap policies to young invincibles. And on the exchange you’re going to get all the sick peo- ple.”

He continues and says: “That’s a recipe for meltdown. You’ve split the risk pool into two exchanges.”

And he says: “I think it would end up being bad politics.”

I am concerned about bad poli- tics, but I am concerned about those folks whom I have been meeting out in rural America, out in red America, because they are coming to my townhalls and they are saying: Stop this aboli- tion of coverage. The Cruz amendment only makes it a lot worse by creating the fake policies for the young and healthy—the young invincibles—and the death spiral insurance for everyone else.

So someone can stand up here and speak glibly about how this is going to fix job creation in America, but what it really says is healthcare for the wealthy—not healthcare, but wealth care.

It is so interesting to see this whole coalition of individuals who want to pass a bill that not only demolishes healthcare for 22 million, but gives hundreds of billions of dollars to the very richest in America. My colleague mentioned a moment ago that the richest 400 families would get $33 billion. No, not $33,000 apiece or $33 million—$33 billion. They feel it is so important to rip healthcare from ordinary working families to deliver benefits to the rest of America. That is the op- posite—opposite—of what we should be doing in America.

Franklin Roosevelt said that the test of our progress is not whether we add more abundance to those who have much; it is whether we do enough for those who have a little. What that translates to is whether we provide a foundation of affordable healthcare so that every family in America has a foundation to thrive. That is what we are fighting for.

This amendment is absolutely a bomb going off in healthcare on both ends of the spectrum, with the young and with the old, with the healthy and with the sick, and with those with preexisting conditions.

So let’s defeat this amendment and make sure we don’t make a really terrible bill a lot worse.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oregon.

Mr. CRUZ. Mr. President, unfortunately, there is far too much scaremongering that occurs in the political world. But as John Adams famously said; “Facts are stubborn things.”

My friend from Oregon just described the consumer freedom amendment as “a bomb going off in healthcare.” That is interesting rhetoric, but it is disconnected from the actual facts.

Let’s talk about what my friend from Oregon neglected to mention or respond to in any way, shape, or form. He said not a single word about HHS finding that the consumer freedom amendment would expand insurance coverage for 2.2 million people. He had not a word to say in response to that. What did he say is that those who might choose freedom plans would be choosing what he called junk insurance.

Well, it is very nice that ObamaCare mandates that every person must buy a full-fledged Cadillac plan with all the coverage. The problem is, there are millions of people who can’t afford it. Not only can they not afford it, they get fined by the IRS because they can’t afford it. My friend from Oregon said not a word about the 6.5 million people fined by the IRS, roughly 50 percent of whom make $25,000 a year or less.

It is interesting that Democrats are advocating fining people who make $25,000 a year or less because they can’t afford insurance. And what they say is: Look, we are going to fine you until you can afford to buy the full Cadillac plan. Well, you know what, if you are a young woman, you are 28 years old, you are just starting your career, you are making $20,000 a year, you may not be able to afford the full Cadillac plan, but you might like some coverage. You might like catastrophic coverage. So if you get a cold, you break your arm, you cover that out of your health savings account perhaps. But if, God forbid, you get some terrible disease or hit by a truck, you would like to have an insurance policy.

Sadly, our friends the Democrats say that you are out of luck. If you can’t pay you can’t get the Cadillac, you get nothing. They think your choices are junk insurance.

Remember when Barack Obama said that if you like your insurance plan, you can keep it? Well, listen to how the ObamaCare exchanges would go into a death spiral, would see their premiums spike. Remember that John Adams quote about facts being stubborn things? Here is something else my friend from Oregon ignored, said nothing about. HHS found that for those on the exchanges, with all the title I mandates, including preexisting conditions, their premiums would drop by over $5,500 a year.

So the question is, Who is more trustworthy, the experts at HHS analyzing what would occur with competition and choices in the marketplace or the expert who says his plan is sad? Is being offered from the other side?

It would be one thing if they were confronting facts, if they were actually addressing real facts; instead, it is nothing but rhetoric.

My friend from Oregon described repealing ObamaCare and empowering consumers and lowering premiums as “wealth care.” Well, there is an irony in that. No, I should say the irony is half of the people paying the IRS fines are making less than $25,000 a year. It is the Democrats who are financing low-income people.

No. 2, do you know who agrees with the Democrats on this? The insurance companies. Indeed, my friend from Oregon was reading from the insurance companies. Why have the top 10 insurance companies had their profits double? Because of the Democrats’ mandate, you have to buy your insurance. Do you know where the Democrats and the insurance companies agree? None of them want premiums to lower.

Of course, the insurance companies don’t want more, more options, and your premiums going down. They want to stick it to you as much as they can. Sadly, I don’t understand why, but the Democrats are standing in arm with the insurance companies, saying their profits need to increase even more. I don’t know, maybe they cynically believe eventually it will push it to single-payer socialized medicine. I don’t know why they do it, but what is wealth care is ObamaCare fattening the insurance companies at the expense of working men and women.

Facts matter, and if our friends on the Democratic side of the aisle want to raise accusations, they need to stay in the realm of reality and deal with the actual facts: You want lower premiums, you want more choices, more options, more competition. You want higher premiums, you want fewer choices, less options, less competition. That is ObamaCare. And it is why millions of people are hurting and frustrated. It is why today is an important day.

I yield back the remainder of my time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oregon.

Mr. MERKLEY. Mr. President, of course my colleagues in Texas made this big rant a little while ago about how ObamaCare is a job killer. When I pointed out it has created jobs all over our country in healthcare, no response. When I pointed out it has created the opportunity for entrepreneurs to create jobs and healthcare jobs, no response. When I pointed out it creates fake insurance that doesn’t cover anything when you get sick, no response. All he has to say is that it makes insurance a little cheaper.

Yes, it is worth the paper it is printed on. Well, not even that, actually, because you pay $40 or $50 a month, you go to the hospital, not covered. If you get in an accident and you need an MRI, not covered. You and your spouse have the opportunity and have a child, not covered. Not covered, not covered, not covered. Fake insurance.

It is the experts who say it throws it into a death spiral. It is the conservatives who say it is a bomb going off in healthcare. And in liberal think tanks. What does he have to say? We have something from the Trump team that says it is OK—not a CBO score because he is afraid it will show it makes it worse than the existing bill.

So let’s talk about real facts. Next time, don’t bring in a political statistic from the Trump team. Let’s get a CBO score on this. Then let’s have that debate. You had plenty of time to get it and you didn’t get it.

This is a terrible amendment. We must defeat it.

Mr. CRUZ. Will the Senator from Oregon yield for a question?

Mr. MERKLEY. I believe my colleague has the remainder of the time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Washington.

Mrs. MURRAY. Mr. President, despite all Senate Republican leaders’ efforts to keep this mean bill hidden from public view, patients and families know the truth.

This legislation would cause families’ healthcare costs to spike. It will gut Medicaid, and it will deny tens of millions of people their healthcare coverage. It will defund Planned Parenthood and take away critical healthcare services that women and men rely on, every day in our rural communities. It is already hard enough to get the care you need. TrumpCare would also completely pull the rug out from under patients with preexisting conditions. I could go on.

We saw every one of my colleagues joins me in voting against this awful legislation, but this vote is far from the last time Senate Republicans need to reject TrumpCare, if they are really serious about protecting patients and families from the damage it would do, because any vehicle that leaves the Senate, extreme Republicans in the House are going to do everything they can to make it even more damaging—and anyone who believes differently is refusing to see the writing on the wall. I urge my Democratic and Republican colleagues to vote against this bill and every other version of it that we are going to see in the coming hours and days.

Mr. President, I yield back all of our time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is all time yielded back?

The Senator from Washington.

Mrs. MURRAY. Mr. President, I raise a point of order that the pending amendment violates section 311(a)(2)(B) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Texas.

Mr. CRUZ. Mr. President, pursuant to section 904 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 and the waiver provisions of applicable budget resolutions, I move to waive all applicable sections of that act and applicable budget resolutions for purposes of amendment No. 270 and, if adopted, for the provisions of the adopted amendment included in any subsequent amendment to H.R. 1628 and any amendment between Houses or conference report thereon, and I ask for the yeas and nays.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there a sufficient second?

There appears to be a sufficient second.

The question is on agreeing to the motion.

The clerk will call the roll.

TRIBUTE TO SABRA FIELD

Mr. LEAHY. Mr. President, Vermont is a place of natural, exquisite beauty. From the expansive, rolling Green Mountains, to the crystal shores of Lake Champlain, Vermont is home to some of the most iconic geographic scenery our country has to offer. I am so proud to call Vermont my home.

Vermont is also continually ranked as having the most artists per capita than any other State. Our many artists—writers, photographers, painters, sculptors, potters, and more—help capture the iconic beauty that has long made Vermont a destination for visitors from the country around the world. One such artist, Sabra Field, is among the most gifted and extraordinary of them.

Sabra first came to Vermont in 1953 to attend Middlebury College. An Oklahoma native, she has been lauded as a “Vermont Living Treasure.” Perhaps most well-known for her vivid landscapes, Ms. Field’s impressive and iconic paintings are now of signature familiarity across our State and beyond. Any Vermonter who sees a painting of purple mountain majesties against a starry, blue night sky knows they are looking at one of her paintings. In 1991, Sabra was commissioned by the U.S. Postal Service to create a postage stamp of a red barn, blue sky, and green hills, a stamp which sold more than 60 million copies. She has also designed images for IBM, the Rockefeller Center, and UNICEF. Yet what most suspect only to be Ms. Field’s effort to capture Vermont’s impressive geography may be surprised to discover that the meaning behind her artwork spans much further. In a new exhibit of Sabra’s six-decade long career, showcased by the Middlebury College Museum of Art, her artistry takes on a deeper meaning, as told by the artist herself.

The Middlebury exhibit showcases some of Ms. Field’s most iconic pieces, with each painting accompanied by a description of the memory or inspiration behind it. For instance, in a caption situated under an illustration of a family of hippopotamuses, Sabra writes of her first child who was hit by a car just short of his 10th birthday and died tragically 2 days later. In a 2011 panorama painted of Hawaii, she captions the story of her late husband, Spencer, who passed away on his favorite island of Kauai from complications related to cancer. The exhibit also depicts her work beyond that of a pastoralist, with self-portraits and paintings inspired by her personal exploration of spirituality, mythology, the cosmos, world history, and life after death.

These images and others reveal the often somber trials of Ms. Field’s life. They also expose the ways in which her artistry has helped her heal and grow over time. Ms. Field is hoping this new exhibit will help avoid her being known as purely a pastoralist, as she feels her art is both an expression of beauty and a representation of the obstacles and rebounds of her life.

Marcelle and I would like to congratulate Sabra on her new exhibit at Middlebury College and on her career of record accomplishments. Her treasured paintings have long been a gift to Vermont and the world, and we know her work’s timeless beauty will tell stories for generations to come. Our home proudly displays many of her works, and we are so proud to call Sabra our dear friend.

I ask unanimous consent that a copy of the article “Sabra Field Show Reveals Personal Peaks and Valleys,” published in the Vermont Digger on July 16, 2017, be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

SABRA FIELD SHOW REVEALS PERSONAL PEAKS AND VALLEYS

(By Kevin O’Connor)

MIDDLEBURY — The first words of a new exhibit celebrating one of Vermont’s most recognized artists sum up the seeming dilemma: “What can one say about Sabra Field’s work that has not already been said?”

Plenty. the 82-year-old printmaker soon proves. Take her 1962 illustration of a family of sunny, smiling hippos.

“Here is the announcement for my first child, Barclay Giddings Johnson III, ‘Clay’ for short,” she writes in an accompanying caption. “He was a handsome boy, a loving, kind and caring son of fearless her, loved and admired by adults and kids alike. Hit by a car just short of his 10th birthday, he died two days later.”

Next comes a 1965 self-portrait featuring more shadows than light.

“This is me the year I grew up, age 30,” she writes, “when my parents died within a week of each other.”

Then there’s the 2011 panorama “Sea, Sand, Stones” that Field composed while visiting Hawaii with her husband.

“Spent days exploring a beautiful island, Kauai, from complications dating back to cancer seven years earlier,” she writes. “A set of these prints now hangs in Wilcox Memorial Hospital in Kauai, and in the walls of Dr. Spen’s memory. The ER doctor who tried so hard to save him has become a good friend.”

Most Vermonters think of Field for works as colorful and carefree as the red barn, blue sky and green hills she created for a 1991 U.S. postage stamp that sold more than 60 million copies.

“Over the course of her career she has received any number of accolades, and has been variously described as ‘the Grant Wood of Vermont,’ the artist laureate of Vermont, one of America’s most beloved, most talented artists. None who has ever lived, or will ever live, has touched more lives than any Vermont artist in history,’” says Richard Saunders, a Middlebury College professor and director of its Museum of Art.

But the surprisingly personal “Sabra Field, Then and Now: A Retrospective” on campus through Aug. 13 reveals as much about her private struggles as her professional success.

“The Direction of One’s Wishes”

Field, born in Oklahoma and raised in New York, first came to Vermont in 1965 to attend Middlebury, where she graduated 60 years ago (“I went to Middlebury because there was no math requirement,” she confides in the show’s catalogue). She has given the college an archive copy of every print she has ever created.

Writing her own captions, the artist uses the 100+ work exhibit to tell her career, starting with a 1971 image of swaying green striped titled “Grass.”

“My first ‘home run,’” she notes. “I inadvertently hit a universal theme that got copied and got me to begin registering work with the Library of Congress.”

On another wall, Field’s 2001 “Eastern Mountains” features more detailed landscape of emerald, turquoise and gold.

“The trip from coastal Maine to Vermont crossing the White Mountains and Hampshire and giving a view of the Upper Valley perhaps not as broad and agricultural as in my dreams,” she writes. “Memory alters in the direction of one’s wishes.”

“Eastern Mountains” proves the point. Field began the first proofs on Sept. 11, 2001, just before seeing television coverage of that day’s terrorist attacks.

Every peak in this artist’s world is framed by valleys, the exhibit shows. Consider the 1969 work “Daisies,” which was published as a print and also as a hand-printed greeting card,” she explains, “an enterprise found to be hugely unprofitable.”

Next comes a 1969 self-portrait Field produced after leaving her first marriage.

“I divorced and moved from a Connecticut prep school,” she notes, “to an old tavern in rural Vermont.”

Then again, every valley in this artist’s world is followed by peaks. That two-century-old structure, in the Windsor County settlement of East Barnard, is where Field began to design, draw and cut the woodblock prints that have sustained her for the past 50 years.

“I became part of a different culture where I could live and work at home in a quiet hamlet that was good for kids and without problems,” she continues.

“Here I am sitting in front of my window overlooking a dirt road with alfalfa on the other side and a quote from George Weld on the window frame that reads ‘Therefore Choose Life.’”

“LIKE ARTISTS ALWAYS HAVE BEEN”

Field’s subsequent 1972 suite of prints depicting the words of the 23rd Psalm allowed her to mark the death of her firstborn son through images ranging from a wintry day (“‘Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil’”) to a summer sunburst (“‘Surely goodness and mercy will follow me all the days of my life’”).

As writer Nancy Price Graff notes in an essay that anchors the exhibit’s catalogue: “For the first time, she turned to Vermont’s landscape to illustrate humankind’s spiritual connection to nature and nature’s capacity to heal those who give themselves to it.”

Adds Saunders: “While on the one hand she has been accused of some sanitizing the lives she represents in her work’s details that surround us, others would say this is a natural part of a desire to see beyond the mendane and urge us to sense the spiritualism that surrounds us.”

Field says in an hour long documentary, “Sabra: The Life & Work of Printmaker Sabra Field,” that plays as part of the show, “Sabra felt economically comfortable enough to focus on possibly nonmarketable subjects.”

But however far she strays, Field always returns to her roots. Consider the recently completed “Cloud Way,” which she deems the retrospective’s signature image.

“I believe me when I tell you I did the preparation to begin this print while on holiday in Sicily,” she writes. “I was homesick for the stretch of the White River along which I travel to reach the co-op in South Royalton.”

The show also includes illustrations from her new children’s book “Where Do They Go?”—which the artist, joined by writer Julia Alvarez, will discuss July 28 at Woodstock’s Bookstock literary festival.

The latter work “gently addresses the emotional side of death,” its publisher states. But Field is aggressive in not letting age stop her creativity. The exhibit features a recent work titled “Floating Woman.”

Field caps her show with a 50-year-old print that quotes the late scribe James Baldwin.

“My future was doubtful that summer of 1967,” she writes in the caption. “These words by a black American writer living in Paris described this white American printmaker in New England, and they still do: ‘It seems to me that one ought to rejoice in the fact of death, ought to decide indeed to earn one’s death by confronting with passion the conundrum of life.’”

BUDGETARY REVISIONS

Mr. ENZI. Mr. President, section 3001 of S. Con. Res. 3, the Concurrent Resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year 2017, allows the chairman of the Senate Committee Committee to revise the allocations, aggregates, and levels in the budget resolution for legislation related to healthcare reform. The authority to adjust is contingent on the legislation not increasing the deficit over the period of the total of fiscal years 2017-2026.

I find that S. Amdt. 267 fulfills the conditions of deficit neutrality found in section 3001 of S. Con. Res. 3. Accordingly, I am revising the allocations to the Committee on Finance, the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions, HELP, and the budgetary aggregates to account for the budget effects of the amendment. I am also adjusting the unassigned to committee savings levels in the budget resolution to reflect that, while there are savings in the amendment attributable to both the HELP and Finance committees, the Congressional Budget Office and Joint Committee on Taxation are unable to produce unique estimates for each provision due to interactions and other effects that are estimated simultaneously.

I ask unanimous consent that the tables, which provide details about the adjustment, be printed in the Record. There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the Record, as follows:

TRIBUTE TO SCOTT ALVAREZ

Mr. CRAPO. Mr. President, today the Senator from Ohio and I wish to speak about Scott Alvarez, general counsel of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

Mr. Alvarez is retiring after a 36-year career with the Board of Governors, including the last 12 as general counsel.

He joined the board’s legal division in 1981, immediately after graduating from Georgetown Law School, and worked as a staff attorney on bank regulatory issues for many years, until he was named general counsel in 2004.

In that role, he served as a key advisor to Chairmen Greenspan and Bernanke and Chair Yellen.

He was also general counsel of the Federal Open Market Committee, and he was the chief lawyer in carrying out some of the Fed’s other roles, including overseeing the payments system and issuing currency.

I have enjoyed working with Mr. Alvarez over the years and have appreciated the insights and feedback he has provided to me and the Banking Committee.

On a personal note, his help was particularly valuable in 2006, when the Senate passed the Financial Services Regulatory Relief Act of 2006, which was then signed into law by President Bush.

I want to thank Mr. Alvarez for his assistance on that bill and others and for his service to the Federal Reserve and to the country.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, I want to echo the comments of the senior Senator from Idaho, the chairman of the Banking Committee, and thank Mr. Alvarez for his service at the Federal Reserve.

I specifically want to thank him for his service during the financial crisis of 2008. Our country faced daunting challenges during that period, and the Federal Reserve and the government’s response to the financial crisis was not an easy undertaking.

The crisis demanded great effort and ingenuity from many people. It required coordination across the executive branch, the regulatory agencies, Congress, and the private sector.

Working with key decisionmakers at the board and throughout the government, Mr. Alvarez played an important role in developing and articulating the legal dimensions to virtually every initiative taken by the Federal Reserve to address the crisis.

Mr. Alvarez also worked closely with Congress during consideration of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act and played a crucial role in implementing rulemakings required of the Federal Reserve by Dodd-Frank. I am particularly grateful for the work he did to implement strong rules to increase the capital and leverage requirements for the nation’s largest banks—a necessary and critical step after the crisis—and the work that he did with my office in making one of the first substantial amendments to Dodd-Frank related to capital standards for insurance companies.

Scott Alvarez has served the Federal Reserve and the American people with great distinction and deserves thanks for a job well done.

ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS

TRIBUTE TO DR. TEMPLE GRANDIN

Mr. GARDNER. Mr. President, today I wish to honor Dr. Temple Grandin’s induction into the National Women’s Hall of Fame. Dr. Grandin is an internationally recognized leader for her work in animal sciences and autism awareness. I would also like to wish Dr. Grandin a happy 70th birthday.

Dr. Grandin has contributed immensely to the study of animal sciences and the agriculture industry. She has been an esteemed college professor at Colorado State University for more than 20 years, and much of her research and inventions have become standard industry procedure, like humane cattle slaughter. She began her career in the early 1970s and was one of only a handful of women working in animal sciences. She paved the way for other women to thrive in this industry.

In addition to her professorship, Dr. Grandin has become a well-known advocate and spokeswoman for autism awareness. She has published countless books about living with autism and has been recognized on the ‘Time’ Magazine’s Top 100 Most Influential People under the “Heroes” category. She has received honorary doctorate degrees from 13 universities across the country and around the world. Dr. Grandin has also received numerous industry awards for her significant contributions to agriculture, as well as her advocacy for autism awareness.

Dr. Grandin has undoubtedly left a lasting impression on the animal sciences and autism advocacy. I congratulate her induction into the prestigious National Women’s Hall of Fame and again wish Dr. Grandin a very happy birthday.

TRIBUTE TO JAKOB HELLER

Mr. HELLER. Mr. President, today I wish to recognize my nephew, Jakob Heller, on his upcoming achievement of becoming an Eagle Scout, one of the highest honors in the Boy Scouts. On August 2, 2017, Jakob officially becomes an Eagle Scout, which serves as a symbol of his dedication to the Scouts’ mission of creating responsible, participating citizens and leaders.

In order to become an Eagle Scout, Jakob completed tests and earned merit badges that required mastering specific outdoor skills and providing services to his community. He also demonstrated a commitment to his team and the Boy Scout mission and oath.

Jakob comes from a military family, and like many military families, they are constantly on the move. Jakob’s father retired in the U.S. Navy, and after retirement, he moved his family to southern West Virginia where they have been living for the last 5 years. I am happy to note that, following his Eagle Scout ceremony, Jakob and his family will be moving to Carson City, NV, where his grandparents and extended family anxiously await his arrival.

Jakob is a talented young man who excels academically and participates in a number of extracurricular activities. In addition to his academic accomplishments, he is a gifted musician who...

plays the trumpet in the marching band and the French horn in the school’s concert band. He is also a member of the cross-country team and participates in track and field, where he shines in sprint relays, hurdle events, and the long jump. His ability to balance school, athletics, and Boy Scouts is truly remarkable.

Furthermore, Jakob is preparing for a future in computer programming. Like many kids his age, he loves playing video games and is interested in becoming a video game programmer. Additionally, he is part of his school’s robotics club and programs robots to compete in challenging competitions. With such extensive experience at a young age, I am confident Jakob will have a bright future as a computer programmer.

Jakob is responsible and dependable and understands the importance of his family, friends, and community. Boy Scouts has had a positive impact on his life, and I know that he will serve as an excellent role model for other members of his family and friends.

In closing, I ask my colleagues and all Neighbors to join me in congratulating this new Nevada resident, my nephew Jakob Heller. I cannot be more proud of this young man, and I look forward to witnessing his many contributions to our community in the years ahead.

TRIBUTE TO PAUL KASTER

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, today I wish to recognize the distinguished accomplishment of Kansan Paul Kaster on the occasion of his 2017 National Federation of Independent Business, NFIB, Young Entrepreneur Award.

Mr. Kaster, of Leawood, KS, is the founder and owner of Crooked Branch Studio, which specializes in woodworking. I ask that my colleagues join me in recognizing Paul on his outstanding achievements. I wish him nothing but the best for his future entrepreneurial and educational endeavors.

MONROE COUNTY BICENTENNIAL

Ms. STABENOW. Mr. President, today I wish to pay special tribute to Monroe County, MI, which is celebrating its bicentennial this year.

Located on the shores of Lake Erie, Monroe County was founded on July 14, 1817. In honor of President James Monroe, who visited the Michigan Territory in August 1817, shortly after the county’s founding. The county has the proud distinction of being the second county founded in Michigan.

The people of Monroe are proud of their history. This history has inspired generations of hard-working and fiercely independent people who are committed to preserving their history, protecting their natural resources, and innovating for their future.

Monroe County is home to the River Raisin National Battlefield Park, which commemorates the January 1813 battles of the War of 1812. The battles marked one of the greatest defeats for the United States during the war, and the rally cry, “Remember the Raisin” inspired support for the rest of the war. I was honored to help lead the effort in Congress with Senator Dingell and Senator Levin to pass the legislation that made the park part of the National Park System. The park has now become an economic driver, attracting economic development to the surrounding area.

Monroe County is also home to La-Z-Boy Furniture, the inventors of the world’s first reclining chair. The company was founded in 1927 and employs more than 6,300 people nationwide. The corporate headquarters is still based in Monroe.

One of the most famous Monroe County residents is General George Armstrong Custer, who spent much of his life in Monroe. One of the youngest Americans to ever be promoted to brigadier general, Custer is known for his successes during the Civil War and his death at the Battle of the Little Big Horn, also known as Custer’s Last Stand.

As a leader of the Senate Agriculture Committee, I am especially proud of Monroe County’s agricultural heritage. The county has over 270 historic farms—the most of any county in Michigan.

Numerous events and celebrations have been planned in the county throughout the year to mark this special milestone. Congratulations to Monroe County on 200 years of impressive history, growth, and success.

TRIBUTE TO DEVIN MARTIN

Mr. THUNE. Mr. President, today I recognize Devin Martin, one of my Washington, DC, interns, for all of the hard work he has done for me and my staff at the Senate Republican Conference.

Devin is a graduate of Huntley High School in Huntley, IL. Currently, he is attending the University of South Dakota in Vermillion, SD, where he is majoring in journalism and political science. Devin is a dedicated worker who has been committed to getting the most out of his experience.

I extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to Devin Martin for all of the fine work he has done and wish him continued success in the years to come.

PETITIONS AND MEMORIALS

The following petitions and memorials were laid before the Senate and were referred or ordered to lie on the table as indicated.

POM–76. A resolution adopted by the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan urging the United States Congress to continue full funding for the Facility for Rare Isotope Beams on the campus of Michigan State University and the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 113

Whereas, The President’s proposed 2018 budget includes a $17 million cut in federal funding for the Facility for Rare Isotope Beams (FRIB) at Michigan State University. This could delay the project’s anticipated completion date, increasing costs by an estimated $20 million and;

Whereas, Currently, the state-of-the-art project is on budget and ahead of schedule and is about three quarters complete. The FRIB will be the world’s most powerful rare isotope beam facility upon completion; at least 1,000 times more powerful than Michigan State University’s existing cyclotrons; and

Whereas, The FRIB will more than double the research opportunities available in the field of nuclear physics, or discovery, or continued development of rare isotope discoveries will provide applications for society in such areas as cancer research, homeland security, and commercial innovation. A recent example of this is the work as the FRIB will address the U.S. innovation deficit and provide opportunities to train the next generation of scientific and business leaders; and

Whereas, The FRIB will have a huge impact on Michigan. It will contribute an estimated $4.4 billion in statewide economic activity annually and pay wages of $1.7 billion, and strengthen and diversify the state’s economy through investments in research and innovation; and

Whereas, It is critically important that federal funding continue to provide a solid foundation for cutting-edge scientific research at the FRIB. A funding shortfall and delay could mean canceled contracts and missed opportunities in the region’s burgeoning particle science industry. Continuation of full federal support to the FRIB construction on time and on budget, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we urge the United States Congress to continue full funding for the Facility for Rare Isotope Beams on the campus of Michigan State University; and

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the members of the Michigan congressional delegation.

POM–77. A joint resolution adopted by the Legislature of the State of Alaska making application to the United States Congress to call a convention of the state to propose a countermand amendment to the United States Constitution as provided under Article V; and urging the legislatures of the other 49 states to make the same application; and

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 14

Whereas the state’s sovereignty has been infringed upon by the federal government, including by the federal government’s recent denial of and continued denial of state officials on the construction of a lifesaving road from King Cove to Cold Bay; and

Whereas the state’s access to fair Permitting processes will devolve the state’s natural resources and provide revenue streams to the state, including oil exploration in the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge and large-scale mining projects throughout the state, has been continually denied by the United States Environmental Protection Agency and other agencies of the federal government; and

Whereas the United States Congress has, at times, exceeded its delegated powers, the President of the United States has, at times, exceeded the authority of the office of the President of the United States, and the federal courts have, at times, exceeded their authority by issuing decisions on public issues contrary to the interests of the states in violation of the principles of federalism and separation of powers, all of which have adversely affected the state and its people; and

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

The following bills and joint resolutions were introduced, read the first and second times by unanimous consent, and referred as indicated:

By Mr. UDALL (for himself, Mr. BLUMENTHAL, Mr. BOOKER, Mr. DURBIN, Mrs. GILLIBRAND, Mr. MARKEY, Ms. HARRIS, Mr. CARDBIN, and Mr. MERRICK):

S. 1628. A bill to prohibit the use of chlorpyrifos on food, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry.

By Mr. BLUMENTHAL:

S. 1626. A bill for the relief of Nury Chavarría; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

By Mr. BLUMENTHAL (for himself, Mrs. FEINSTEIN, and Mr. MARKEY):

S. 1628. A bill to improve the safety of the air supply on commercial aircraft, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

By Mrs. GILLIBRAND (for herself, Mr. BLUMENTHAL, Mr. MURPHY, and Mr. CASSIDY):

S. 1627. A bill to extend the authorization of the Highlands Conservation Act; to the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources.

By Mr. GRASSLEY (for himself, Mrs. ERNST, and Mr. FRANKEN):

S. 1628. A bill to revise counseling requirements for certain borrowers of student loans, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions.

By Mr. REED (for himself, Mr. ROUNDS, Mr. BROWN, Ms. COLLINS, Mr. CARPER, Mr. COONS, Mr. WHITEHOUSE, Mrs. SHAHEEN, Ms. COETZEN MASTO, and Ms. HIRONO):

S. 1629. A bill to authorize the reauthorization of the Department of Defense Experimental Program to Stimulate Competitive Research, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Armed Services.

By Mr. CASEY (for himself, Ms. BALDWIN, and Mr. BROWN):

S. 1630. A bill to establish in the Administration for Children and Families of the Department of Health and Human Services the Federal Interagency Working Group on Reducing Child Poverty to develop a national strategy to eliminate child poverty in the United States, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions.

By Mr. CORBAK:

S. 1631. A bill to authorize the Department of State for Fiscal Year 2018, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

SUBMISSION OF CONCURRENT AND SENATE RESOLUTIONS

The following concurrent resolutions and Senate resolutions were read, and referred (or acted upon), as indicated:

By Mr. GRASSLEY (for himself, Mr. JOHNSON, Ms. BALDWIN, Mr. CARPER, Mr. WYDEN, Mr. MARKEY, Mr. BOOR- MAN, Mrs. MCCASKILL, Mr. TILLIS, Mrs. ERNST, Mrs. FISCHER, Mr. PETERS, and Mrs. FEINSTEIN):

S. Res. 231. A resolution designating July 30, 2017, as “National Whistleblower Appreciation Day”; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

ADDITIONAL COSPONSORS

S. 170

At the request of Mr. RUBIO, the names of the Senator from Colorado (Mr. GARDNER) and the Senator from Massachusetts (Mr. MARKEY) were added as cosponsors of S. 170, a bill to provide for nonpreemption of measures by State and local governments to divest from entities that engage in commerce-related or investment-related boycott, divestment, or sanctions activities targeting Israel, and for other purposes.

At the request of Mr. NELSON, the name of the Senator from North Carolina (Mr. BURR) was added as a cosponsor of S. 259, a bill to modify the prohibition on recognition by United States courts of certain rights relating to certain marks, trade names, or commercial names.

At the request of Mr. HATCH, the name of the Senator from South Dakota (Mr. ROYBAL-DEL RIO) was added as a cosponsor of S. 266, a bill to award the Congressional Gold Medal to Anwar Sadat in recognition of his heroic achievements and courageous contributions to peace in the Middle East.

S. 372

At the request of Mr. PORTMAN, the name of the Senator from Virginia (Mr. Kaine) was added as a cosponsor of S. 372, a bill to amend the Tariff Act of 1930 to ensure that merchandise arriving through the mail shall be subject to review by U.S. Customs and Border Protection and to require the provision of advance electronic information on shipments of mail to U.S. Customs and Border Protection and for other purposes.

S. 407

At the request of Mr. CRAPO, the name of the Senator from Maryland (Mr. VAN HOLLEN) was added as a cosponsor of S. 407, a bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to permanently extend the railroad track maintenance credit.

S. 445

At the request of Mr. CARDIN, the name of the Senator from New Jersey (Mr. BOOKER) was added as a cosponsor of S. 445, a bill to amend title XVIII of the Social Security Act to ensure more timely access to home health services for Medicare beneficiaries under the Medicare program.

S. 448

At the request of Mr. BROWN, the name of the Senator from Vermont (Mr. LÉAHEY) was added as a cosponsor of S. 448, a bill to amend title XVIII of the Social Security Act to provide for treatment of clinical psychologists as physicians for purposes of furnishing clinical psychologist services under the Medicare program.

S. 471

At the request of Mr. GRAHAM, the name of the Senator from Texas (Mr. CORNYN) was added as a cosponsor of S. 471, a bill to condition assistance to the West Bank and Gaza on steps by the Palestinian Authority to end violence and terrorism against Israeli citizens.

S. 602

At the request of Ms. COLLINS, the names of the Senator from Michigan (Mr. PETERS) and the Senator from South Carolina (Mr. GRAHAM) were added as cosponsors of S. 602, a bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to include automated fire sprinkler system retrofits as section 179 property and classify certain automated fire sprinkler system retrofits as 15-year property for purposes of depreciation.

S. 654

At the request of Mr. TOOMEY, the name of the Senator from New York (Mr. SCHUMER) was added as a cosponsor of S. 654, a bill to revise section 40 of title 18, United States Code, and for other purposes.

S. 720

At the request of Mr. PORTMAN, the name of the Senator from Louisiana (Mr. KENNEDY) was added as a cosponsor of S. 720, a bill to amend the Export Administration Act of 1979 to include in the prohibitions on boycotts against allies of the United States boycotts fostered by international governmental organizations against Israel and to direct the Export-Import Bank of the United States to oppose boycotts against Israel, and for other purposes.

S. 822

At the request of Mr. INHOFE, the name of the Senator from Massachusetts (Ms. WARREN) was added as a cosponsor of S. 822, a bill to amend the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 to modify provisions relating to grants, and for other purposes.

S. 1018

At the request of Mr. MORAN, the name of the Senator from Nebraska (Mrs. FISCHER) was added as a cosponsor of S. 1002, a bill to enhance the ability of community financial institutions to serve their communities, boost small businesses, increase individual savings, and for other purposes.

S. 1093

At the request of Mr. CORKER, the name of the Senator from North Carolina (Mr. TILLIS) was added as a cosponsor of S. 1093, a bill to provide humanitarian assistance for the Venezuelan people, to defend democratic governance and combat widespread public corruption in Venezuela, and for other purposes.

S. 1146

At the request of Mrs. SHAHEEN, the name of the Senator from Michigan
At the request of Ms. Cantwell, her name was added as a cosponsor of S. 1182, a bill to require the Secretary of Labor to establish a pilot program for providing portable benefits to eligible workers, and for other purposes.

S. 1182

At the request of Mrs. McCaskill, the names of the Senator from Montana (Mr. Tester) and the Senator from Wisconsin (Mr. Johnson) were added as cosponsors of S. 1199, a bill to amend the Homeland Security Act of 2002 to reauthorize the Border Enforcement Security Task Force program within the Department of Homeland Security, and for other purposes.

S. 1199

At the request of Mr. Warner, the name of the Senator from Indiana (Mr. Young) was added as a cosponsor of S. 1251, a bill to require the Secretary of Labor to establish a pilot program for providing portable benefits to eligible workers, and for other purposes.

S. 1251

At the request of Ms. Klobuchar, the name of the Senator from California (Mrs. Feinstein) was added as a cosponsor of S. 1286, a bill to lift the trade embargo on Cuba.

S. 1286

At the request of Mr. Lee, the names of the Senator from Georgia (Mr. Perdue) and the Senator from Oklahoma (Mr. Inhofe) were added as cosponsors of S. 1290, a bill to help individuals receiving assistance under means-tested welfare programs obtain self-sufficiency, to provide information on tax credits, and to improve welfare programs, to provide an overall spending limit on means-tested welfare programs, and for other purposes.

S. 1290

At the request of Ms. Stabenow, the name of the Senator from New York (Mr. Schumer) was added as a cosponsor of S. 1381, a bill to establish the Great Lakes Mass Marking Program, and for other purposes.

S. 1381

At the request of Ms. Stabenow, the name of the Senator from New York (Mr. Schumer) was added as a cosponsor of S. 1382, a bill to establish the Great Lakes Aquatic Connectivity and Infrastructure Program, and for other purposes.

S. 1382

At the request of Ms. Stabenow, the name of the Senator from New York (Mr. Schumer) was added as a cosponsor of S. 1398, a bill to direct the Secretary of the Army, acting through the Chief of Engineers, to release an interim report related to aquatic nuisance species control, and for other purposes.

At the request of Mr. Cotton, the bill to prohibit the use of chlorpyrifos on food, and for other purposes: to the Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry.

Mr. Udall. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the Record.

The Record was requested, the text of the bill was ordered to be printed in the Record, as follows:

S. 1624

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, SEC. 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Protect Children, Farmers, andFarmworkers from Nerve Agent Pesticides Act of 2017”.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

Congress finds as follows:

(1) In 1996, Congress unanimously passed the Food Quality Protection Act of 1996 (Public Law 104-170; 110 Stat. 1489) (referred to in this section as “FQPA”), a comprehensive overhaul of Federal pesticide and food safety policy. That Act amended the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (7 U.S.C. 136 et seq.), the laws that govern how the Environmental Protection Agency (referred to in this section as the “EPA”) registers pesticides and pesticide labels for use in the United States and establishes tolerances or acceptable levels for pesticide residues on food.

(2) The FQPA directs the EPA to ensure with “reasonable certainty” that “no harm” will result from food, drink, water, and other exposures to a pesticide. If EPA cannot make this safety finding, it must prohibit residues and use of the pesticide on food. The FQPA mandates that EPA must consider children’s special sensitivity and exposure to pesticide chemicals and must make an explicit determination that the pesticide can be used with a “reasonable certainty of no harm” to children. In determining acceptable levels of pesticide residue, EPA must account for the potential health harm from prenatal and postnatal exposure. Economic benefits of pesticides cannot be used to over-ride this health-based standard for children from food and other exposures.

(3) Chlorpyrifos is a widely used pesticide first registered by EPA in 1965. Chlorpyrifos is an organophosphate pesticide, a class of pesticides developed as nerve agents in World War II and adapted for use as insecticides after the war. Chlorpyrifos and other organophosphate pesticides affect the nervous system through inhibition of cholinesterase, an enzyme required for proper nerve functioning. Acute poisonings occur when nerve impulses pulse through the term 'term' in the context of a medical condition.  "term" in this context refers to a period of time during which a disease or condition is present. For example, a "remission period" refers to a period of time during which a disease or condition is in remission. Similarly, a "therapy period" refers to a period of time during which a therapy is administered. Finally, a "test period" refers to a period of time during which a test is administered. These terms are used to describe the duration of a specific event or phenomenon. For example, the "wait period" refers to the time required after the administration of a medication to allow for the onset of effects. Additionally, the "duration" of a disease or condition refers to the length of time it is present. For example, the "duration of a disease" refers to the length of time it is present in an individual. These terms are used interchangeably with the concept of "term" to describe the duration of a specific event or phenomenon. body, causing symptoms like nausea, vomiting, convulsions, respiratory paralysis, and, in extreme cases, death. Based on dozens of peer-reviewed scientific articles, EPA determines exposure during pregnancy to very low levels of chlorpyrifos that caused only minimal cholinesterase inhibition (10 percent or less) in the mothers could lead to measurable long-term and potentially permanent neurobehavioral and functional deficits in prenatally exposed children.

(4) People, including pregnant women, are exposed to chlorpyrifos through the food they eat and drink more proportional to their body weight. A growing body of evidence indicates that chlorpyrifos and other organophosphate pesticides cause persistent effects into adulthood along with epidemiology studies that have evaluated prenatal chlorpyrifos exposure in mother-infant pairs and reported associations with neurodevelopmental outcomes in infants and children. Chlorpyrifos is acutely toxic and associated with neurodevelopmental harms in children. Prenatal exposure to chlorpyrifos is associated with elevated risks of reduced IQ, loss of attention, delays in development, attention-deficit disorders, and structural changes in the brain.

(5) There is no nationwide chlorpyrifos use reporting program. States Geological survey estimates annual pesticide use on agricultural land in the United States, and estimates that chlorpyrifos use on crops in 2014 ranged from 19,000,000 to 7,000,000 pounds of chlorpyrifos.

(6) In the 2016 report, the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act Scientific Advisory Panel recognized “the growing body of literature with laboratory animals (rats and mice) indicating that gestational and/or early postnatal exposure to chlorpyrifos may cause persistent effects into adulthood along with epidemiology studies which have evaluated prenatal chlorpyrifos exposure in mother-infant pairs and reported associations with neurodevelopmental outcomes in infants and children.

(7) Chlorpyrifos has long been of concern to EPA. Residual use of chlorpyrifos ended in 2000 after EPA found unsafe exposures to children. EPA also discontinued use of chlorpyrifos on food to be compliant with restrictions its use on apples and grapes in 2003, and obtained no-spray buffers around schools, homes, parks, businesses, hospitals, and other public places, ranging from 10 to 100 feet. In 2015, EPA proposed to ban all chlorpyrifos food tolerances, based on unsafe drinking water levels, which would end use of chlorpyrifos on food in the United States. After updating the risk assessment for chlorpyrifos in November 2016 to protect against prenatal exposures associated with brain impacts, EPA found that expected residues from use on food crops exceeded the safety standard, and additionally the majority of drinking water levels from currently allowed use of chlorpyrifos also exceeded acceptable levels, reinforcing the need to revoke all food tolerances for the pesticide.

(8) Chlorpyrifos threatens the healthy development of children. Children experience greater exposure to chlorpyrifos and other pesticides than adults and are less able to defend themselves. They eat and drink more proportional to their body weight. A growing body of evidence shows that prenatal exposure to very low levels of chlorpyrifos can lead to long-lasting and possibly permanent neurological impairments. In November 2016, EPA released a revised human health risk assessment for chlorpyrifos that confirmed that there are no acceptable uses for the pesticide, all food uses exceed acceptable levels, with children ages 1 to 2 exposed to levels of chlorpyrifos that are 140 times what the EPA considers acceptable.

(9) Chlorpyrifos threatens agricultural workers who mix and apply chlorpyrifos are exposed to unsafe levels of the pesticide even with maximum personal protective equipment and engineering controls. Field workers are currently allowed to re-enter fields within 1 to 5 days after chlorpyrifos is sprayed based on current restricted entry intervals on the registered chlorpyrifos labels but unsafe exposures continue on average 18 days after applications.

(10) Chlorpyrifos threatens public health. EPA’s 2016 revised human health risk assessment found that chlorpyrifos drift reaches unsafe levels at 300 feet away from the edge of the treated field, and the chemical chlorpyrifos is found at unsafe levels in the air at schools, homes, and communities in agricultural areas. The small buffers put in place in 2012 leave children unprotected from this toxic pesticide drift.

(11) Chlorpyrifos threatens drinking water. EPA’s 2014 and 2016 risk assessments found that chlorpyrifos levels in drinking water are unsafe. People living and working in agricultural communities are likely to be exposed to higher levels of chlorpyrifos and other organophosphate pesticides in their drinking water.

(12) Chlorpyrifos threatens children. EPA’s 2014 and 2016 risk assessments have concluded that chlorpyrifos levels in drinking water are unsafe. People living and working in agricultural communities are likely to be exposed to higher levels of chlorpyrifos and other organophosphate pesticides in their drinking water.

(13) In 2015, leading scientific and medical organizations, including those that advocate, came together, under “Project TENDR: Targeting Environmental Neuro-Developmental Risks” (referred to in this section as “TENDR”), to issue a call to action to reduce widespread exposure to chemicals that interfere with fetal and children’s brain development. Based on the available and peer-reviewed scientific evidence, the TENDR authors identified prime examples of neurodevelopmentally toxic chemicals “that can contribute to learning, behavioral, or intellectual impairments, or specific neurodevelopmental disorders such as ADHD or autism spectrum disorder,” and listed organophosphate pesticides, among them. In the United States, 1 in 6 children have a developmental disability or other developmental delay. The TENDR Consensus Statement concludes that “we must now act to help reduce the actually high prevalence of neurodevelopmental disorders in our children, we must eliminate or significantly reduce exposures to chemicals that contribute to these harms.”

SEC. 3. PROHIBITIONS RELATING TO CHLORPYRIFOS

Section 408 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 346a) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(j) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the use of any chemical that is a chlorpyrifos, including any residue of chlorpyrifos, or any other added substance that is present on or in the food primarily as a result of the metabolism or other degradation of chlorpyrifos.”

SEC. 4. REVIEW OF ORGANOPHOSPHATE PESTICIDES

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency (in this section as the “Administrator”) shall offer to enter into a contract with the National Research Council to conduct a cumulative and aggregate exposure review under section 408 of the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (7 U.S.C. 136a et seq.), to determine that exposure during pregnancy to these pesticides is the highest number of pesticide poisoning, and in many States, it is regularly identified among the 5 pesticides linked to the highest number of pesticide poisoning incidents. This is significant given widespread under-reporting of pesticide poisonings. Acute poisonings are inadequately reporting systems, fear of retaliation from employers, and reluctance to seek medical treatment. According to the EPA, all workers who apply chlorpyrifos are exposed to unsafe levels of the pesticide even with maximum personal protective equipment and engineering controls. Field workers are currently allowed to re-enter fields within 1 to 5 days after chlorpyrifos is sprayed based on current restricted entry intervals on the registered chlorpyrifos labels but unsafe exposures continue on average 18 days after applications.

(b) CONTENTS OF REVIEW.—The review under subsection (a) shall—

(1) assess the neurodevelopmental effects and other low-dose effects of exposure to organophosphate pesticides, including in the most vulnerable subpopulations, including—

(A) during the prenatal, childhood, adolescence, and early life stages; and

(B) agricultural workers;

(2) assess the cumulative and aggregate risks from exposure described in paragraph (1) that shall aggregate all routes of exposure, including diet, pesticide drift, volatilization, occupational, and take-home exposures; and

(3) be completed and submitted to the Administrator not later than October 1, 2019.

(c) REGULATORY ACTION.—

(1) APPLICABILITY.—This subsection shall apply if the Administrator becomes aware of any exposure to any organophosphate pesticide, including exposures described in paragraphs (1) and (2) of subsection (b), that does not meet, as applicable—

(A) the standard under section 408(b)(2) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 346a(b)(2)); or

(B) any standard under the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (7 U.S.C. 136 et seq.).

(2) ACTION.—Not later than 90 days after the date on which the Administrator becomes aware of any exposure under paragraph (1), the Administrator shall take any appropriate regulatory action, regardless of whether the review under subsection (a) is completed, including—

(A) revocation or modification of a tolerance or other registration under section 408 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 346a); or

(B) modification, cancellation, or suspension of a registration under the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (7 U.S.C. 136 et seq.).

(d) EFFECT.—Nothing in this section authorizes or requires the Administrator to delay in carrying out or completing, with respect to an organophosphate pesticide, any registration review under section 3(g) of the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (7 U.S.C. 136a(g)), any tolerance review under section 408 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 346a), or any registration or modification, cancellation, or suspension of registration under section 3 or 6 of the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (7 U.S.C. 136a, 136d).

(1) An organophosphate pesticide does not meet applicable requirements established under those provisions of law; or

(2) the review, registration, modification, cancellation, or suspension is required under this section as (A) by statute;

(B) by judicial order; or

(C) to respond to a petition.

By Mr. REED (for himself, Mr. Rounds, Mr. Brown, Ms. Collins, Mr. Carper, Mr. Coons, Mr. WHITEHOUSE, Mrs. SHAHEEN, Ms. CORTEZ MASTO, and Ms. HIRONO:

S. 1629. A bill to reauthorize the Department of Defense Experimental Program to Stimulate Competitive Research, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Armed Services.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, today I am introducing the DEPSCoR Reauthorization Act of 2017 along with Senators ROUNDS, BROWN, COLLINS, CARPER, COONS, WHITEHOUSE, SHAHEEN, CORTEZ MASTO, and HIRONO:

The purpose of this bill is to ensure that we have universities in all 50 States capable of working with the Department of Defense on advanced research topics. A truly national network of university researchers who understand the needs of the Department of Defense puts us in the best possible position to respond to the ever-changing threats our armed forces face. This network will meet the workforce needs of our defense laboratories by training graduate students in defense-relevant research. This bill reauthorizes the DEPSCoR program, which is modeled on the NSF’s successful EPSCoR program for States that receive relatively low amounts of federal science funding. The bill will focus the DEPSCoR program on defense research, while allowing the scientists and engineers of our defense laboratories to work directly with university researchers from DEPSCoR-eligible States.

Seven years ago, Congress asked the National Academy of Sciences to study the EPSCoR programs. The study concluded that it was in the National interest to engage scientific talent in all 50 States, and that EPSCoR programs were a valuable part of a National strategy to maintain global scientific leadership. The report emphasized that successfully engaging all 50 States requires more streamlined technology-driven agencies, including the Department of Defense, to complement the basic science focus of the NSF.

Until 2009, the Department of Defense managed an EPSCoR-like program, known as DEPSCoR. An independent evaluation of DEPSCoR, conducted by the Institute for Defense Analyses, showed that DEPSCoR research contributed to the DoD mission, producing high-quality research and new technology that were operationally deployed in areas such as missile guidance and communications.

DEPSCoR also successfully developed defense research capabilities in States historically underserved by Federal research and development (R&D) funding. Since DEPSCoR stopped receiving Congressional support, defense research in DEPSCoR-eligible States has plummeted, with the decreases far larger than the relatively modest amounts going to DEPSCoR awards. This shows that DEPSCoR did exactly what Congress intended the program to do: develop competitive defense researchers in all 50 States.

The impact of cancelling DEPSCoR went far beyond research grants. Developing university research capabilities in all 50 States is critical to meeting DoD workforce needs. The Defense Laboratory Enterprise is more national in scope than NASA or the Department of Energy’s National Laboratory system, with facilities in 24 States, including DEPSCoR-eligible States. The 2016 review of DoD laboratories by the Defense Science Board reported that these laboratories depend on locally trained scientists and engineers. Without relevant training provided through DoD-supported research projects at nearby universities, these facilities may struggle to find highly qualified scientists and engineers.

Because of these concerns, I have been working with my colleagues on the Armed Services Committee, Senator ROUNDS of South Dakota, to revive this program. This reauthorization uses the lessons learned from the previous iteration of DEPSCoR to improve the program, making it more responsive to Department of Defense needs.

I invite our colleagues to join us in supporting this legislation.

SUBMITTED RESOLUTIONS

SENATE RESOLUTION 231—DESIGNATING JULY 30, 2017, AS ‘‘NATIONAL WHISTLEBLOWER APPRECIATION DAY’’

Mr. GRASSLEY (for himself, Mr. JOHNSON, Ms. BALDWIN, Mr. CARPER, Mr. WYDEN, Mr. MARKEY, Mr. BOOZMAN, Mrs. MCCASKILL, Mr. TILLIS, Mrs. ERNST, Mrs. FISCHER, Mr. PETERS, and Ms. FEINSTEIN) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary:

Resolved, That it is the duty of all persons in the defense, for military construction, and for defense activities of the Department of Energy, to prescribe military personnel strengths for such fiscal year, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 263. Mrs. SHAHEEN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by her to the bill S. 1519, to authorize appropriations for fiscal year 2018 for military activities of the Department of Defense, for military construction, and for defense activities of the Department of Energy, to prescribe military personnel strengths for such fiscal year, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 264. Mr. McCAIN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 1628, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to title II of the Budget Resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2017; which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 265. Mr. MCCAIN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 1628, supra; which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 266. Mr. McCAIN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 1628, supra; which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 267. Mr. McCONNELL proposed an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill S. 1519, supra; which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 268. Mr. WHITEHOUSE submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 1628, supra; which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 269. Mr. REED (for himself, Mr. ROUNDS, Mr. BROWN, Ms. COLLINS, Mr. CARPER, Mr. COONS, Mr. WHITEHOUSE, Ms. SHAHEEN, Ms. CORTEZ MASTO, and Ms. HIRONO) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 2810, to authorize appropriations for fiscal year 2018 for military activities of the Department of Defense, for military construction, and for defense activities of the Department of Energy, to prescribe military personnel strengths for such fiscal year, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table.
SA 270. Mr. McCONNELI proposed an amendment to amendment SA 267 proposed by Mr. McCONNEL to the bill H.R. 1628, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2017.

SA 271. Mr. ENZI (for Mr. PAUL) proposed an amendment to amendment SA 267 proposed by Mr. McCONNEL to the bill H.R. 1628, supra, which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 272. Mr. JOHNSON submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 267 proposed by Mr. McCONNEL to the bill H.R. 1628, supra, which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 273. Mr. JOHNSON submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 267 proposed by Mr. McCONNEL to the bill H.R. 1628, supra, which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 274. Mr. BARRASSO submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 267 proposed by Mr. McCONNEL to the bill H.R. 1628, supra, which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 275. Mr. BARRASSO submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 267 proposed by Mr. McCONNEL to the bill H.R. 1628, supra, which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 276. Mr. KAINE (for himself, Mr. CARPER, Mr. COONS, Mrs. SHAHEEN, Mr. CARDIN, Ms. HARRIS, Ms. HURST, Ms. SMITH, Mr. WARNER, Ms. HETTAK, and Mr. NELSON) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 267 proposed by Mr. McCONNEL to the bill H.R. 1628, supra, which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 277. Mr. KAINE submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 267 proposed by Mr. McCONNEL to the bill H.R. 1628, supra, which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 278. Ms. DUCKWORTH submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by her to the bill H.R. 2810, to authorize appropriations for military activities of the Department of Defense, for military construction, and for defense activities of the Department of Energy, to prescribe military personnel strengths for such fiscal year, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 279. Mr. PAUL submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 1628, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2017, which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 280. Mr. PAUL submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 1628, supra, which was ordered to lie on the table.
(2) by inserting after section 7 (22 U.S.C. 617) the following:

"CIVIL INVESTIGATIVE DEMAND AUTHORITY"

"SEC. 8. (a) Whenever the Attorney General has reason to believe that any person or entity, or the possession, custody, or control of any documentary material relevant to an investigation under this Act, the Attorney General, before initiating a civil or criminal proceeding with respect to the production of such material, may serve a written demand upon such person to produce such material for examination.

(b) Such demand under subsection (a) shall—

(1) state the nature of the conduct constituting the alleged violation which is under investigation, and the provision of law applicable to such violation;

(2) describe the class or classes of documentary material required to be produced under such demand with such definiteness and certainty as to permit such material to be fairly identified;

(3) state that the demand is immediately returnable or prescribe a return date which will provide a reasonable period within which the material may be assembled and made available for inspection and copying or reproduction; and

(4) identify the custodian to whom such material shall be made available.

(c) A demand under subsection (a) may not—

(1) contain any requirement that would be considered unreasonable if contained in a subpoena duces tecum issued by a court of the United States in aid of grand jury investigation of such alleged violation; or

(2) require the production of any documentary evidence that would be privileged from disclosure if demanded by a subpoena duces tecum issued by a court of the United States in aid of a grand jury investigation of such alleged violation.

(3) INFORMATIONAL MATERIALS.—

(1) DEFINITIONS.—Section 1 of the Foreign Agents Registration Act of 1938, as amended (22 U.S.C. 611) is amended—

(A) in subsection (c), by striking “Expect as provided in subsection (d) hereof,” and inserting “Except as provided in subsection (d),”;

(B) in subsection (d), by striking “(i) by striking ‘It shall’ and inserting ‘(1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), it shall’; and

(ii) by striking ‘(2) may omit disclosure required under that paragraph following ‘the account is sent’ and adding ‘on behalf of a foreign principal if the social media account or profile from which the information is sent includes a conspicuous statement that—

(‘A) the account is operated by, and distributes information on behalf of, the foreign principal; and

(‘B) additional information about the account is on file with the Department of Justice in Washington, District of Columbia.

(2) Informants disseminated by an agent of a foreign principal as part of an activity that is exempt from registration, or an activity that would not require registration, need not be filed under this subsection.”.

(d) FEES—

(1) REPLACEMENT.—The Department of Justice and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1998 (title I of Public Law 105-265) is amended—

(A) under the heading “SALARIES AND EXPENSES, GENERAL LIAISON ACTIVITIES,” by striking “In addition, notwithstanding 31 U.S.C. 3302, for fiscal year 1998 and thereafter, the Attorney General shall establish and collect fees to recover necessary expenses of the Registration Unit (to include salaries, supplies, equipment and training) pursuant to the Assistant Attorneys Registration Act, and shall credit such fees to this appropriation, to remain available until expended.”

(B) REGISTRATION FEE.—The Foreign Agents Registration Act of 1938, as amended (22 U.S.C. 5302), as amended by this Act, is further amended by adding after section 14, as redesignated by subsection (b)(1), the following:

"SEC. 15. The Attorney General shall—

(1) establish and collect a registration fee, as part of the initial filing requirement, to help defray the expenses of the FARA Registration Unit; and

(2) credit such fees to the amount appropriated for the National Security Division, which shall remain available until expended.”.

(2) REPORTS TO CONGRESS.—Section 12 of the Foreign Agents Registration Act of 1938, as amended, as redesignated by subsection (b)(1), is amended to read as follows:

"REPORTS TO CONGRESS

SEC. 12. The Assistant Attorney General for National Security, through the Foreign Agents Registration Unit of the National Security Division, shall submit a semiannual report to Congress concerning the activities of the Act. Each report under this section shall include, for the applicable reporting period, the identification of—

(1) registrations filed pursuant to this Act;

(2) the nature, sources, and content of political propaganda disseminated and distributed by agents of foreign principal;

(3) the number of investigations initiated based upon a perceived violation of section 8; and

(4) the number of such investigations that were referred to the Attorney General for prosecution.”.

SA 264. Mr. MCCAIN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 1628, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2017; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

Beginning on page 41, strike lines 9 through 16 and insert the following:

(II) in subparagraph (B)(i) of paragraph (H) as added by clause (iii), the following flush sentence: "The Federal medical assistance percentage determined for a State and year under subsection (b) shall apply to expenditures for medical assistance to newly eligible individuals (as so described) and expansion enrollees (as so defined), in the case of a State that has elected to cover newly eligible individuals before March 1, 2017, for calendar quarters after 2028, and, in the case of any other State, for calendar quarters (or portions of calendar quarters) after February 28, 2017.”; and

SA 267. Mr. MCCONNELL proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 1628, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2017; as follows:

SEC. 101. RECAPTURE EXCESS ADVANCE PAYMENTS OF PREMIUM TAX CREDITS.

Subparagraph (B) of section 36B(c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended by adding at the end the following new clause:

"(VII) NONAPPLICABILITY OF LIMITATION.—This subparagraph shall not apply to taxable years ending after December 31, 2017, and before January 1, 2020.''

SEC. 102. PREMIUM TAX CREDIT.

(a) PREMIUM TAX CREDIT.—

(1) REPEAL.—

(2) IN GENERAL.—Subpart C of part IV of subchapter A of chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended by striking section 36B.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by this paragraph shall apply to taxable years beginning after December 31, 2019.

(c) REPLACEMENT OF ELIGIBILITY DETERMINATIONS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The following sections of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act are repealed:

(a) Section 1411 (other than subsection (1), the last sentence of subsection (e)(4)(A)(ii), and such provisions of such section solely to the extent related to the application of the last sentence of subsection (e)(4)(A)(ii)).

(b) Section 1412.

(2) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The repeal in paragraph (1) shall take effect on January 1, 2020.

(d) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by section 1411(a) (other than subsection (i)) and 1321(a) of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (42 U.S.C. 1396r–4(f)) are repealed by this section.

(e) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply to plan years beginning after December 31, 2015.

(f) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply to months beginning after December 31, 2015.

SEC. 103. SMALL BUSINESS TAX CREDIT.

(a) SUNSET.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Section 45R of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

"(V) TERMINATION.—No disclosure may be made under this paragraph after December 31, 2019.''

(2) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by paragraph (1) shall take effect on January 1, 2020.

SEC. 104. INDIVIDUAL MANDATE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding section 50A(a), 1902(a)(25), 1903(a), 2002, 2005(a)(4), 2012(a), and 2616(a) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 702(a), 1396a(a)(23), 1396a(b), 1397a, 1397a(a)(4), 1397b(a)(7), 1397e(a)(1)), or the terms of any Medicaid waiver in effect on the date of enactment of this Act that is approved under section 1115 or 1915 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1315, 1396n), for the 1-year period beginning on the date of enactment of this Act, no Federal funds provided from a program referred to in this subparagraph that is considered direct spending for the period described in section 45R of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended—

(1) PREMIUM TAX CREDIT.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Section 4980H(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended—

(B) EFFECTIVE DATE.—

(i) in subparagraph (A), by inserting "through 2019" after "each year thereafter"; and

(ii) in subparagraph (B)(iv), by striking "and each subsequent year."

(ii) EFFECTIVE DATE.—

(A) in paragraph (1), by striking '‘January 1, 2014,’” and inserting ‘‘and ending December 31, 2019;’’.

(B) in section 1915(k)(2), by striking ‘‘during the period described in paragraph (1)’’ and inserting ‘‘on or after the date referred to in paragraph (1) and before January 1, 2020’’;

(C) in section 1920(e)(3), by adding at the end the following: ‘‘This subsection shall not apply after December 31, 2019.’’

(iii) EFFECTIVE DATE.—

(1) DETERMINATION OF APPLICABILITY REQUIREMENTS FOR CERTAIN PROGRAMS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding section 36B(c)(2) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396r–4(f)) is amended by striking subsection (i).

(B) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by section (a) shall apply to taxable years beginning after December 31, 2019.

(C) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by this subsection shall apply to taxable years beginning after December 31, 2025, and chapter 43 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended by crossing out such chapter and inserting in lieu thereof the term ‘‘This Act may be cited as the ‘‘Obamacare Repeal & Replacement Act of 2017’’.’’

SEC. 106. STATE STABILITY AND INNOVATION FUND.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 2105 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1397ee) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(d) APPROPRIATION.—There are authorized to be appropriated, out of monies in the Treasury not otherwise obligated, $15,000,000,000 for each of calendar years 2020 and 2021, to the Administrator of the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (in this subsection and subsection (i) referred to as the ‘Administrator’) to fund arrangements with health insurance issuers to assist in the purchase of health benefits coverage by addressing coverage and access disruption and responding to urgent health care needs within States. Funds appropriated under this paragraph shall remain available until expended.

“(e) PARTICIPATION REQUIREMENTS.—(1) ADOPTION.—Not later than 30 days after the enactment of this subsection, the Administrator shall publish guidance to health insurance issuers regarding how to submit a notice of intent to participate in the program established under this subsection.

“(B) NOTICE OF INTENT TO PARTICIPATE.—To be eligible for funding under this subsection, a health insurance issuer shall submit to the Administrator a notice of intent to participate at such time (but, in the case of funding for calendar year 2018, not later than 35 days after the date of enactment of this subsection and, in the case of funding for fiscal year 2019, 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023, 2024, 2025, or 2026, not later than March 31 of the previous year) and in such form and manner as specified by the Administrator and containing—
(i) A certification that the health insurance issuer will use the funds in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (5); and
(ii) such information as the Administrator may require to carry out this subsection.

(3) PROCEDURE FOR DISTRIBUTION OF FUNDS.—The Administrator shall determine an appropriate procedure for providing funding assistance to States receiving payments under this subsection that includes reserving an amount equal to 1 percent of the amounts appropriated under paragraph (1) for each calendar year for providing and distributing funds under this subsection to health insurance issuers in States where the cost of insurance premiums are at least 75 percent higher than the national average.

(4) No MATCH.—Neither the State percentage applicable to payments to States under subsection (B) nor any other matching requirement shall apply to funds provided to health insurance issuers under this subsection.

(5) USE OF FUNDS.—Funds provided to a health insurance issuer under paragraph (1) or (6) shall be subject to the requirements of paragraphs (1)(D) and (7) of subsection (i) in the case of allotments for calendar year 2020 through 2026, for the purpose of funding arrangements with health insurance issuers to support the offering of qualified health plans in States in which such issuers also offer coverage in accordance with section 212(a) of the Better Care Reconciliation Act.

(6) ADDITIONAL SUPPORT FOR STABILIZING PREMIUMS AND PROMOTING CHOICE IN PLANS OFFERED IN THE INDIVIDUAL MARKET.—

(A) In addition to the funds appropriated under paragraph (1), there is appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, $10,000,000,000 for each of calendar years 2020 through 2026, for the purpose of funding arrangements with health insurance issuers to support the offering of qualified health plans in States in which such issuers also offer coverage in accordance with section 212(a) of the Better Care Reconciliation Act.

(i) PRIORITY USES.—In making payments from the amounts appropriated under subparagraph (A) to a State pursuant to subparagraph (B)(i), the Administrator shall prioritize the following:

(I) long-term state stability and innovation program.

(II) one-time application.

(iii) in the case of calendar year 2018, 7 percent;

(iv) in the case of calendar year 2019, 9 percent;

(v) in the case of calendar year 2020, 11 percent;

(vi) in the case of calendar year 2021, 13 percent;

(vii) in the case of calendar year 2022, 15 percent;

(viii) in the case of calendar year 2023, 17 percent;

(ix) in the case of calendar year 2024, 19 percent;

(x) in the case of calendar year 2025, 21 percent;

(xi) in the case of calendar year 2026, 23 percent;

(xii) in the case of calendar year 2027, 25 percent;

(xiii) in the case of calendar year 2028, 27 percent;

(xiv) in the case of calendar year 2029, 29 percent;

(xv) in the case of calendar year 2030, 31 percent;

(xvi) in the case of calendar year 2031, 33 percent;

(xvii) in the case of calendar year 2032, 35 percent;

(xviii) in the case of calendar year 2033, 37 percent;

(xix) in the case of calendar year 2034, 39 percent;

(xx) in the case of calendar year 2035, 41 percent;

(1) To establish or maintain a program or mechanism to help high-risk individuals in the purchase of health benefits coverage, including by reducing premium costs for such individuals, and to ensure that such persons have a high rate of utilization of health services, as measured by cost, and who do not have access to health insurance coverage of comparable coverage under a plan offered in the individual market (within the meaning of section 5000A(f)(1)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986);

(2) to enter into arrangements with health insurance issuers to assist in the purchase of health benefits coverage by stabilizing premiums and promoting State health insurance market participation and choice in plans offered in the individual market (within the meaning of section 5000A(f)(1)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986);

(3) to provide payments for health care providers for the provision of health care services, as specified by the Administrator.

(iv) To provide health insurance coverage by funding assistance to reduce out-of-pocket- cost requirements, coinsurance, and deductibles, of individuals enrolled in plans offered in the individual market (within the meaning of section 5000A(f)(1)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986);

(B) A certification that the State shall make, from non-Federal funds, expenditures for 1 or more of the activities specified in subparagraphs (A)(i) through (ii), in addition to any Federal funds, that is not less than the State percentage required for the year under paragraph (5)(B)(i); and

(C) A certification that none of the funds provided under this subsection shall be used for the State for an expenditure that is attributable to an intergovernmental transfer, certified public expenditure, or any other expenditure to finance the non-Federal share of expenditures required under any provision of law, including under the State plans established under this title and title XIX or under a waiver of such plans.

(E) Such other information as necessary for the Administrator to carry out this subsection.

(2) ELIGIBILITY.—Only the 50 States and the District of Columbia shall be eligible for allotments under this subsection. A State may submit to the Administrator an application, at any time on or before December 31, 2026, if the Administrator determines that the State meets the requirements of paragraphs (1)(B) and (C).

(3) ONE-TIME APPLICATION.—If an application of a State submitted under this subsection is approved by the Administrator for a year, the application shall be deemed to be approved by the Administrator for that year and each subsequent year through December 31, 2026.

(4) LONG-TERM STATE STABILITY AND INNOVATION PROGRAM.—

(A) APPROPRIATION; TOTAL ALLOTMENT.—

(i) For purposes of providing allotments to States under this subsection, there is appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated—

(I) in calendar year 2018, $8,000,000,000;

(ii) in calendar year 2019, $9,000,000,000;

(iii) in calendar year 2020, $10,000,000,000;

(iv) in calendar year 2021, $11,000,000,000;

(v) in calendar year 2022, $12,000,000,000;

(vi) in calendar year 2023, $13,000,000,000;

(vii) in calendar year 2024, $14,000,000,000;

(viii) in calendar year 2025, $15,000,000,000;

(B) ALLOCATIONS.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—In the case of a State with an application approved under this subsection with respect to a year, the Administrator shall allot to the State, in accordance with an allotment methodology specified by the Administrator that ensures that the allotment for a year is at least 1 percent of the amount appropriated under subparagraph (A), such amount as specified by the Administrator with respect to the State and application and with respect to the year.

(ii) ANNUAL REDISTRIBUTION OF PREVIOUS YEAR’S UNUSED FUNDS.—

(I) In general.—In carrying out clause (I) with respect to a year beginning with calendar year 2021, the Administrator shall, not later than March 31 of such year—

(aa) determine the amount of funds, if any, remaining unused under subparagraph (A) from the previous year; and

(bb) if the Administrator determines that any funds so remain from the previous year, redistribute such remaining funds in accordance with an allotment methodology specified by the Administrator to States that have submitted an application approved under this subsection for the year.

(III) APPLICABLE STATE PERCENTAGE.—The State percentage specified for a year in paragraph (5)(B)(ii) shall apply to funds redistributed under subparagraph (B)(ii) in a year.

(IV) AVAILABILITY OF ALLOTTED STATE FUNDS.—

(I) In general.—Amounts allotted to a State pursuant to subparagraph (B)(i) for a year shall remain available for expenditure by the State through the end of the second succeeding year.

(2) PAYMENTS.—

(A) ANNUAL PAYMENT OF ALLOTMENTS.—Subject to subparagraph (B), the Administrator shall pay to each State that has an application approved under this subsection, from the funds determined under paragraph (4)(B)(i) for the State for the year, an amount equal to the Federal percentage of the State’s expenditures for the year.

(B) STATE EXPENDITURES REQUIRED BEGINNING 2022.—For purposes of subparagraph (A), the Federal percentage of the expenditures required under any provision of law, including under the State plans established under this title and title XIX or under a waiver of such plans.

(III) APPROPRIATION; TOTAL ALLOTMENT.—

(i) In general.—If the Administrator deems it appropriate, the Administrator may make payments under this subsection for each year on the basis of advance estimates of expenditures submitted by the State and such other investigation as the Administrator shall find necessary, and shall reduce or increase the payments as necessary to adjust for any overpayment or underpayment for any year.

“(11) MISUSE OF FUNDS.—If the Administrator determines that a State is not using funds paid to the State under this subsection in a manner consistent with the description of such funds provided by the State in its application approved under paragraph (1), the Administrator may withhold payments, reduce payments, or recover previous payments provided under paragraph (1), the Administrator determines that a State is not using funds paid to the State under this subsection as the Administrator deems appropriate.

“(12) BEGINNING OF SUBMITAL OF CLAIMS.—Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as preventing a State from claiming as expenditures in the year expenditures that were included in a previous year.

“(6) REQUIRED USES.—

“(A) PREMIUM STABILIZATION AND INCENTIVES FOR INDIVIDUAL MARKET PARTICIPATION.—In determining allotments for States under this subsection for each of calendar years 2019, 2020, and 2021, the Administrator shall ensure that at least $5,000,000,000 of the amounts appropriated for each such year under paragraph (4)(A) are used by States for the purposes described in paragraph (1)(A)(i) and in accordance with guidance issued by the Administrator not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this subsection that specifies the parameters for the use of funds for such purposes.

“(B) OUT-OF-POCKET COSTS.—In determining allotments for States under this subsection for each of calendar years 2020 through 2026, the Administrator shall ensure that at least $15,000,000,000 of the amounts appropriated for each calendar year 2020 and 2021 under paragraph (4)(A) are used by States for the purposes described in paragraph (1)(A)(v) and in accordance with guidance issued by the Administrator not later than September 1, 2019, that specifies the parameters for the use of funds for such purposes.

“(7) EXEMPTIONS.—Paragraphs (2), (3), (5), (6), (8), (10), and (11) of subsection (c) do not apply to payments under this subsection.

“(8) FUNDING.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 43 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 that specifies the parameters for the use of funds under this subsection for each of calendar years 2022 through 2026 shall apply to payments under this subsection.

‘‘(H) 75 percent for calendar quarters in 2023;'' and

(iii) by adding after and below subparagraph (H) (as added by clause (iii)), the following flush sentence:

“The Federal medical assistance percentage determined for a State and year under sub- section (b) (without regard to this subsection) for expenditures for medical assistance to newly eligible individuals (as so defined) and expansion enrollees (as so defined), in the case of a State that has expanded Medicaid before March 1, 2017, for calendar quarters after 2023, and, in the case of any other State, for calendar quarters (or portions of calendar quarters) after February 28, 2017;” and

(B) in subsection (2)(—

(i) in subparagraph (A)—

(I) by inserting “2023” after “each year thereafter” and

(II) by striking “shall be equal to” and inserting “and, for periods after December 31, 2019, and before January 1, 2024, who are expansion enrollees (as defined in section 1902(nn)(1)) is determined as if the State’s DSH allotment for such quarters before March 1, 2017, for calendar quarters after 2023, and, in the case of any other State, for calendar quarters (or portions of calendar quarters) after February 28, 2017;” and

(ii) in subparagraph (B)(—

(I) in clause (i)—

(aa) by adding “and” at the end; and

(bb) by striking subclauses (IV), (V), (VI), and (VII) and inserting the following new subclauses:

‘‘(IV) 2017 and each subsequent year through 2023 is 80 percent.’’;

(b) SUNSET OF MEDICAID ESSENTIAL HEALTH BENEFITS REQUIREMENT—Section 1927(b)(5) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396u–7(b)(5)) is amended by adding to the end the following: ‘‘This paragraph shall not apply after December 31, 2019.’’.

SEC. 126. RESTORING FAIRNESS IN DSH ALLOTMENTS.

Section 1902(a)(10)(A)(i)(I) (42 U.S.C. 1396r–4(f)(7)) is amended by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

‘‘(I) In general.—In the case of a State that is a non-expansion State for a fiscal year—

(I) subparagraph (A) shall not apply to the DSH allotment for such State and fiscal year; and

(II) the DSH allotment for the State for fiscal year 2016, including for a non-expansion State that has a DSH allotment determined under paragraph (6) shall be increased by the amount calculated according to clause (iii).

‘‘(II) NO CHANGE IN REDUCTION FOR EXPANSION STATES.—In the case of a State that is an expansion State for a fiscal year, the DSH allotment for such State and fiscal year shall be determined as if clause (i) did not apply.

‘‘(III) AMOUNT CALCULATED.—For purposes of clause (i)(III), the amount calculated according to this clause for a non-expansion State is the following:

‘‘(A) In general, the Secretary shall calculate a ratio equal to the State’s fiscal year 2016 DSH allotment divided by the number of uninsured individuals in the State for such fiscal year (in the basis of the most recent information available from the Bureau of the Census).

‘‘(B) The Secretary shall identify the State whose ratio as so determined is below the national average of such ratio for all States.

‘‘(C) The amount calculated pursuant to this clause shall be increased by the amount calculated according to paragraph (6) shall be increased by the amount calculated pursuant to clause (I) up to the national average for all States.

‘‘(D) DISREGARD OF INCREASE.—The DSH allotment for a non-expansion State for the second, third, and fourth quarters of fiscal year 2020 under clause (i)(II),

‘‘(E) NON-EXPANSION AND EXPANSION STATE DEFINED.—In this subparagraph:

‘‘(I) The term ‘expansion State’ means, with respect to a fiscal year, a State that, on January 1, 2021, provides such eligibility;

‘‘(II) The term ‘non-expansion State’ means, with respect to a fiscal year, a State that is not an expansion State, except that—

(aa) in the case of a State that provides eligibility under clause (i)(VIII), (ii)(XX), or (ii)(XXII) for medical assistance with respect to a fiscal year and provides eligibility for individuals described in such clause under a waiver of the State plan approved under section 1115; and

(bb) in the case of a State identified by the Secretary under clause (iii)(II) that is a non-expansion State on January 1, 2021, but which provides such eligibility on January 1, 2020, the DSH allotment for such State for each of fiscal years 2021 through 2023 and the first fiscal quarter of 2024 shall be deter-

‘‘(F) INCREASE IN APPLICABLE FMAP.—Notwithstanding section 1905(b), the Federal medical assistance percentage applicable with respect to expenditures attributable to a payment adjustment under subsection (a) for which payment is permitted under subsection (b) shall—

‘‘(1) 100 percent for calendar quarters in fiscal years 2018, 2019, 2020, and 2021; and

‘‘(2) 95 percent for calendar quarters in fiscal year 2022.

‘‘(G) 80 percent for calendar quarters in fiscal years 2018, 2019, 2020, and 2021; and

‘‘(H) 75 percent for calendar quarters in fiscal year 2022.

SEC. 127. REDUCING STATE MEDICAID COSTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 1902(a)(34) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396r–4(f)(34)) is amended by striking ‘‘in or after the third month’’ and all that follows through ‘‘individual’’ and inserting ‘‘in or after the month in which the individual, another individual acting on the individual’s behalf) made application (or, in the case of an individual who is 65 years of age or older or who is eligible for medical assistance under the plan on the basis of being blind or disabled, in or after the third month before such month)’’.

(b) DEFINITION OF MEDICAL ASSISTANCE.—Section 1905(a) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396r–4(a)(34)) is amended by striking ‘‘in or after the third month before the month in which the recipient makes application for assistance’’ and inserting ‘‘in or after the month in which the recipient makes application for assistance, or, in the case of a recipient who is 65 years of age or older or who is eligible for medical assistance with respect to individuals of being blind or disabled at the time application is made, in or after the third month before the month in which the recipient makes application for assistance’’.

(c) ANNUAL ALLOTMENT LIMITATION.—Payment under section 1903(a) shall not be made to a State with respect to any payment adjustment made under this section for all calendar quarters in a fiscal year in excess of the product of $2,000,000,000 multiplied by the ratio of—

‘‘(1) the population of the State with income below 138 percent of the poverty line in 2015 (as determined based the table entitled ‘‘Households and People Below Poverty Level, by Ratio of Income to Poverty Level in the Past 12 Months by Age’ for the universe of the civilian noninstitutionalized population for whom poverty status is based on the 2015 American Community Survey 1-Year Estimates, as published by the Bureau of the Census), to—

‘‘(2) the sum of the populations under para-

(a) for all non-expansion States.

(b) DISQUALIFICATION IN CASE OF STATE CONVERSION TO EXPANSION.—In the case of a State making an application for a fiscal year and provides eligibility for medical assistance described in subsection (a) during the fiscal year, the State shall no longer be treated as a non-expansion State under this section for any subsequent fiscal years.

SEC. 129. ELIGIBILITY REDETERMINATIONS.

(a) In General.—Section 1902(e)(14) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396a(e)(14)) (relating to modified adjusted gross income) is amended by adding at the end the following:

"(1) If the modified adjusted gross income of an individual, determined based on the application of modified adjusted gross income under subparagraph (A) and who is so eligible on the basis of clause (i)(VIII), (ii)(XX), or (ii)(XXIII) of subsection (a)(19)(A), at the option of the State, the State plan may provide that the individual’s eligibility shall be reetermined every 6 months (or such shorter number of months as the State may select)."

(b) Increased Administrative Matching Percentage.—For each calendar quarter during the period beginning on October 1, 2017, and ending on December 31, 2019, the Federal administrative matching percentage otherwise applicable under section 1903(a) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396b(a)) with respect to amounts for per capita base periods under section 1902(e)(14) (relating to eligibility redeterminations made on a 6-month or shorter basis) (as added under this subsection (a)) to increase by 5 percentage points with respect to State expenditures attributable to activities carried out by the State (and approved by the Secretary) to implement subsection (oo) to determine the frequency of eligibility redeterminations.

SEC. 130. OPTIONAL WORK REQUIREMENT FOR NONDISABLED, NONELDERLY, NONPREGNANT INDIVIDUALS.

(a) In General.—Section 1902 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396a), as previously amended, is further amended by adding at the end the following:

"(oo) Optional Work Requirement for NonDisabled, NonElderly, NonPregnant Individuals.—

"(1) In general.—Beginning October 1, 2017, subject to paragraph (4), a State may elect to condition medical assistance to a nondisabled, nonelderly, nonpregnant individual whose eligibility for medical assistance under the State plan is based on the individual’s satisfaction of a work requirement (as defined in paragraph (2)).

"(2) Work Requirement Defined.—In this section, the term ‘work requirement’ means, with respect to an individual, the individual’s participation in work activities (as defined in section 407(d)) for such period of time the State may elect and as directed and administered by the State.

"(3) Required Exceptions.—States administering a work requirement under this subsection may provide such requirements that,

"(A) a woman during pregnancy through the end of the month in which the 60th day of pregnancy begins on the last day of her pregnancy;

"(B) an individual who is under 18 years of age;

"(C) an individual who is the only parent or caretaker of a child with disabilities; or

"(D) a divorced individual who is married or a head of household and has not attained 20 years of age and who

"(i) maintains satisfactory attendance at secondary school or the equivalent; or

"(ii) participates in education directly related to employment.

"(b) Incidence.—The Federal matching percentage otherwise applicable under subsection (a) with respect to State administrative expenditures (as defined in paragraph (3)) for such period of time the State receives payment under such subsection shall, in addition to any other increase to such Federal matching percentage, be increased by 5 percentage points with respect to State expenditures attributable to activities carried out by the State and approved by the Secretary to implement subsection (oo) of section 1902.

SEC. 131. PROVIDER TAXES.

Section 1903(w)(4)(C) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396b(w)(4)(C)) is amended by adding at the end the following new clause:

"(oo) Optional Work Requirement for Payments for Medical Assistance Expenditures.—Beginning October 1, 2017, the State plan for a fiscal year may not apply such requirement to—

"(1) the amount of the target total medical assistance expenditures (as defined in subsection (c)) for the State and fiscal year.

"(2) excess aggregate medical assistance expenditures (as defined in paragraph (2)) for the State for the fiscal year;

"(B) the Federal average medical assistance matching percentage provided in paragraph (4) for the State for the fiscal year.

"(C) Federal Average Medical Assistance Matching Percentage.—In this subsection, the term ‘Federal average medical assistance matching percentage’ means, for a State for a fiscal year, the ratio (expressed as a percentage) of—

"(a) the amount of the Federal payments that would be made to the State under section 1903(a)(1) for medical assistance expenditures for calendar quarters in the fiscal year if paragraph (1) did not apply; to

"(b) the amount of the medical assistance expenditures for the State for the fiscal year.

"(4) Per capita base period.

"(A) In general.—In this section, the term ‘per capita base period’ means, with respect to a State, a period of 8 (or, in the case of a State selecting a period under subparagraph (D), not less than 4) consecutive fiscal quarters selected by the Secretary.

"(B) Timeline.—Each State shall submit its selection of a per capita base period to the Secretary not later than January 1, 2018.

"(C) Parameters.—In selecting a per capita base period under this paragraph, a State shall—

"(i) only select a period of 8 (or, in the case of a State selecting a period under subparagraph (D), not less than 4) consecutive fiscal quarters that begins with a fiscal quarter earlier than the first quarter of fiscal year 2014 or ends with a fiscal quarter ending in fiscal year 2017.

"(D) Base period for late-expanding States.

"(A) In general.—In the case of a State that did not provide for medical assistance for the 1993 enrollee category described in subsection (e)(2)(D) as of the first day of the 4th fiscal quarter of fiscal year 1995 but which provided for such assistance for such category in a subsequent fiscal quarter that is not later than the fourth fiscal quarter of fiscal year 1996, the State may select a per capita base period that is less than 8 consecutive fiscal quarters, but in no case shall the period selected be less than 4 consecutive fiscal quarters.

"(B) Application of other requirements.—Except for the requirement that a per capita base period be a period of 8 consecutive fiscal quarters, all other requirements of this paragraph shall apply to a per capita base period selected under this subparagraph.

"(2) Excess aggregate medical assistance expenditures.—In this subsection, the term ‘excess aggregate medical assistance expenditures’ means, for a State for a fiscal year, the amount (if any) by which—

"(A) the amount of the adjusted total medical assistance expenditures defined in subsection (b)(1) for the State and fiscal year; actions after the date of enactment of this section (including making retroactive adjustments to supplemental payment data in a manner that affects a fiscal quarter in the per capita base period to diminish the size of the data from the per capita base period used to make determinations under this section, the Secretary may adjust the data as the Secretary determines appropriate.

(b) Adjusted Total Medical Assistance Expenditures.—Subject to subsection (g), the following shall apply:

(1) In general.—In this section, the term ‘adjusted total medical assistance expenditures’ means, for a State—

(A) the State’s per capita base period (as defined in subsection (a)(5)) of the product of—

(i) the amount of the medical assistance expenditures (as defined in paragraph (2)) for the State and period, reduced by the amount of any excluded expenditures (as defined in paragraph (5)) for the State and period otherwise included in such medical assistance expenditures; and

(ii) the 1903A base period population percentage (as defined in paragraph (4)) for the State; or

(B) for fiscal year 2019 or a subsequent fiscal year of the medical assistance expenditures (as defined in paragraph (2)) for the State and fiscal year that is attributable to 1903A enrollees, reduced by the amount of all excluded expenditures (as defined in paragraph (3)) for the State and fiscal year otherwise included in such medical assistance expenditures and includes non-DSH supplemental payments (as defined in subsection (d)(4)(A)(i)) and payments described in subsection (d)(4)(A)(iii) but shall not be construed as including any expenditures attributable to the program under section 2918 (relating to State pediatric vaccine distribution programs). In applying subparagraph (B), non-DSH supplemental payments (as defined in subsection (d)(4)(A)(i)) and payments described in subsection (d)(4)(A)(iii) shall be treated as fully attributable to 1903A enrollees.

(2) Medical Assistance Expenditures.—In this section, the term ‘medical assistance expenditures’ means, for a State and fiscal year or portion of a fiscal year—

(a) the products, for each of the 1903A enrollee categories described in subparagraphs (A) and (E) of subsection (e)(2), of—

(i) the amount of State expenditures for medical assistance in the State for each of the 1903A enrollee categories over a calendar quarter; and

(ii) the applicable annual inflation factor (as defined in paragraph (3)) for fiscal year 2020; and

(b) for each succeeding fiscal year, an amount equal to—

(i) the target per capita medical assistance expenditures (as defined in paragraph (2)) for the enrollee category, State, and fiscal year; and

(ii) the applicable annual inflation factor for that succeeding fiscal year.

(3) Applicable Annual Inflation Factor.—In paragraph (2), the term ‘applicable annual inflation factor’ means, for each of the 1903A enrollee categories described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of subsection (e)(2), the percentage increase in the consumer price index for all urban consumers (U.S. city average) from September of the previous fiscal year to September of the fiscal year involved; and

(4) Decrease in Target Expenditures for Required Expenditures by Certain Political Subdivisions.—

(A) In general.—In the case of a State that had a DSH allotment under section 1923(f) for fiscal year 2016 that was more than 6 times the national average of such allotments for all the States and that requires political subdivisions within the State to contribute funds towards medical assistance or other expenditures under the State plan under this title (or under a waiver of such plan) for a fiscal year (beginning with fiscal year 2020), the target total medical assistance expenditures for such State and fiscal year shall be decreased by the amount that political subdivisions in the State are required to contribute under the plan (or waiver) without reimbursement from the State for such fiscal year, other than contributions described in subparagraph (B).

(B) Exceptions.—The contributions described in this subparagraph are the following:

(i) Contributions required by a State from a political subdivision that, as of the first day of the calendar year in which the fiscal year involved begins—

(1) has a population of more than 5,000,000, as estimated by the Bureau of the Census; and

(2) imposes a local income tax upon its residents.
“(ii) Contributions required by a State from a political subdivision for administrative expenses if the State required such contributions from such subdivision without reimbursement from the State as of January 1, 2017.

“(5) ADJUSTMENTS TO STATE EXPENDITURES TO PROMOTE PROGRAM EQUITY ACROSS STATES.

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Beginning with fiscal year 2020, the target per capita medical assistance expenditures for a 1903A enrollee category, fiscal year, as determined under paragraph (2), shall be adjusted (subject to subparagraph (C)(ii)) in accordance with this paragraph.

“(B) ANNUAL ADJUSTMENT TO LEVEL OF PER CAPITA SPENDING FOR 1903A ENROLLEE CATEGORIES.—Subject to subparagraph (C), with respect to a State, fiscal year, and 1903A enrollee category, if the State’s per capita categorical medical assistance expenditures (as defined in subparagraph (D)) for the State and category in the preceding fiscal year—

“(i) exceed the mean per capita categorical medical assistance expenditures for the category for all States for such preceding year by not less than 25 percent, the State’s target per capita medical assistance expenditures for the fiscal year involved shall be reduced by a percentage that shall be determined by the Secretary which shall not be less than 0.5 percent or greater than 3 percent; or

“(ii) are less than the mean per capita categorical medical assistance expenditures for the category for all States for such preceding year by not less than 25 percent, the State’s target per capita medical assistance expenditures for such category for the fiscal year involved shall be increased by a percentage that shall be determined by the Secretary but which shall not be less than 0.5 percent or greater than 3 percent.

“(C) RULES OF APPLICATION.—In determining the appropriate percentages by which to adjust States’ target per capita medical assistance expenditures for a category and fiscal year under this paragraph, the Secretary shall make such adjustments in a manner that does not result in a net increase in payments under title XIX for such fiscal year, and if the Secretary cannot adjust such expenditures in such a manner there shall be no adjustment under this paragraph for such fiscal year.

“(III) ADJUSTMENT TO LOW-DENSITY STATES.—This paragraph shall not apply to any State that has a population density of less than 15 individuals per square mile, based on the most recent data available from the Bureau of the Census.

“(IV) DISHARGE OF ADJUSTMENT.—Any adjustment under this paragraph to target medical assistance expenditures for a 1903A enrollee category, fiscal year shall be disregarded when determining the target medical assistance expenditures for such State for the fiscal year for a succeeding year under paragraph (2).

“(V) APPLICATION FOR FISCAL YEARS 2020 AND 2021.—In fiscal years 2020 and 2021, the Secretary shall make such adjustments to target medical assistance expenditures for a 1903A enrollee category to be a single category.

“(D) PER CAPITA CATEGORICAL MEDICAL ASSISTANCE EXPENDITURES.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—In this paragraph, the term ‘per capita categorical medical assistance expenditures’ means, with respect to a State, 1903A enrollee category, and fiscal year, an amount equal to—

“(I) the categorical medical expenditures (as defined in subsection (b)(1)) for the State, category, and year; divided by “(II) the number of 1903A enrollees for the State, category, and year.

“(ii) CATEGORY FOR ALL STATES FOR SUCH PRECEDING YEAR.—The term ‘category for all States for such preceding year’ includes the regulations specifying upper payment limits under the State plan in part 447 of title 42, Code of Federal Regulations (or any successor regulations).

“(iii) AN EXPENDITURE DESCRIBED IN THIS CLAUSE IS AN EXPENDITURE THAT MEETS THE CRITERIA SPECIFIED IN SUBCLAUSES (I), (II), AND (III) OF CLAUSE (II) AND IS AUTHORIZED UNDER SECTION 1115 FOR THE PURPOSES OF FUNDING A DELIVERY SYSTEM REFORM POLICY, UNCOMPENSATED CARE POLICY, A DESIGNATED STATE HEALTH PROGRAM, OR ANY OTHER SIMILAR EXPENDITURE (AS DEFINED BY THE SECRETARY).

“(B) FOR EACH 1903A ENROLLEE CATEGORY, THE NUMBER OF 1903A ENROLLEES FOR THE STATE IN FISCAL YEAR 2019 IN EACH 1903A ENROLLEE CATEGORY (AS DETERMINED UNDER SUBSECTION (E)(4)).

“(C) FOR THE STATE’S PER CAPITA BASE PERIOD, THE STATE’S NON-DSH SUPPLEMENTAL AND POOL PAYMENT PERCENTAGE IS THE RATIO (EXPRESSED AS A PERCENTAGE) OF—

“(i) THE TOTAL AMOUNT OF NON-DSH SUPPLEMENTAL AND POOL PAYMENTS DESCRIBED IN SUBPARAGRAPH (A)(II) AND ADJUSTED UNDER SUBPARAGRAPH (E) AND PAYMENTS DESCRIBED IN SUBPARAGRAPH (A)(II) AND ADJUSTED UNDER SUBPARAGRAPH (E) FOR THE STATE FOR THE PERIOD TO

“(ii) THE NUMBER CALCULATED UNDER SUBPARAGRAPH (B).

“(2) FISCAL YEAR 2019 AVERAGE PER CAPITA AMOUNT BASED ON INFLATING THE PER CAPITA BASH PERIOD AMOUNT TO FISCAL YEAR 2019 BY CPI-MEDICAL.—The Secretary shall calculate a fiscal year 2019 average per capita amount for each 1903A enrollee category as follows:

“(A) the average per capita medical assistance expenditures for the State for the State’s per capita base period equal to—

“(i) the amount calculated under subparagraph (A); and

“(ii) the number calculated under subparagraph (B).

“(B) THE NUMBER OF 1903A ENROLLEES FOR THE STATE IN THE STATE’S PER CAPITA BASE PERIOD (AS DETERMINED UNDER SUBSECTION (E)(4)).

“(3) AGGREGATE AND AVERAGE EXPENDITURES PER CAPITA FOR FISCAL YEAR 2019.—The Secretary shall calculate for each State the following:

“(A) THE AMOUNT OF THE ADJUSTED TOTAL MEDICAL ASSISTANCE EXPENDITURES (AS DEFINED IN SUBPARAGRAPH (A)(II)) FOR THE STATE FOR FISCAL YEAR 2019.

“(5) PROVISIONAL FY19 PER CAPITA TARGET AMOUNT FOR EACH 1903A ENROLLEE CATEGORY.—

“(A) THE PRODUCT OF—

“(i) THE FISCAL YEAR 2019 AVERAGE PER CAPITA AMOUNT FOR THE STATE, AS CALCULATED UNDER PARAGRAPH (2); AND

“(ii) THE NUMBER OF 1903A ENROLLEES FOR THE STATE IN FISCAL YEAR 2019, AS CALCULATED UNDER SUBPARAGRAPH (B); TO

(e) 1903A enrollee; 1903A enrollee category.—Subject to subsection (g), for purposes of this section, the following shall apply:

(1) 1903A enrollee.—The term ‘1903A enrollee’ means, with respect to a State and a month and subject to subsection (i)(1)(B), any Medicaid enrollee (as defined in paragraphs (i)(1)(A)(i), (i)(1)(B), or (i)(1)(C)) who is eligible for medical assistance under this title only on the basis of section 1902(a)(10)(A)(i)(XVIII).

(2) Partial-benefit enrollees.—An individual who is eligible for medical assistance under this title only on the basis of section 1902(a)(10)(A)(i)(XVIII) or (f)(3)); or

(3) 1903A enrollee category.—The term ‘1903A enrollee category’ means each of the following:

(A) Elderly.—A category of 1903A enrollees who are 65 years of age or older.

(B) Blind and disabled children.—An individual who receives any medical assistance under this title only on the basis of section 1905(p)(3); or

(C) Blind and disabled children.—An individual who is eligible for medical assistance under this title only on the basis of section 1905(p)(3); or

(D) Partial-benefit enrollees.—An individual who is eligible for medical assistance under this title only on the basis of section 1905(p)(3); or

(E) 1903A enrollee category.—The term ‘1903A enrollee category’ means each of the following:

(i) is a child under 19 years of age; and

(ii) is eligible for medical assistance under this title on the basis of section 1902(a)(10)(A)(i)(XVIII).

(ii) is eligible for medical assistance under this title only on the basis of section 1902(a)(10)(A)(i)(XVIII) or the waiver that provides only comparable benefits.

(A) CHIP.—An individual who is provided, pursuant to a waiver, by the employer for coverage of the individual under a plan described in subsection (e)(2)(D) of this title or under a waiver that provides only comparable benefits.

(E) Other nonelderly, nondisabled, non-expansion adults.—A category of 1903A enrollees who are not described in any previous subparagraph.

(F) Medicaid enrollee.—The term ‘Medicaid enrollee’ means, with respect to a State for a month, an individual who is eligible for medical assistance for items or services under this title and enrolled under the State plan (or a waiver of such plan) under this title for the month.

(G) Determination of number of 1903A enrollees.—The number of 1903A enrollees for a State and fiscal year or the State’s per capita base period, and, if applicable, for a 1903A enrollee category, is the average monthly number of Medicaid enrollees for such month or period for such enrollee (and, if applicable, in such category) that are reported through the CMS–64 report under (and subject to audit under) subsection (h).

(1) Application in case of research and demonstration projects and other waivers.—In the case of a State with a waiver of the State plan under section 1115, section 1915, or another provision of this title, this section shall apply to medical assistance and medical assistance expenditures calculated under subsection (d) in a manner as if such expenditures and payments had been made under a State plan under this title and the limitations on expenditures under this section shall supersede any other payment limitations or provisions (including limitations based on a per capita limitation) otherwise applicable under such a waiver.

(2) Treatment of States expanding coverage after July 1, 2016.—In the case of a State that did not provide for medical assistance for the categories described in subsection (e)(2)(D) of this title, and which subsequently provides for medical assistance for such categories, such provisions shall be equal to the per capita base period amount for the 1903A enrollee category described in subsection (e)(2)(E).

(G) Recalculation of certain amounts.—

(1) Reconciliation of certain amounts for data errors.—The amounts and percentage calculated under paragraphs (1) and (4)(C) of subsection (d) for a State for the State’s per capita base period, and the amounts of the adjusted total medical assistance expenditures calculated under subsection (b) and the number of Medicaid enrollees and 1903A enrollees determined under subsection (e)(4) for a State for the State’s per capita base period, fiscal year 2019, or any subsequent fiscal year, may be adjusted by the Secretary based upon an appeal filed by the State in such a form, manner, and time, and containing such information relating to data errors as the Secretary may determine (as determined by the Secretary) that the Secretary determines to be valid, except that any adjustment by the Secretary under this subsection for a State shall not result in an increase of the target total medical assistance expenditures exceeding 2 percent.

(H) Reporting on children with complex medical conditions.—

(1) Reporting of CMS–64 data.—

(A) In general.—In addition to the data required on form Group VIII on the CMS–64 report form as of January 1, 2017, in each CMS–64 report for each State submitted for each quarter beginning on or after October 1, 2018, the State shall include data on medical assistance expenditures within such categories of services and categories of enrollees (including each 1903A enrollee category and each category of excluded individuals) for the first 3 years of the quarter for which the State submits data with respect to medical assistance expenditures for qualified inpatient psychiatric hospital services (as defined in section 1905(h)(3)).

(B) Reporting on qualified inpatient psychiatric hospital services.—Not later than January 1, 2020, the Secretary shall modify the CMS–64 report form to require that States submit data with respect to medical assistance expenditures for qualified inpatient psychiatric hospital services (as defined in section 1905(h)(3)).

"(B) the Federal medical assistance percentage applied under section 1903(a)(3)(B) shall be increased by 10 percentage points to 60 percent but only with respect to amounts expended that are attributable to a State’s additional administrative expenditures to implement the determinations necessary under this section.

"(C) the Federal medical assistance percentage applied under section 1903(a)(7) shall be increased by 10 percentage points to 60 percent but only with respect to amounts expended that are attributable to a State’s additional administrative expenditures to implement the determinations necessary under this section.

"(5) HHS REPORT ON ADOPTION OF T-MSSIS DATA.—Not later than January 1, 2025, the Secretary may conduct a demonstration project on a competitive basis except that the aggregate amount of HCBS payment adjustments made by the State in the year exceeds the amount allotted to the State for the year under subparagraph (A)(i).

"(6) REPORTING AND EVALUATION.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—As a condition of receiving the increased Federal medical assistance percentage described in paragraph (4)(B), the Secretary shall collect and report information, as determined necessary by the Secretary, for purposes of providing Federal oversight of the States’ compliance with the health and welfare and financial accountability safeguards taken by the State under subsection (A)(i).

"(B) FORM AND EXPENDITURE.—Eligible States on HCSB payment adjustments shall separately reported on the CMS-64 Form and in T-MSSIS.

"(7) DEFINITIONS.—In this subsection:

"(A) APPLICATION.—A State seeking to participate in the demonstration project shall submit to the Secretary, at such time and in such manner as the Secretary shall require, an application that includes—

"(i) a detailed description of any HCBS payment adjustment made by the State under this subsection that will comply with the health and welfare and financial accountability safeguards taken by the State under subsection (A)(i); and

"(ii) such other information and assurances as the Secretary shall require.

"(B) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall select States to participate in the demonstration project on a competitive basis except that, in making selections under this paragraph, the Secretary shall give priority to States that meet the requirements of this section. The demonstration project shall be conducted for the 4-year period beginning on January 1, 2020, and ending on December 31, 2023.

"(4) STATE ALLOTMENTS AND INCREASED FMAP FOR PAYMENT ADJUSTMENTS.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—Subject to clause (ii), for each year of the demonstration project, the Secretary shall allot an amount to each State that is an eligible State for the year.

"(ii) LIMITATION ON FEDERAL SPENDING.—The aggregate amount that may be allotted to eligible States under clause (i) for all years of the demonstration project shall not exceed $8,000,000,000, and in no case may the aggregate amount of payments made by the Secretary to eligible States for payment adjustments under this subsection exceed such amount.

"(5) PAYMENTS TO ELIGIBLE STATES AND LIMITATIONS ON PAYMENTS.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—Subject to clauses (ii) and (iii), for each year of the demonstration project, notwithstanding section 1905(b), the Federal medical assistance percentage applicable with respect to expenditures by an eligible State that are attributable to HCBS payment adjustments applied under section 1903(a) shall be increased by 100 percent.

"(B) LIMITATION ON HCBS PAYMENT ADJUSTMENTS FOR INDIVIDUAL PROVIDERS.—Payment adjustments under subsection (a) shall not be made to an eligible State for expenditures for a year that are attributable to an HCBS payment adjustment that is paid to a single provider and which the aggregate amount which shall be established by the Secretary of the payment otherwise made to the provider.

"(C) ANNUAL ALLOTMENT.—Payment under section 1903(a) shall not be made to an eligible State for expenditures for a year that are attributable to an HCBS payment adjustment to the extent that the aggregate amount of HCBS payment adjustments made by the State in the year exceeds the amount allotted to the State for the year under subparagraph (A)(i).

"(D) REPORTING AND EVALUATION.—

"(1) ANNUAL REPORT.—Subject to section 1905(b), the Secretary shall provide such rules and regulations as required to carry out the requirements of this section.

"(2) CONTENTS OF APPLICATION.—An application under this subsection shall include the following:

"(A) A description of the proposed Medicaid Flexibility Program and how the State will satisfy the requirements described in subsection (d).

(iii) UNCOMPENSATED TARGETED HEALTH ASSISTANCE.—In the case of a State conducting a Medicaid Flexibility Program, the term ‘uncompensated targeted health assistance’ means—

(iv) DETERMINATION AND PUBLICATION OF BLOCK GRANT AMOUNT.—Beginning in 2019 and each year thereafter, the Secretary shall determine for each State, regardless of whether the State is conducting a Medicaid Flexibility Program or has submitted an application to conduct such a program, the amount of the block grant for the State under paragraph (2) which would apply for the upcoming fiscal year if the State were to conduct such a program under this section, and shall publish such determinations not later than June 1 of each year.

(d) PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS.—
(1) IN GENERAL.—No payment shall be made under this section to a State conducting a Medicaid Flexibility Program unless such program meets the requirements of this subsection.

(2) TERM OF PROGRAM.—
(A) IN GENERAL.—A State Medicaid Flexibility Program approved under subsection (b)
(i) shall be conducted for not less than 1 program period;

(ii) but the option of the State, may be continued for succeeding program periods without resubmitting an application under subsection (b), provided that—

(1) this subsection provides to the Secretary of its decision to continue the program; and

(2) no significant changes are made to the program; and

(iii) shall be subject to termination only by the State, which may terminate the program by making an election under subpara-graph (B).

(B) ELECTION TO TERMINATE PROGRAM.—
(i) IN GENERAL.—Subject to clause (ii), a State conducting a Medicaid Flexibility Program may elect to terminate the program effective with the first day after the end of the program period in which the State makes the election.

(ii) TRANSITION PLAN REQUIREMENT.—A State may not elect to terminate a Medicaid Flexibility Program unless the State has in place an appropriate transition plan approved by the Secretary.

(iii) EFFECT OF TERMINATION.—If a State elects to terminate a Medicaid Flexibility Program, the per capita cap limitations under section 1903A shall apply effective with the date described in clause (i), and such limitations shall be applied as if the State had never conducted a Medicaid Flexibility Program.

(3) PROVISION OF TARGETED HEALTH ASSIST-ANCE.—(A) IN GENERAL.—A State Medicaid Flexibility Program shall provide targeted health assistance to program enrollees and such assistance shall be instead of medical assistance which would otherwise be provided to the enrollees under this title.

(B) CONDITIONS FOR ELIGIBILITY.—
(A) IN GENERAL.—A State conducting a Medicaid Flexibility Program shall establish conditions for eligibility of program enrollees, which shall be of a kind and nature under this title, except that the program must provide for eligibility for program enrollees to whom the State would otherwise be required to make medical assistance available under section 1902(a)(10)(A)(1).

(B) MAGI.—Any determination of income necessary to establish the eligibility of a program enrollee, pursuant to clause (A) of this section, shall be subject to a rebate agreement that complies with the requirements of section 1927, and any requirements applicable to medical assistance for covered outpatient drugs under a State plan (including the requirement that the State determine the amount, duration, and scope bility Program shall include mental health and substance use disorder services and the financial requirements and treatment limitations applicable to such services under the program shall comply with the requirements of the Public Health Service Act in the same manner as such requirements apply to a group health plan.

(D) PRESCRIPTION DRUGS.—If the targeted health assistance provided by a State to program enrollees under a Medicaid Flexibility Program includes assistance for covered outpatient drugs, such drugs shall be subject to a rebate agreement that complies with the requirements of section 1927, and any requirements applicable to medical assistance for covered outpatient drugs under a State plan (including the requirement that the State provide information to a manufacturer) shall apply in the same manner to targeted health assistance provided under this section.

(E) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this section:

(i) APPLICABLE PROGRAM ENROLLEE CAT-EGORY.—The term ‘applicable program enrollee category’ means, with respect to a State Medicaid Flexibility Program for a program period, any of the following as specified by the State for the period in its application under subsection (b):

(A) 2 ENROLLEE CATEGORIES.—Both of the State Medicaid enrollee categories described in subparagraphs (D) and (E) of section 1903A(e)(2).

In awarding grants under this section, the Secretary may give preference to States with a higher prevalence of substance abusers that is substantial relative to other States or to States that identify mental health needs within their communities that are urgent relative to such needs of other States in order to achieve the most substantial public health benefit.
(b) USE OF FUNDS.—Grants awarded to a State under subsection (a) shall be used for one or more of the following public health-related activities:
(1) Improving State prescription drug monitoring programs.
(2) Implementing prevention activities, and evaluating such activities to identify effective strategies to prevent substance abuse.
(3) Training for health care practitioners, such as best practices for prescribing opioids, pain management, recognizing potential cases of substance abuse, referral of patients to treatment programs, and overdose prevention.
(4) Supporting access to health care services provided by Federally certified opioid treatment programs or other appropriate health care providers to treat substance use disorders and mental health needs.
(5) Other public health-related activities, as the State determines appropriate, related to addressing the substance abuse public health crisis or responding to urgent mental health needs within the State.
SEC. 103. COMMUNITY HEALTH CENTER PROVISIONS.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — SENATE

July 25, 2017

plan years 2018 and 2019 may be made through December 31, 2020.

SEC. 205. REPEAL OF COST-SHARING SUBSIDY PROGRAM.

(a) In general.—Section 1402 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (42 U.S.C. 18071) is repealed.

(b) Effective date.—The repeal made by subsection (a) shall apply to cost-sharing reductions (and payments to issuers for such reductions) for plan years beginning after December 31, 2019.

At the appropriate place, insert the following:

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Before the passage of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (Public Law 114–148) in 2010, Americans with pre-existing conditions faced unfair barriers to accessing health insurance coverage and health care costs had risen rapidly for decades.

(2) Since 2010, the rate of uninsured Americans has declined to a historic low, with more than 20,000,000 Americans gaining access to health insurance coverage.

(3) Since 2010, America has experienced the slowest growth in the price of health care in over five decades.

(4) Thanks to the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (Public Law 114–148), millions can no longer be denied insurance or charged more on the basis of their health status, more Americans than ever have insurance, and the health care they receive is continually improving.

(5) Starting in 2016, independent, non-partisan organizations, including the Congressional Budget Office, have determined that the individual health insurance markets have stabilized and improved.

(6) The cost-sharing reduction payments in the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act provide stability in the individual health insurance market, lower insurance premiums by nearly 20 percent, and encourage competition among health insurers.

(7) Risk mitigation programs, such as the reinsurance program for the Medicare Part D prescription drug benefit program, have provided additional stability in the health insurance markets, restrained premium growth, and lowered taxpayer costs by helping health insurers predict and bear risk associated with managing health care costs for a population.

(8) From 2014 to 2016, the temporary reinsurance program established under the Affordable Care Act helped stabilize the new insurance marketplaces and reduced insurance premiums in the individual health insurance market by as much as 10 percent.

(a) In General.—Section 1302(e) of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (42 U.S.C. 18022(e)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

(9) Throughout his Presidential campaign, the President of the United States repeatedly promised the American people that his health care plan will result in reduced rates of the uninsured, lower costs, and the health care they receive is continually improving.

(b) Risk Pools.—Section 1312(c) of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (42 U.S.C. 18023(c)) is amended by adding paragraphs (1)(A) and (1)(B) to read:

In paragraph (1)(A) shall not apply with respect to any plan offered in the State.

(c) Market Stability.—Section 1302 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (42 U.S.C. 18032) through December 31, 2019.

(d) Consumer Assistance.—Section 1302(b)(2) of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (42 U.S.C. 18031(b)(2)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

(e) Repeal.—Section 1302(c)(3) of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (42 U.S.C. 18032(c)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

(9) Throughout his Presidential campaign, the President of the United States repeatedly promised the American people that his health care plan will result in reduced rates of the uninsured, lower costs, and the health care they receive is continually improving.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

This Act may be cited as the ‘‘Individual Health Insurance Marketplace Improvement Act’’.
gonna have a much better health care plan at much less money”.

(10) The goal of any health care legislation should be to build on the Affordable Care Act to continue to improve access to and make health care more affordable for Americans. Improving affordability and expanding coverage will also broaden the individual market for health insurance, thus increasing the premiums and strengthening market stability.

SEC. 3. SENSE OF THE SENATE.

It is the sense of the Senate that, with the reinsurance program under section 4 bringing about the stability to the individual marketplace for the 2018 plan year, the Senate should work in a bipartisan manner to find solutions to improve the health care system.

SEC. 4. INDIVIDUAL MARKET REINSURANCE.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT OF FUND.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—There is established the “Individual Market Reinsurance Fund” to be administered by the Secretary to provide funding for an individual market stabilization reinsurance program in each State that complies with the requirements of this section.

(2) FUNDING.—There is appropriated to the Fund, out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, such sums as are necessary to carry out this section (other than subsection (c)) for each calendar year beginning after the 2018 plan year.

(b) A MOUNT OF PAYMENT.—The payment made to a health insurance issuer under subsection (a) with respect to each high-cost individual is equal to the lesser of—

(1) the amount (if any) by which the individual’s claims incurred during the plan year exceeds—

(A) the amount (if any) by which the individual’s claims incurred during the plan year exceed $100,000; or

(B) the Secretary determines.

(2) the Secretary determines. The Secretary shall make reinsurance payments to health insurance issuers with respect to high-cost individuals enrolled in qualified health plans offered by such issuers that are not grandfathered health plans or transitional health plans for any plan year beginning with the 2018 plan year.

(c) NO DUTY TO PAY.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Payments under this subsection to a health insurance issuer are conditioned upon the furnishing to the Secretary, in a form and manner specified by the Secretary, of such information as may be required to carry out this subsection.

(B) RESTRICTION ON USE OF INFORMATION.—Information disclosed or obtained pursuant to clause (1) is subject to the HIPAA privacy and security law, as defined in section 209(a) of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 300j-9(a)).

(d) REIMBURSEMENT.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall submit a report to Congress, not later than January 21, 2019, and each year thereafter, that contains the following information for the most recently ended year:

(1) The number and types of plans in each State’s individual market, specifying the number that are qualified health plans, grandfathered health plans, or transitional health plans.

(2) The amount of such funds awarded and the activities carried out with such funds.

(e) REPORTS TO CONGRESS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall submit to Congress a report that—

(i) analyzes the impact of the funds provided under this section on premiums and enrollment in the individual market in all States; and

(ii) contains a comparison of the design of the programs carried out by States with funds provided under this section.

(f) DEFINITIONS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—In this section—

(i) the term “Secretary” means the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services.

(ii) the term “Fund” means the Individual Market Reinsurance Fund established under subsection (a).

(B) GRANDFATHERED HEALTH PLAN.—The term “grandfathered health plan” has the meaning given that term in section 1301 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

(C) TRANSITIONAL HEALTH PLAN.—The term “transitional health plan” means a plan that—

(i) is grandfathered health plan;

(ii) is a qualified health plan; or

(iii) is not a qualified health plan.

(D) QUALIFIED HEALTH PLAN.—The term “qualified health plan” means a plan that—

(i) is a grandfathered health plan or a transitional health plan;

(ii) is a plan approved under section 1302(c)(4) of the Affordable Care Act, but determined by the Secretary to be not a qualified health plan;

(iii) meets the requirements of section 1302 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act; and

(iv) is included in the list of qualified health plans maintained by the Secretary; and

(v) is not a plan approved under section 1302(c)(4) of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

(E) SUCH OTHER INFORMATION AS THE SECRETARY DEEMS RELEVANT.—Such other information as the Secretary deems relevant.

(Sec. 4. Individual Market Reinsurance Fund.)
